[illegible]ATIONAL BAR BODY DROPS JUDGE HARDY OFF ROLLS

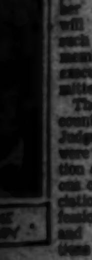
[illegible]mittee in Unprecedented Move Says Jurist Broke Professional and Judicial Ethics Canons

MIAMI (Fla.) Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—Carlos S. Hardy, judge of the Superior Court of Los Angeles, lost his membership in the American Bar Association at today's session of the executive committee at Miami Beach.

The forfeiture was for "violations of the judicial and professional canons" of the bar association.

The executive committeemen said it is ethically improper for them to discuss the facts leading to their action and when pressed for statements pointed out that the facts should be available from Los Angeles.

The charges are believed to be based on the acceptance by Judge Hardy of a check for $2500 from Aimee Semple McPherson, [illegible].



JUDGE HARDY

The forfeiture of his membership [illegible] first time the association has taken such action where the State association of which the lawyer is a member cannot or will not take such action, a member of the executive committee said.

The specific counts against Judge Hardy were one violation of the canon of the association on professional ethics and for violations of two [illegible] canons.

The professional ethics canon [illegible] that all members of the bar [illegible] at all times to uphold [illegible] and maintain the dignity [illegible] profession. DRY INQUIRY PROMISED

Hoover to Name Commission

Scope of Enforcement Study to be Almost Unlimited Senate Chiefs Hear

Naval Affairs, Cabinet and Other Topics Discussed by President-elect

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—A far-reaching investigation of all phases of prohibition is planned by President-elect Hoover early in his administration. His views were outlined today to prominent leaders in the almost continuous wet and dry controversies in the Senate who were told that he proposes to appoint a nonpartisan commission to conduct an inquiry and make such recommendations as it might deem advisable.

The scope of the investigation will be almost unlimited, with the commission carefully studying the Volstead Act itself to determine whether the difficulties in enforcement are inherent in that law.

News of this intention of the President-elect constituted the principal development in the ninth day of his conferences here with party leaders, although many other subjects besides prohibition came under discussion.

BAY BRIDGE DISCUSSED

Naval affairs formed the topic of a rather extended conversation Mr. Hoover had with Chairman Britten of the House Naval Committee. With other callers he took up the political situation in New York; the restriction of legislation at the special session of the new Congress to farm relief and tariff revision; Cabinet and other appointments; the San Francisco Bay bridge; Indian affairs, and some details of farm problems.

Representative Britten said that while the President-elect expressed

JOY SOARS WITH BYRD

First Antarctic Flight Made

Newly Set Up Plane Sails Perfectly Over Miles of Icy Waste

Fears During Anxious Night of Snowstorm Melt Away and Flyers Happy

BY RUSSELL OWEN

BAY OF WHALES (Antarctica) Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—There are a lot of happy aviators down here tonight thousands of miles from home and on the edge of a continent where an airplane never before has flown.

The Stars and Stripes, Commander Byrd's first plane ashore, made seven successful short trips today and was in the air nearly three and one-half hours; and what that means to men who have spent years in the cockpit of a plane and have not flown in nearly four months can only be imagined.

Commander Byrd made his flight of an hour and twenty minutes over unknown country to the west and south and explored a deep inlet in the barrier which hitherto was unknown. Altogether, he explored 1200 square miles of territory which would have taken weeks by the old methods.

The plane functioned perfectly, the ski and landing gear stood up under rough treatment and tonight the plane is safely and snugly put away at the base of the barrier, where there is no danger of its being carried out by the ice.

DAY OF ACHIEVEMENT

It has been a day of achievement, of carefully planned work carried out faultlessly.

"Boys," said Capt. Alton Parker when he came down from the first test, "I feel the way I did when I made my first solo. I could look down there and see the snow dropping away and it sure felt good."

The day was the more nearly perfect because it came after a night of worry. The plane was no sooner ready for flight last night than a heavy snowstorm came up and ended all thoughts of activity for the moment.

There are more indications every day that the bay ice is to go out and if it had broken up before the plane was moved there might have been all sorts of trouble.

The visibility became poor, the high cliffs of the barrier faded away and the plane and the ship were left in a small circle of dim half-light. Fortunately there was no wind, otherwise anything might have happened.

It might have been possible for a pilot to have taken off and landed somewhere on the barrier if the ice broke, yet it would have been a desperate venture, and men watched the sky silently and with apprehension for hours.

GETTING HER WARMED UP

But this morning the snow clouds passed; the sun shone with a clean brilliance only attained in this pure air until every white cliff-like outline of the bay stood out sharply. It was a perfect day—a day made for flying.

The motor was heated by a torch placed under a fireproofed covering and Bernt Balchen climbed into the pilot's seat, while Dean Smith and then Bennard Budier turned over the inert starter.

With everything clear, Bernt snapped on the ignition and the big motor sparked and settled down to a smooth and even roar.

A smile of satisfaction came over Balchen's face. He looked out at the others grouped around in the snow and grinned.

She was hitting on every cylinder and all was well in the world. Balchen nursed the motor for some time and till it was well warmed. When all was ready Balchen turned the controls over to Parker, who had been as eager as a kid to get the ship into the air.

A few icicles had gathered on the wide slot of the freis-balanced ailerons, a suggestion of what may menace flying in this country of

Will Rogers Remarks:

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The favorite sport now of all newspapers and politicians is picking Mr. Hoover's Cabinet out for him. Anybody that has ever indorsed a cigarette has been named to be on it. I don't care how many of these "write-up" Cabinets you have been picked on. The only one that is going to draw any salary is the one Mr. Hoover picks himself. He is going to fool you when he picks his "all-American." He is going to have so many business men on there that he will make politicians wish they had taken up some other life.

WILL ROGERS.

CRIME CURES SUGGESTED

Commission in Report to Governor Urges Prison for First Offenders and Job Stabilization

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16. (AP)—The California Crime Commission's report, based on an exhaustive two-year study of crime problems in the State, was submitted to Gov. Young today. It included among its various recommendations establishment of an intermediate prison for youthful first offenders, stabilization of employment and Statewide control of motor vehicle traffic officers.

The commission recommended enactment of a bill providing for construction of a prison for first offenders between the ages of 18 and 24 years as a "sensible segregation with greater possibilities of effecting reformation on many young men."

UNEMPLOYMENT BLAMED

There is a need for enactment of legislation that will regulate and stabilize employment, the commission stated, adding that the continuance of public work during slack seasons would tend to relieve unemployment conditions, consequently reducing crime tendencies.

To carry out this program the commission suggested establishment of free employment bureaus and a system whereby those seeking employment could obtain assistance in the purchase of tools, arrangement for board and lodging and for transportation.

Other recommendations made were:

OTHER SUGGESTIONS

Complete control of all traffic officers by the Division of Motor Vehicles under a centralized arrangement that would eliminate divided authority.

Installation of a State-wide teletype system, centrally controlled at Sacramento, for the purpose of sending out information quickly about criminals sought.

Standardization of probation methods and legislation making it the duty of a judge to refer all cases in which parole is sought to the probation officers.

Legislation empowering the Department of Social Welfare to inspect and condemn county jails.

FOCH GAINS SLIGHTLY IN LIFE FIGHT

Friends Take Heart Again as Doctors Indicate Trend Toward His Recovery

PARIS, Jan. 16. (AP)—A slight improvement in the condition of Marshal Ferdinand Foch was reported by his doctors as they emerged from their early evening consultation over the stricken generalissimo of the Allied army. The fact that they issued no formal communique and that none of the doctors remained overnight with the patient combined to produce some feeling of encouragement among the marshal's friends.

There was open joy and exuberance at the Foch offices in the Invalides Building where Gen. Weygand slapped Maj. L'Hopital on the back and exclaimed:

"That is much better, the great marshal will see it through."

Dr. Davenieres, personal physician for several years to the sick man, said:

"We hope for the best issue. It will be a long, hard pull, but we feel that the marshal will recover."

FLY WING TRAPS STAR HEAT

How Little Pests Aid Science in Solving Mystery of Solar Space Revealed at Hearing

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—Science has found a valuable ally in the despised common house fly. The wings of one of these little pests now furnishes material for the delicate instruments used by Smithsonian Institution scientists to measure the heat of stars many millions of miles away. The new development was revealed when the testimony of Dr. C. G. Abbot, secretary of the institution, before the House Appropriations Committee recently was made public today.

Dr. Abbot, explaining to the committee the necessity of an increased allowance for the institution's astrophysical observatory, described the progress made in studies of the radiation of the sun and of the stars.

"The work of the observatory, of course, embraces other features besides that of the study of the radiation of the sun," declared Dr. Abbot. "During the past summer I was out at Mt. Wilson, in California, and carried on there a study of the radiation of the stars—taking the heat from a star, collecting it with the great 100-inch telescope and measuring the heat in its spectrum.

"This work was done with an instrument composed of the wings of a common house fly. It was so exceedingly delicate that the wings of a single house fly would be sufficient to make half a dozen of those instruments. With such an instrument I was able not only to observe the heat of the star, but the distribution of that heat in the different colors of the spectrum."

Studies and observations of solar radiation carried on by the institution in California, Chile and Southwest Africa indicate, Dr. Abbot declared, that the day of long range weather forecasting is not far distant.

VANDERBILT AFFAIRS NOT SO ROSEATE

'Prior Claims' Take Fund; Stockholders to be Paid Fourteen Cents Some Day

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (Exclusive) Examination of the trust fund set-up created by Cornelius Vanderbilt, erstwhile publisher of tabloid newspapers in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Miami, Fla., is said to reveal a condition which is not as hopeful for the rank and file of Vanderbilt stockholders as the ex-publisher's recent Reno statement would indicate.

According to this report there will be only about 14 cents on the dollar for most of the stockholders after all the secured claims are paid, and even this amount may not be available until after the death of Vanderbilt's parents, when he will receive the bulk of his inheritance.

The trust fund, which approximates $2,000,000, is subject to a long list of "prior claims" in the way of judgments secured by various creditors who supplied material, machinery and the like for young Vanderbilt's several newspaper enterprises. These, it appears, are in the nature of first liens on whatever money becomes available for the payment of Vanderbilt's debts. After them comes a row of guaranteed debts, in which certain preferred obligations appear in the light of second liens, as it were.

Under the interpretation given the situation by those who have examined it, the liquidation of these several secured claims will require most of the amount available after Mr. Vanderbilt realizes his inheritance.

CUTTER DECLARES HE SAW CURRENCY CHANGE HANDS

Getzoff Place Conversations on "Gift" of Smoking Jacket and Watch Also Get to Jury

Point-blank assertion that he saw former Dist.-Atty. Asa Keyes take money from Ben Getzoff, asserted "pay-off" man in the Julian conspiracy bribery cases, was made by a witness for the State yesterday afternoon in Superior Judge Butler's court.

The startling declaration was made by Joseph Sherman, journeyman tailor employed by Getzoff in the latter's tailor shop at 609 South Spring street, the place where the prosecution contends the bribery plot was hatched.

"The second day of February, 1928, I saw Jack Rosenberg (another of the defendants) come in the store and he gave Dave Getzoff (son of Ben Getzoff) a check," testified Sherman. "Mr. Ben Getzoff and Mr. Keyes were sitting in the office in the tailor shop, and Dave Getzoff took the check over to the office, and gave it to his father, Ben Getzoff; and I saw Dave Getzoff take his hat and he walked out and returned in twenty minutes to the store, and went over to the office and he called his father. I saw the money was handed from Dave Getzoff to Ben Getzoff.

STOOD IN STORE

"Where were you standing?" questioned Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart.

"I was standing in the middle of the store."

"Then what happened?"

"Then Ben Getzoff went into the office with the money and I went near to my table and I saw the money was passed to Mr. Keyes."

"By whom?" asked Stewart.

"Mr. Getzoff," answered Sherman.

"Could you tell how much?" again demanded the prosecutor.

"No, I could not."

"What kind of money was it? Paper money?

"Paper money."

Previously, Sherman had testified that he was employed by Getzoff as a cutter and fitter of tailored clothes and that his cutting table was just outside of Getzoff's office in the rear of the shop, the same office where several witnesses have testified they often saw Keyes, Ed and Jack Rosenberg, Charles Reimer and the two Getzoffs, all defendants in the present case, gathering during the time the State asserts the bribing of Keyes was going on.

STICKS TO STORY

Sherman admitted his lack of education, and many of his answers seemed incoherent, but to the major points of his story he stuck with tenacity, nor could defense attorneys break down any outstanding bit of his testimony on cross-examination.

To use his own words, he saw "plenty" while he was employed in the tailor shop and he told it all from the witness stand and stuck to his story. Although the asserted exchange of currency was considered perhaps the most outstanding thing he testified about, that was not all he said he saw.

There was another time, Sherman asserted, when Ed Rosenberg told Dave Getzoff to buy a silk-lined smoking jacket for Keyes, and the cutter told vividly how the then District Attorney came into the shop later, tried on the jacket and found it too small, so that a larger one had to be obtained for him.

Loud conversations also reached the ears of the meek-looking cutter. He remembered one day, he said, that he heard Jacob Berman, who turned State's evidence in the case, argue with Ben Getzoff in the little office.

"$26,000 FOR NOTHING"

Said Berman to Getzoff, testified Sherman:

"It has cost me $26,000 for nothing and I'm just as smart as Keyes."

Ben Getzoff used to argue with Ed Rosenberg, too, the fitter asserted. One time as he was cutting out garments he heard the two in a wordy battle.

"Rosenberg said to Ben Getzoff that if Keyes didn't keep his promise that he would double-cross

GEN. BOOTH DEPOSED

Deemed Unfit by Army Council

Vote of Fifty-five to Eight Carries Motion for His Removal

Many of Organization's High Commissioners Weep Following Poll

SUNBURY-ON-THAMES (Eng.) Jan. 16. (AP)—Gen. Bramwell Booth, commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army, was adjudicated unfit to continue in that office by the high council of the organization here tonight. The vote was 55 to 8.

GEN BRAMWELL BOOTH

One commissioner was absent and not voting because of illness. Gen. Booth needed only sixteen votes, twice the number he received, to defeat the motion. A general can be removed only because of unfitness by a three-quarters majority of the council.

The council had sat fourteen hours today debating the momentous question, with adjournments only for meals. No official reports came from the strictly guarded premises of Sunbury Court, but it was rumored that the argument at times was heated.

Shortly after 11 p.m. it was understood that a vote had been taken. It was midnight, however, before the result was announced.

MANY IN TEARS

Immediately after the ballot was taken members of the council joined fervently in singing "When We Cannot See Our Way Let Us Trust and Still Obey. He Who Bids Us Forward Go Cannot Fail the Way to Show." The scene was an emotional one, all of the women commissioners and many of the men weeping.

An official statement was issued saying: "The result is a complete vindication of the seven commissioners who requested the calling of the high council. Their action was absolutely unprecedented, but under the circumstances with which they were confronted they felt that there was no alternative."

Gen. Booth succeeded his father, Gen. William Booth, the founder of the Salvation Army, on his death in 1912. He had become an officer in 1874 and from 1880 until he was made general he was chief-of-staff.

ORDERED TO REST

He became ill last spring and was ordered to rest, although his condition did not become serious until some months later. The high council of the army had been in nominal existence for twenty-four years, but never had been called.

SMITH APPEALS FOR FUNDS

Radio Plea to Rank and File of Party Urges Aid in Meeting $1,500,000 Campaign Deficit

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (AP)—Alfred E. Smith, recent Democratic Presidential candidate and former Governor of New York, appealed to the rank and file of the Democratic party by radio tonight to help raise the $1,500,000 deficit that stands as an aftermath of "the happy warrior's" defeat. He spoke over a coast-to-coast hook-up of thirty stations under the auspices of the national committee.

Mr. Smith announced that his contribution will be the gift to the Democratic committee of his campaign speeches, for which he said he has had several offers from publishers. A bound copy of the speeches, illustrated with photographs taken on his campaign tours and published by the national committee with no profit for the former Governor, will be sent to each contributor who sends in $2 or more.

In making his appeal for funds, the former Governor seconded recent assertions of Gov. Roosevelt that the Democratic party needs more consistent national publicity between campaigns.

LACK OF INTEREST

"Immediately following every national election," he said, "there is always apparent a general lack of interest in the welfare of our party. It has been the habit of the Democratic party to function only six months in every four years. This is demonstrated by the fact that no attempt was made to liquidate the deficit left from the national campaign of 1924 until the spring of 1928. When the Democratic party finds itself facing a national convention it begins to shop around the country for the place likely to put up the most money toward the liquidation of the deficit.

"More than that, it has been the custom right along to have the party deficit taken care of by a comparatively small group of people, and usually the small group has an interest in some particular candidate. This I hold to be an unwholesome condition for any political party. It tends to place too much power exactly where it should not be—in the hands of the few."

CONTRIBUTIONS URGED

Asserting that he personally "would regret the necessity of asking any small group of people to meet such a deficit," the former Governor observed that "there must be a great many people who can afford to send the national committee $100—a great many could afford $50—a great many more $10, or even $5."

He urged that the Democratic party be a progressive, militant

Tailor Shop Employee Says He Saw Keyes Accept Bundle of Money From Ben Getzoff

SHERMAN DECLARES THAT HE OVERHEARD TALKS

Smoking Jacket Also Accepted by Former Prosecutor, Worker Tells Questioners at Trial

Joe Sherman, one of the three tailors in the Ben Getzoff shop, furnished the high lights of the testimony in the Keyes bribery trial yesterday and with the close of the day's session still was on the witness stand under cross-examination.

Sherman repeated much of Milton Pike's, (the first tailor to testify) story and then went into detail regarding what he declares he saw in the little tailor shop.

He told of seeing Keyes accept the smoking jacket said to have been given him by Ed Rosenberg and also testified he at one time had seen Keyes accept money from Ben Getzoff. The witness was unable to state how much money was in the bundle he says was handed to the former prosecutor.

During the cross-examination, as well as the direct examination, counsel had great difficulty in making Sherman, who speaks broken English, understand the questions, and in many instances his replies failed to answer the questions asked.

Q.: Did you ever hear any conversation between Ben Getzoff and Jack Bennett?

A.: Yes, I have.

CONVERSATION QUERY

Q.: About when did you hear the first conversation between these two parties, Bennett and Ben Getzoff?

A.: It was some time in the middle of April in 1928.

Q.: Now, where did the conversation occur that you say you overheard?

A.: In the office in the tailor shop.

Q.: Where were you when you overheard the conversation?

A.: The chopping table.

Q.: What was said by the parties at that time and place?

Mr. Ben Getzoff and Mr. Keyes was sitting in the office in the tailor shop, and Dave Getzoff took the check over to the office, and his father Ben Getzoff; and I seen Dave Getzoff took his hat and he walked out and returned back in twenty minutes to the store, and went over to the office and he called his father. I seen money was handed from Dave Getzoff to Ben Getzoff.

Q.: Where were you standing?

Q.: What kind of money was it? Paper money?

A.: Paper money.

Q.: Do you recall any incident occurring in the tailor shop with reference to Mr. Ed Rosenberg and a check, sometime about the first week in June, 1928?

Q.: Jack or Ed?

A.: I mean Ed—pardon me; I mean Ed Rosenberg.

Q.: Now, what did he say?

AMOUNT PUT AT $100

A.: He gave me the envelope and said to give it to Ben Getzoff. Then he walked out from the store, and the envelope was not pasted strong enough. I opened the envelope and I looked in it and I saw the check was made to Mr. Ben Getzoff for $100.

Q.: What did you do with it after you looked at it?

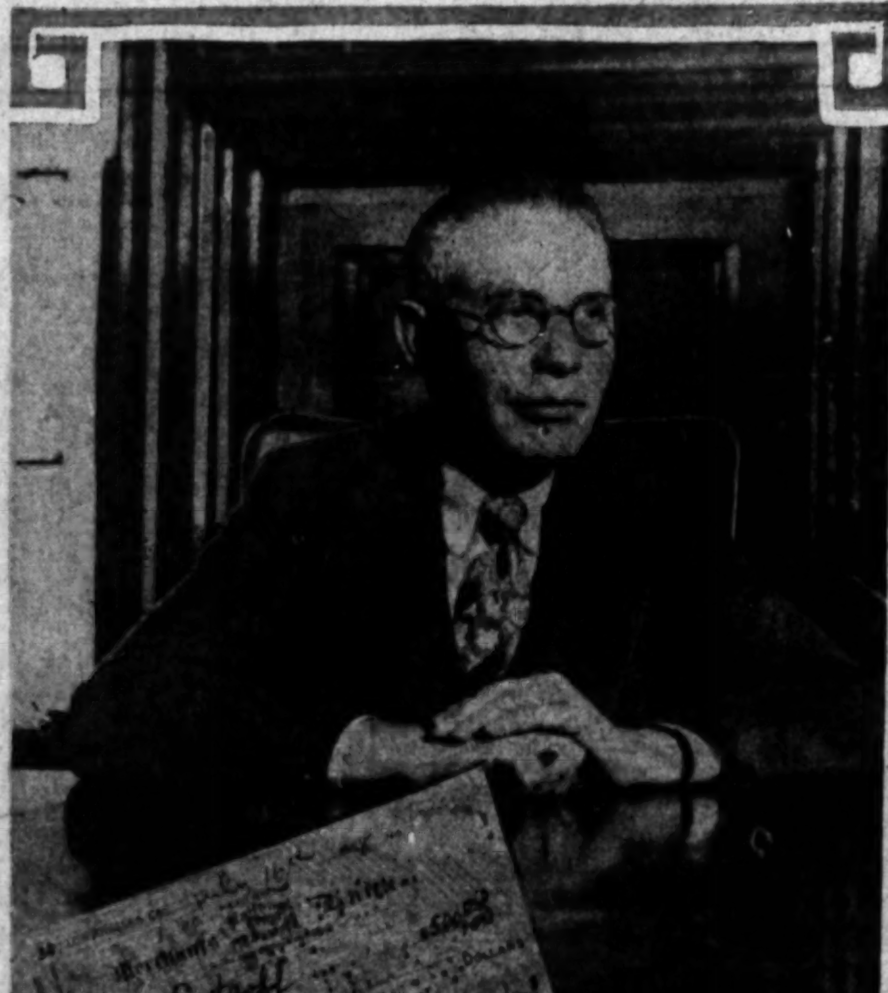
Q.: do you recall a conversation sometime around Decoration Day, that is May 30, in the tailor shop between Getzoff and Jacob Berman?

A.: Ben Getzoff asked Jack Berman for $40,000 more. Jack Berman said, "You got to prove it to me on what." He said, "I will give you a list of everything."

Tailor's Cutter Who Says He Saw "Plenty"



Declares Cash Was Given to Keyes

Above—Joe Sherman, former Getzoff employee, who detailed what he says passed in tailor shop; below, check on left for $500, dated July 16, 1928, which was given to Ben Getzoff, following a telephone conversation with his brother, Jacob Berman in New York, Louis Berman testified yesterday, while the check at right for $173 was paid to B. H. Dyas Company, he said, for a set of golf clubs and bag which were presented to Asa Keyes.

Q.: Who said that?

A.: Ben Getzoff.

Q.: Well, what did Jack Bennett say to that?

A.: Well he expressed very bad to Mr. Ben Getzoff. There are too many ladies in here to say that.

Q.: You mean he indulged in profane language?

A.: Yes, sir, something in rough English.

Q.: Do not use the profanity, but the rest of the conversation, the reply of Jack Bennett, state that?

A.: Then he walked out, Jack Berman, from the store.

Q.: But before he walked out, what did he say, but without saying the profanity?

A.: "I will see you."

STRONG LANGUAGE

Q.: Well, what did he say to Ben Getzoff at that time and place?

A.: When he asked him for the $40,000?

Q.: Yes, when Getzoff told him that he would get him a list?

A.: All right.

Q.: Well, did he say anything, did he use any strong language?

A.: Jack Berman?

Q. Yes.

A.: Yes, he did, to Ben Getzoff.

Q.: What did you hear the parties say? (Referring to conversation in the store.)

A.: I heard Ed Rosenberg say to Ben Getzoff, "I bought him a beautiful watch."

Q.: Do you recall an occasion about the Monday of July, 1928, of seeing Asa Keyes and Ben Getzoff together in the office?

A.: Yes, sir.

A.: Just state what was said and done by these gentlemen at that time and place.

SENT ON ERRAND

A.: Mr. Keyes and Ben Getzoff were sitting in the office, and Mr. Ben Getzoff called me into the office and he said, "Joe, take your hat and do a little errand." I took my hat, and Mr. Keyes gave me his wrist watch, I should take it down to the Brock jewelry store and have it adjusted and put in an unbreakable crystal, and I said, "What name should I give?" He said, "Well, give your name." Then Ben Getzoff said, "All right." Then Mr. Keyes changed his mind and he says, "Well, say it is for Mr. Keyes."

Q.: What did you do with the watch?

Q: What jewelry store?

A.: Brock jewelry store on Seventh street, in Los Angeles.

Q.: At that time was anything said by any of the parties as to who would get the watch from the jewelry store?

A.: Yes; Mr. Keyes said, "Let them take their time and fix it right, and I will send down my chauffeur."

Q.: Did he mention his name?

A.: Fisher.

Q.: Do you know Fisher?

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: Did you ever see him around there?

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: What did he do when he came there?

K.: He was waiting for Mr. Keyes.

Q.: Do you recall any occasion when Mr. Keyes came in and Jack Rosenberg, Jacob Bennett or Jack Bennett, were in there, upon which either of the last named parties went any place as soon as Mr. Keyes entered the door?

A.: Well, sometimes they used to run down to the basement, and sometimes they used to run upstairs to hide themselves.

Q.: Do you recall any occasion when Mr. Keyes entered the tailor shop when Jack Rosenberg was there? Just answer that question. Do you recall that?

A.: Yes.

NIGHT VISITS CHARGED

Q.: What if anything did Jack Rosenberg do when Mr. Keyes entered?

A.: When Mr. Keyes entered the store, Jack Rosenberg went into the basement downstairs from the office.

Q.: Do you recall an occasion of seeing any of the defendants at the tailor shop or coming out of the tailor shop some time during the night-time?

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: Who did you see of the defendants at that time?

A.: Mr. Keyes, Mr. Ben Getzoff, Dudley Robinson and George Contreras.

Q.: What were they doing when you saw them?

RESIGNING PHASE

Q.: Do you recall a conversation occurring between Mr. Keyes and Mr. Ben Getzoff relating to the matter of Mr. Keyes's resigning?

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: About when was that conversation?

Q.: What year?

A.: 1928.

Q.: What did you hear the parties say at that time?

A.: Ben Getzoff says to Mr. Keyes, "If you are going to resign from the office you are going to put me in wrong."

Q.: What did Mr. Keyes say or did you hear anything said by him?

INDIGNATION MEETING

Q.: When did you first tell to anybody at the store or anywhere else?

A.: Well, after they closed up the store, about two weeks after that, I met Pike on Spring street, and he was talking about Mr. Ben Getzoff, the way he didn't use him right, and Pike says to me, "What do you think, Joe? They paid me $13 for the week." I says, "It is a shame after to be almost the whole week in the store, the last week, and they paid me $13 for the week." I says, "What do you think of old man Getzoff?" He says, "I have not got no use for him." I says to Pike, "I have not got no use either. He called me all kinds of names."

Q.: You told Pike Mr. Getzoff called you all kinds of names?

A.: Yes.

Q.: And you told Pike you had no use for Mr. Getzoff?

A.: Yes.

Q.: What else was said at that time?

"EXPOSURE" HINTED

A.: Mr. Pike said to me, "It is a shame the way they rob people in Los Angeles by the Julian case." I said, "It is a shame." He says, "I have got a good mind to expose to the public what they did."

Q.: Anything further?

A.: I says, "All right."

Q.: What did he say to that?

A.: Who?

Q.: Mr. Pike.

A.: Well, I don't know what he says then. Then I left him. He says to me, "Well, Joe, I kept track of everything on cards."

Q.: Did he say anything further?

A.: Then he went to the newspaper.

Q.: When did the store close?

A.: July 28, 1928.

Q.: When did you next see Mr. Pike?

A.: I met him a couple of days after that.

NEWSPAPER OFFER

Q.: What was the conversation had between you and Mr. Pike at that time?

A.: He says he goes to the newspapers. Then I met him again in a couple of days and he says the newspapers want to buy this story and they will pay me expenses for our time.

Q.: Get paid for the time he lost?

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: At that conversation what did Mr. Pike tell you with reference to having been to the newspapers?

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: I say what did he say about that?

A.: Well, he goes to the newspapers and he will see if this can be exposed by the papers.

Q.: And you later saw him and he did say he had been to the newspapers?

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: And what did he say that the newspapers had said?

A.: Well, he says, "They will see."

Q.: Did he say anything with reference to money?

A.: I left it to him.

(Here the witness related a number of subsequent conversations in which he said Pike told him of visiting various newspaper offices and of the sale of publication rights of the story to The Times for $2000. He said he took no part in the negotiations but "left it to Pike.")

MERELY VERBAL

Q.: Did you write anything down for Mr. Pike?

A.: No, sir.

Q.: You just talked to him about it? (What he saw in the store.)

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: Did Mr. Pike write anything down at that time?

A.: Well, he told me he kept track every day since the Julian case ended on cards.

Q.: With reference to the testimony you gave about Dave Getzoff and a check somewhere around February 2, 1928—do you recall particularly if that was on February 2, 1928?

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: How do you fix that in your mind?

A.: Unusual.

Q.: What?

A.: Unusual.

A.: It was either on a Wednesday or a Thursday.

Q.: Do you remember testifying before the grand jury and fixing the date specifically as Wednesday?

A.: No, I remember that date as unusual because I seen the check passed to Dave Getzoff.

Q.: I will ask you if at that time you didn't testify as follows, page 46 of the grand jury transcript: Did you hear some conversation while you were there in regard to the Julian case? A. Yes. Q.: Can you give us the details of what you heard? A.: Yes, It is exactly kind of hard for me to give you the date and the minute, because I am a very poor English speaker, and I was always busy with customers most of my time, but I will give it to you as near as I can." Do you remember so testifying?

A.: Yes, sir, I do remember.

MORE TESTIMONY

Q.: You have related here some things, have you not, that you didn't tell before the grand jury? Have you testified to anything here today that you did not testify to before the grand jury?

A.: Well, I don't remember that. I think I—whatever I testified in here, I think I testified before the grand jury.

A.: I think the same.

Q.: Didn't you testify to something more today than you did before the grand jury?

A.: Well, if I didn't testify about the smoking jacket before the grand jury.

Q.: You didn't testify about the smoking jacket before the grand jury, did you?

A.: I don't remember about that.

Q.: And you didn't testify about the conversation about the double-crossing, did you?

A.: Yes, I did.

Q.: Before the grand jury?

A.: Yes, sir.

DENIAL VOICED

Q.: How about your statements with reference to seeing some of these defendants come out of the store at night? You don't say anything about that before the grand jury, did you?

A.: No, sir, I did not.

Q.: Did you talk with Mr. Pike or Mr. Rettenger about the testimony that you were to give in this trial?

A.: No, sir.

Q.: After you gave your testimony before the grand jury, didn't you and Mr. Pike and Mr. Rettenger get together and discuss what you were going to testify to at this trial?

A.: No, sir.

Q.: Didn't you have conversations with some of the newspaper reporters from the different newspapers about what you were going to testify to before the grand jury?

A.: No, sir.

Q.: How about what you were to say before the grand jury, did you leave that to Pike?

A.: Well, he was called before the grand jury.

Q.: You didn't know you were going before the grand jury?

A.: No, he was called.

Q.: Didn't you and he agree that you would go up and see Mr. Porter of the grand jury?

A.: Well, we were sent to Mr. Porter. Mr. Porter called for us, one of the members of the grand jury, Mr. Porter.

Q.: And you talked to Mr. Porter before you went before the grand jury?

A.: He was in the grand jurors' room.

Q.: Did Mr. Pike tell you to make some of the statements that you made here today?

A.: No, sir.

"I HAVE SEEN PLENTY"

Q.: Before you and Pike parted at that first conversation, did you ask him what he had seen at the store that he expected to expose?

A.: Well, he told me he kept track on cards at that time that the trial was ended, up to the time that he left the store.

Q.: That is what I am getting at. What did you say to that?

A.: I told him I knew about a lot of things. I have seen plenty, too.

Q.: You said, "I have seen plenty, too?"

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: Did you tell him what you had seen at that time?

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: That is what we want. What did you tell him at that time that you had seen?

A.: I heard about the watch and I told him about the check, and so forth.

Q.: What did he tell you?

A.: Well, he said he kept track on business cards every day what was going on in the store. That is what he told me.

Q.. You don't know now whether you told him anything—

A.: I don't remember if I told him the time, the first time, but I told him the second time when I met him.

Q: You are positive you did tell him on the second time?

PUBLICATION DENIED

Q.: Yes. There had been two days for you to go home and make up your story as to what you were going to tell him?

A.: No, I didn't make up my story. I knew what was going on in the store all the time. I seen and I knew.

Q.: Well, why [illegible] the first time, then?

A.: Well, I don't [illegible]

Q.: You don't know [illegible]

A.: I don't know why I [illegible] tell him.

Q.: But you [illegible] before you told him?

A.: Something [illegible] ond time, yes, sir.

Q.: Did he say, "I [illegible] the newspaper [illegible] can get for [illegible] pose to sell?"

A.: Well, he [illegible] "what I am going to [illegible] when he came [illegible] papers he said, "I [illegible] paid for our time [illegible]

Q.: What time [illegible]

Q.: You had [illegible] since they gave up the [illegible]

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: And if Mr. Pike [illegible] the newspapers [illegible] you had [illegible] didn't you?

A.: Well, that was not my [illegible] tion.

Q.: What?

A.: That was not my [illegible]

Q.: And what was your [illegible]

A.: My intention [illegible] those things in the paper.

"DIDN'T ASK [illegible]

Q.: You didn't [illegible] at all?

A.: I didn't ask Pike [illegible]

Q.: You didn't [illegible] at all that Pike would [illegible]

A.: That was up to him [illegible] to me.

Q.: Well, I am talking [illegible] yourself. Did you want any [illegible] money that Pike was to [illegible]

A.: Well, I left it to Pike.

Q.: Now, you [illegible] or not you would [illegible] to Mr. Ben Getzoff, [illegible] at that time? You [illegible] whether Ben Getzoff paid [illegible] or whether the newspaper [illegible] to you, did you?

A.: Ben Getzoff?

Q.: Yes, to keep from [illegible] posed.

A.: Well, I didn't [illegible] Getzoff.

"NOT EDUCATED"

Q.: Yes. But I [illegible] and Mr. Pike talked [illegible] you, that Mr. Getzoff [illegible] would not like to be exposed [illegible]

A.: Well, we didn't [illegible] that.

A.: No.

Q.: Why didn't you go [illegible] newspaper yourself? [illegible] whole story, or go to the [illegible] Attorney's office—not the [illegible] Attorney's office, but go to [illegible]

A.: I was not educated [illegible] others, unfortunately.

Q.: And that is the only [illegible] son you can give for not [illegible] anything about it—is that [illegible]

Q.: Didn't try to go to [illegible] else, either, did you?

A.: No, sir.

Q.: Didn't you go to [illegible] yourself about this [illegible] about some trouble [illegible] you were going to the [illegible]

A.: No, sir.

"CALLED [illegible]

Q.: So now you say [illegible] said anything to Mr. Getzoff [illegible] this matter at any time [illegible] er this grand jury [illegible] that right?

SSERTED BRIBERY CHECKS PLACED BEFORE JURORS

Getzoff Declared He Needed 'Three Grand,' Houseman Testifies; Bank Teller Awaits Call

[illegible] from First Page)

[illegible] said Sherman, "and Ben [illegible] kill him if he did."

[illegible] Getzoff was mean to him, [illegible] him a dirty liar and was al[illegible] saying that he was going to [illegible] him, Sherman recited from [illegible] stand, but it didn't [illegible] him from keeping his eyes as [illegible] his ears open, he declared. [illegible] Rosenberg left an envelope [illegible] him to give to Ben Getzoff [illegible] and Sherman opened it up [illegible] that it was a check for [illegible]

[illegible] days after the Julian case [illegible] May 21, 1928—Jacob Berman [illegible] into the shop again, [illegible] declared, and had another argument with Ben Getzoff. [illegible] Berman used "strong" language, the witness testified, going [illegible] detail, asserting that he [illegible] $8,000 and got nothing, [illegible] after swearing at Getzoff got [illegible] walked out.

[illegible] OFTEN THERE

[illegible] said he remembered [illegible] a watch that the State con[illegible] Rosenberg paid $800 for and [illegible] to Keyes, and late one night [illegible] testified he saw Keyes, Ben [illegible] Attorney Dudley Robinson [illegible] George Contreras, then chief [illegible] District Attorney's investi[illegible] coming out of the tailor [illegible]. He said, incidentally, that [illegible] came to the place at all [illegible] of the day almost constantly [illegible] a period of months.

[illegible] was another conversation. [illegible] and Ben Getzoff were sitting [illegible] little tailor shop office some[illegible] in the month of June, 1928. [illegible] was doing his chores as [illegible]. This is what Sherman said [illegible] heard:

[illegible] Getzoff to Keyes: "If you re[illegible] you are going to put me in [illegible]."

[illegible] Counsel William Beirne, [illegible] Keyes, began the cross-[illegible] of the witness, and [illegible] began questioning [illegible] as to how he came to first tell his story of what happened in the tailor shop, it becoming rapidly apparent that the defense hoped to establish that Sherman, Milton Pike and John Rettenger, all employed in the tailor shop, fabricated their story for the purpose of selling it.

WAS OUT OF JOB

Sherman declared that Getzoff closed the tailor shop about July 28, 1928, and that he and Pike were out of a job. They met by accident a few weeks later at Sixth and Spring streets. They both had but little friendly feeling for the Getzoffs, Sherman testified.

"I got a good mind to expose to the public what they did in the Julian cases," Sherman said Pike remarked.

They again met, and Pike said he was going to the newspapers with the story and finally they both went to see Rev. Bob Shuler and he, in turn, advised them to tell their story to the grand jury.

Efforts by Attorney Beirne and Attorney Le Compte Davis, the latter representing Rosenberg, to get an admission that they kept hanging on to the story for the purpose of selling it for a large price, failed. Sherman stuck to his original declaration that he wanted to expose the Getzoffs and that his only financial reward was to be paid for the time lost from his work.

The cross-examination of Davis, brought an assertion from the witness that after they had talked to Shuler, Dave Getzoff called up and threatened him if he told anything to the minister. Sherman said he then told Getzoff that he would go to the grand jury.

At the conclusion of the examination of Sherman, the prosecution, according to Chief Deputy Stewart, who is handling the bulk of the questioning of the witnesses in the absence of Special Prosecutor Clark, who is ill with influenza and will probably be away from the court-room again today, will call Ohmer J. Oswold, a teller in the Merchants National Bank, who will testify regarding the banking transactions referred to by Louis Berman.

Other witnesses awaiting call to the witness chair are Frank W. Kelleher, manager of the Hayward Hotel, which has figured in the testimony as a meeting place of some of the defendants, and where Jacob Berman testified he paid Ben Getzoff some money, and John Rettenger, a workman at the Getzoff tailor shop, who is asserted to have told the grand jury of meetings at the 609 South Spring street establishment, and who is expected by the prosecution to further substantiate the testimony of Milton Pike and Joseph Sherman.

The direct testimony of Louis Berman as a witness for the State provided the major interest at the Keyes trial yesterday morning.

AT MORNING SESSION

Briefly, the outstanding points brought out by this witness, under questioning by Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart, were as follows:

(1.) He told of many visits he made to the Getzoff tailor shop during the period the State asserts that the bribery conspiracy was being hatched there and identified checks that he said he wrote at his brother's request and gave Ben Getzoff. The checks were introduced in evidence.

(2.) He described a dinner party held at his home at 6826 Arbold Drive at which former Dist.-Atty. Keyes, Mrs. Keyes, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Getzoff, himself and wife were present, and of a long-distance telephone conversation participated in between all the men present and Jacob Berman, then in New York, that resulted in Louis Berman writing Getzoff a check for $500. What purported to be the check in question was introduced in evidence.

(3.) He asserted that Jacob Berman, before the latter left for New York in June, 1928, gave him (Louis) a list of weights and measures of golf clubs; that he went to the B. H. Dyas Company and ordered these clubs according to specifications, having the wooden clubs inlaid with the initials "A. K.," and later personally delivered these to Keyes at the latter's Beverly Hills home. A check for $173 was identified by the witness as the one he gave the store in payment for the clubs.

(4.) He told of paying the bill for a lamp, assertedly selected by Mr. and Mrs. Keyes at a downtown shop, and again identified a check for $91.75 as the price he paid for the lamp.

SUGGESTED BY GETZOFF

According to the testimony all of these "gifts" were paid for at the suggestion of Ben Getzoff to Jacob Berman. Louis Berman wrote the checks at his brother's behest because Jacob had no checking account in this city.

At the outset of his testimony Berman declared that he had known the Getzoffs for some time, and probably visited their Spring-street tailor shop once or twice a week between March and June 20, 1928, but that after the latter date—the day Berman left on an extended visit to New York—he visited the shop practically every day, his visits, the testimony disclosed, being caused mainly because of asserted financial negotiations between Ben Getzoff and Jacob Berman.

Louis Berman testified that at odd times during this period he gave Getzoff checks or cash, each payment generally being for $50 for "expenses." Checks dated July 25, August 14 and August 24, 1928, all for $50 and all made out and indorsed by Ben Getzoff were identified by the witness as made out for the purpose of these payments. They were placed in evidence. As late as the fall of 1928, when Getzoff had closed the tailor shop and was occupying an office in James Oviatt Building, he was still demanding money, Louis Berman asserted, and another check for $100 was written, but the witness declared that he was unable to find the canceled voucher.

DELIVERY OF CLUBS

The witness described in detail his purchase of the golf clubs and asserted that Keyes said they were "beautiful" when he delivered them to the former District Attorney.

The dinner party at the Berman home was arranged for the purpose that Getzoff might talk with Jacob Berman on the long-distance wire, Louis Berman asserted, and after a conversation during which Ben Getzoff told Louis that Jacob owed him money "for what he and Keyes were doing for him."

The date of the dinner was set as about the middle of July, 1928. Previous to the arrival of his guests Louis Berman said he put in a call for his brother in Long Beach Long Island, New York, and that between 8:30 and 9 p.m. Jacob called back.

A servant answered the telephone, the witness declared, and then Ben Getzoff "jumped up and grabbed the phone," and Louis hurried upstairs to an extension instrument. Getzoff told Jacob Berman that he wanted money, and had Keyes also talk to the man in New York, Keyes assuring Jacob Berman, the brother testified, "that everything would be taken care of." After talking to Getzoff and Keyes, Jacob Berman instructed his brother to write Getzoff a check for $500, it was testified.

NEEDED MONEY

A few days later Louis Berman said he went to Getzoff's tailor shop with the $500 check and Getzoff insisted on having it certified as he wanted the money immediately, the witness declared. He said he went to his bank and arranged for certification of the check which, he declared, he later gave to Getzoff. A canceled certified check for $500 on the Merchants' Trust and Savings Bank was introduced in evidence as the check in question.

During the period his brother was in New York, Louis Berman testified, Ben Getzoff showed him a telegram presumed to be from his brother. It was introduced in evidence and read as follows:

"Ben Getzoff, care Dunn Tailor, opposite main office Western Union, Los Angeles, Cal.

"Received wire from Ed saying if I don't send you money you won't do anything. I don't want Ed sending threatening wires as any promises I make I will keep and do not want him interfering in my business relations with you. I think he should keep some of the promises he made on it. You and I can take care of our own business. He wired me he don't owe you a cent. Regards.

(Signed) JACK."

The "Ed" mentioned in the telegram was Ed Rosenberg, Louis Berman's testimony disclosed. The wire was sent from New York and was dated July 16, 1928.

The same day, the witness asserted, he asked Getzoff if the forgery and embezzlement charge against his brother was going to be dismissed and Getzoff told him that as soon as the case could be switched from Superior Judge Doran's court (Judge Doran had refused to make dismissals in the Julian cases and was said to be antagonistic to Keyes) the case would be dismissed if Keyes had to ask for the dismissal personally.

THEN CROSS-EXAMINED

Cross-examination of the witness began just as the morning session of court closed.

Mrs. Frances E. Croft, escrow clerk in the Beverly Hills branch of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, on cross-examination, further verified her testimony regarding the transaction covering the purchase by Keyes of a home at 470 South Rodeo Drive, Beverly Hills.

The witness brought out that the deed to the home, which was delivered to Keyes in July, was made out to Lillian P. Keyes, wife of the former District Attorney. She also testified that the purchase was consummated in March of last year, and that on the 29th of that month Keyes gave her checks and cash totaling $15,800, and that the sale was subject to a mortgage of $12,000.

The entire file of the escrow proceedings on the purchase of the home as held by the bank were made a part of the record of the trial at the instigation of Attorney Rush, who cross-questioned the witness, and told the court that there probably will be additional reference made to the documents before completion of the hearing.

The cross-examination of Berman was brief and consisted of a few questions by Attorney Rush for Keyes, and an attempt on the part of Attorney Davis for the Rosenbergs to strike from the record a telegram introduced by the prosecution and read to the jury during the morning.

FIGHT ON TELEGRAM

In his attempt to remove the telegram from the record, which the prosecution contends was sent to Ben Getzoff by Jack Berman, and in which an "Ed" is referred and testified to by Berman as being Ed Rosenberg, Attorney Davis asserted that the message was sent in reply to nothing that has been introduced in evidence.

The motion to strike it out was denied by Judge Butler, and Berman was excused after a stipulation by the attorneys that he will remain within call of the court for further testimony.

Carl C. Vianelli, who testified that he is the houseman at the Louis Berman home, called to the stand by the prosecution to substantiate the dinner party there, and the long-distance telephone-call threw the defense counsel into a "huddle" for a moment when he told the jury that he heard Ben Getzoff say to Jack Berman in New York:

"Everything is all right. Don't worry. But I must have three grand by Monday."

HE ANNOUNCED PHONE

In explaining this bit of testimony, Vianelli said that he was busy serving the dinner at the Berman home when the telephone rang. He answered and told the party that it was Mr. Berman in New York. The expression "three grand" was interpreted as meaning $3000.

The witness testified that Ben Getzoff grabbed the receiver out of his hand, and after the ordinary salutation spoke the previously mentioned message to Berman. He explained that there was an extension telephone upstairs, where additional conversation was carried on between the two brothers, Getzoff and Keyes, but that he couldn't understand what was said.

He was excused by the defense without questioning.

SHERMAN SAYS MONEY PASSED

A.: Well, he called me up. He wants to see me—Dave Getzoff.

The court: Who called you up.

A.: Dave Getzoff called me up. He wants to see me. I says, "What for?" he says, "I want to see you on Sixth and Spring where the Hayward Hotel is." And he said, "What is the idea to go to Bob Shuler and tell him about business?"

Q.: Go ahead.

A.: And he said to me a very bad expression. Can I repeat it?

A.: He said "you blank blank, you go to Bob Shuler and tell him everything." And when he called me that name, I says, "Just for that I will go up and take it to the grand jury."

Q.: You just now said you didn't know anything about going before the grand jury; you didn't know because you were an ignorant man where to go. You did know, did you not?

A.: Well, I didn't know nobody in the grand jury. Just like I say, I am not educated like others.

Q.: You know enough to tell Ben Getzoff that you were going before the grand jury?

Mr. Stewart: I object to that as having been asked and answered twice.

The Court: Overruled. Answer the question.

"WENT TO SHULER"

A.: Well, he went to Bob Shuler and Bob Shuler went to one of the members of the grand jury.

Q.: What is the next conversation you remember after that to have had with Mr. Pike?

A.: When he took me to Bob Shuler.

Q.: Well, Pike said to you, "Bob Shuler is running a radio?"

A.: That was the last time.

Q.: Pike said to you, "Bob Shuler is running a radio," did he not, "and a newspaper?"

A.: Well, I knew he run a radio. I knew that.

Q.: And Pike thought he could get some money for his time from Bob Shuler, didn't he?

A.: I don't know.

Q.: Well, tell us the conversation that led up to your going to see Shuler between you and Pike? What did you and he say before you went to see Shuler.

A.: Pike was talking to Bob Shuler.

Q.: Didn't you go to see him?

A.: No, I was outside.

THE COURT: Did he say why he wanted you to go there?

A.: To expose over the radio the whole—

Q.: The whole what?

A.: The whole matter, you know.

Q.: to expose the whole matter on the radio? Did he say whether he expected to get any money for doing it?

A.: I don't know.

Q.: About the middle of October?

A.: I know it was something about that time.

CALLED BY GRAND JURY

Q.: Did you know that you were going to appear before the grand jury and tell this story at any time before you were ordered by a subpoena to go before the grand jury?

A.: I didn't hear that.

Q.: You went before the grand jury?

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: And you went there because you were subpoenaed to go there?

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: And you didn't know you were going to go there until you were subpoenaed, did you?

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: And you were dragged before the grand jury, and this story was gotten from you not with your own free will, wasn't it?

A.: No, I was not. I was called by Mr. Porter.

Q.: You were never served with a subpoena. How were you called—by telephone?

A.: Bob Shuler sent me down.

Q.: And it was because he sent you there that you went there to testify?

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: And you were never served with a subpoena?

A.: No, sir.

GERMANY'S REPARATION CREDIT GOOD

Paris Bankers Say France Alone Will Take Millions of Proposed Bonds

PARIS, Jan. 16. (AP)—Inquiries at the Bank of France respecting the capacity of the international money markets to absorb bonds for the commercializing of German reparations are understood to show that France alone might be able to take the eqivalent of $300,000,000 or $400,000,000. Other European money markets, including the German, Swiss, Dutch and English, could take as much more.

German credit is regarded by French financiers as very good. Sums equal to several hundred million gold marks in French money are now extended to Germany on short-term loans.

French subscriptions to the reparations loan will naturally be dependent on the French government's using its immense influence with the French public to push the securities, very much as it formerly did respecting Russian obligations.

All projects respecting commercialization of reparations provide for service on the bonds out of the annuities themselves, so that there will be no additional charge on German revenue.

AUSTRALIA'S AUTO LAWS COMMENDED

Traffic Expert Declares Heavy Penalties Prevent Drunken Driving

CLEVELAND, Jan. 16. (AP)—Australia, although without a prohibition statute, has avoided the drunken-driver problem by making the penalties so strict that motorists fear to incur them, according to Charles W. Lloyd of Adelaide, Australia, who is here to study highway and traffic questions at the annual convention of the American Road Builders' Association.

A motorist is liable to be hanged if he kills a person while under the influence of liquor, Lloyd said. Or if the driver is convicted only of manslaughter in such cases he is subject to eight to ten years' imprisonment.

Knocking another person unconscious in traffic accidents is punishable by two to four years' imprisonment if the driver is intoxicated, while the lowest penalty for drunken driving is a fine of $125, six months' imprisonment and loss of license.

Lloyd said he found the most perfect system of traffic lights that he has yet seen in America in Toledo, where the street names an indication of the numbers are worked in with the stop-and-go signs.

Officials of the association tonight were considering the appointment of a committee to appear before Congress on matters of highway legislation.

STEINWAY
THE INSTRUMENT OF THE IMMORTALS

LONG ago Hofmann chose the Steinway as the one perfect medium for his art. Rachmaninoff knows how exquisitely it interprets a subtle nuance. Paderewski knows how magnificently it responds to his demands. Yet the Steinway was not designed primarily for the concert pianist, and the great majority are purchased on limited incomes and for unassuming homes. The Steinway is made in numerous styles and sizes, each embodying all the Steinway principles and ideals. And each returns to those who buy it, not only unending pleasure and delight, but the definite gift of permanence.

SENATE FAVORS FENN MEASURE

Passage Before Session's End Declared Probable

Legislative Jam Only Real Obstacle Ahead

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—The House reapportionment bill can and probably will be passed by the Senate before March 4.

A poll of the Senate, including fifty-four Senators either personally interviewed or authentically placed by colleagues, revealed a minimum of opposition, some of which it is confidently predicted can be overturned.

Judging from the poll, the Senate can perform the duty it evaded in 1921 when the House passed a reapportionment bill only to have the upper House shelve it, by an almost two-to-one vote.

But one thing stands in the way of Senate action. That is the present legislative jam which conceivably can "freeze out" consideration of the measure. Against this possibility Senator Arthur Vandenberg, leader of the reapportionment bloc, is making a valiant fight. Prospects are that it will be successful.

TEN OPPONENTS FOUND

Of the fifty-four Senators seen or accounted for today only ten could be found who are out and out opponents of the Senate ratifying the action of the House on a matter which solely concerns that branch of the Congress. Nine of them were Democrats.

Against this Democratic opposition were found ten Democrats who are for reapportionment action this session. Twenty-one Republicans want action this session. The thirteen remaining of the poll were doubtful with probably five of their number leaning toward favorable action.

The opposition in the Senate can be set down more as reluctance to agree to a measure which in all probability will mean a slash in the number of State Representatives, than to a disposition to carry on a bitter fight to achieve their defeatist ends.

It lies chiefly in the Midwest agricultural States and in the South. Senators numbered especially among the listed doubtful ones are agreed that the Senate cannot now afford to suffer the stigma of having deliberately flaunted the constitutional mandate requiring that the House membership shall be apportioned after every decennial census upon the basis of State populations.

STRATEGY WORKED OUT

This argument augurs well for the measure, in the opinion of Senator Vandenberg, who in his fight to get action will stress the point. He pointed out today that the Senate carries original responsibility for the flouting of the Constitution in 1921 and he does not believe it will assume this responsibility a second time.

With others who are backing him in the fight, Senator Vandenberg has worked out his strategy to force consideration of the reapportionment bill this session.

On whether the amount of work piled up and awaiting disposition and the comparatively short time left in which to do it, can forestall action on the bill, Senate leaders are divided. Senator Curtis, Republican leader, believes that there will be sufficient time to consider the redistricting bill. Further he is known to believe that Senatorial courtesy requires it, even if there should be a disposition on the part of some members to evade their responsibility. Senator Robinson, Democratic leader, however, does not share this view. The legislative situation is such in his opinion as to preclude consideration of the reapportionment bill.

sociation, said he believes the entire action was based on newspaper reports, and that if concerns the same matter as now before the California association.

"I know nothing about the action of the executive committee," said Judge Hardy. "I have not been down there, and have not been in touch with the meeting, but they do those things often on only newspaper reports. I presume it is on the same matter with reference to my acceptance of the check that is now before the State Bar Association. I have no comment to make on the action of the executive committee," the jurist concluded.

Review of Day in Congress

The $541,000,000 independent offices supply bill was reported to the House.

The House Ways and Means Committee continued its study of tariff revision on metals.

Senator Sheppard of Texas, author of the Eighteenth Amendment, called the attention of the Senate to the tenth anniversary of prohibition.

no opinion on the pending cruiser bill, he believes Mr. Hoover favored the development of a well-balanced navy, adequate for national defense.

"I would be surprised," he added, "if under Mr. Hoover the American Navy does not assume the highest position among the navies of the world. Under him we will acquire a naval standing commensurate with our influence in the world."

PLANS UNCHANGED

After a luncheon conference with the next Chief Executive, Representative Tilson of Connecticut, Republican leader in the House, said there is no change in the plans to limit the special session to enactment of farm relief and tariff revision. He disagreed with Representative Newton, Republican, Minnesota, that inland waterway development should be taken up at that session.

While recognizing this development as part of the whole general farm-relief program, Mr. Tilson said this can be taken care of at the regular session.

Mr. Hoover is on record for an extensive and comprehensive development of the inland waterways to reduce freight rates on farm products and he is expected to present concrete recommendations along this line in his message at the convening of Congress in regular December session.

SILENCE ON CABINET

Cabinet and other major appointments were brought into the conferences by several of the more than a score of callers at headquarters during the day, but there still is no indication from the President-elect as to whether he has formed any final conclusions on the personnel of his official family. Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, personal friend of Secretary Mellon, presented a list of Pennsylvanians for consideration for Cabinet and other major posts, but said he made no recommendations.

The President-elect went over the New York situation with Charles D. Hilles, Republican national committeeman for the Empire State, and Ogden Mills of New York City, Undersecretary of the Treasury. These conferences took place at the Hoover home on S street.

OPPONENTS PAY CALL

The prohibition question was discussed by Senators Jones of Washington and Edge of New Jersey. The Senators themselves remarked upon the rather unusual event of two men so far apart on the fundamentals of this subject calling on the President-elect together.

They said the inquiry which Mr. Hoover proposes to initiate will not go to the Eighteenth Amendment; that this amendment is recognized as the fundamental law and that the whole object now is to take such steps as necessary to bring about its better enforcement.

Senator Jones has proposed a resolution for a Congressional inquiry and Senator Edge, an ardent opponent of the Volstead Act, has countered with a proposal for a Presidential commission. They first reached an agreement on a compromise resolution and then decided it would be improper for the present Congress, acting during the Coolidge administration, to pass upon the proposal.

Mr. Hoover agreed with them that legislation for the appointment of a commission is unnecessary, but attention was called that Congress will be called upon to enact a measure supplying the funds to defray the cost of the inquiry. It was said such a bill will be offered at the special session.

FIRST AIR TRIP GIVES BYRD JOY

ice. As Parker wagged the control they broke off and tinkled down to the hard packed surface.

He opened up the motor wide and shook the tail to help free the skis, which were frozen to the surface, where they had rested so long. A few blows with a sledge by a mechanic and they broke loose almost immediately.

Benjamin Roth, detailed by the Army Air Corps to accompany the expedition, went up with Parker.

The pilot taxied the plane far down to one side over the slightly rough surface and the action of the skiis and landing gear was watched anxiously by men who had worked over that problem for months.

SKIIS FAR APART

The skiis are ten feet apart, giving a very broad landing gear and are fastened to streamlined supports built up of welded tubing. They are of new design and there was some anxiety as to how they would work. Parker finally switched the throttle open and jerked the tail of the machine off the snow and started swaying across the uneven surface.

He played safe and held her down until the plane lifted and began climbing slowly toward the barrier cliff miles away. The other pilot and Byrd expressed their gratification and watched as the plane turned and headed inland toward the base about nine miles away. Parker had about 2500 feet altitude by the time he reached there and became a mere speck in the sky. When he turned and came back he came down in a fast glide toward the watching group.

BUREAU LAUDS DRY PROGRESS

Prohibition Praised on Tenth Birthday

Citizens Urged to Help in Enforcement

Naming Honest Officials Held Necessary

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—The Prohibition Bureau employed today, the tenth anniversary of the ratification of the prohibition amendment, to issue a statement taking stock of the situation and giving prohibition credit for improvement in general conditions.

"The country is going forward with prohibition, not backward with it," said the statement. "We are not willing to lose the advances made industrially, economically, socially and hygienically as the result of the passage of the Eighteenth Amendment."

With the statement went an admonition that in the last analysis the citizens are responsible for effective enforcement of the law, and continued:

SOURCES CLOSED

"The evidence is sufficient to show that the sources of supply of illicit liquor are gradually but surely being closed. Controlling the sources of supply of illicit liquor and at the same time fostering and controlling legitimate industry using industrial alcohol and regulating the lawful use of medicinal liquors are the primary functions of the Prohibition Bureau.

"The small-type cases are a nuisance condition in each community which the citizens can help or hinder, for in the last analysis the citizens of any locality, through their vote, are responsible for the local officials, whether they be strong or lax in their program of law enforcement. Much is to be gained from educational movements by civic organizations, for drinking cannot survive without new recruits and recruits are obtained from the youth of the nation."

"FOREVER LAUNCHED"

Calling the attention of the Senate today to the anniversary Senator Sheppard of Texas, author of the Eighteenth Amendment, described the dry movement as "forever anchored in the heart and purpose of Almighty God."

National prohibition is an expression, the Senator declared, of the "moral sentiment of the American people, a sentiment inseparable from the progressive civilization of America."

The Texan was asked by Senator Bruce of Maryland, a wet, whether he was aware that "a large number of States" had repealed their dry enforcement laws, and Sheppard replied that he had "covered that phase" in his statement that doubtless prohibition will be subjected to numerous reverses before it became totally effective.

Senator Sheppard eulogized the work of the W.C.T.U., and the Anti-Saloon League in keeping a close vigilance over the prohibition laws.

SMITH MAKES FUNDS APPEAL

party, and pointed out the need of a minority party under a system of government such as that of the United States.

"The dark chapters of American history from 1921 to 1924 are an indication of what can take place in the government of our country in the absence of an active minority party," he said. "Were it not for the vigilance of the Democrats and progressives in Congress the whole shameful story of the oil leases might never have been told."

A political party, he asserted, "that polls nearly 16,000,000 popular votes should be a tremendous factor in the politics of the country, and the strength and force of that great body should not be lost by failure to maintain an organization which would enable them to make themselves heard and felt in the affairs of our nation."

PUBLIC NECESSITY

Mr. Smith told his radio audience that there is "need at all times for facts concerning public happenings."

"To produce and to publish material and information costs money," he continued. "There are two sides to many public questions and there are facts which ought to be brought fairly and honestly before the American people in the next four years.

"As a matter of fact, we have had immediately following the election a number of misleading editorials printed in the Republican press concerning the crushing defeat administered to the Democratic party. While it is true that our system of the Electoral College gave Mr. Hoover an overwhelming victory, judging from the standpoint of the popular vote, the Democratic party made the best showing in the campaign of 1928 that it has been able to make since the second election of President Wilson.

INTEREST AROUSED

"The Democratic party, by its progressive platform and its vigorous campaign, did more than its share to arouse interest in national affairs, as is evinced by the fact that 11,000,000 more people voted in 1928 than in 1920, and 12,000,000 more than in 1924. Notwithstanding the overwhelming Republican majority in the Electoral College, the Democratic party reduced the Republican majority in the popular vote by more than 1,000,000 votes in 1928, as compared with 1924."

In 1928 a switch of 8.8 per cent of the total vote would have given victory to the Democratic ticket, the former Governor said, whereas in 1924 it would have required a switch of more than 15.2 and in 1920 more than 13.7 per cent.

"A change of only 420,000 votes out of the total of 36,500,000 votes cast, properly scattered throughout the States," he asserted, "would have altered the whole complexion of the Electoral College and would have given the Democratic party 269 electoral votes, which would have meant victory instead of defeat."

"Local problems are usually local manifestations of State-wide problems," says R. B. Hale, past president of the California Development Association.

WOMEN TO BE RUM SNIFFERS

W.C.T.U. Members Vow to Report All Persons Who Have Liquor Breaths

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) Jan. 16. (AP)—Mrs. E. P. Blair, president of the Davidson County W.C.T.U., announced today at a meeting of State officials celebrating the tenth anniversary of the prohibition amendment that members of her chapter have pledged themselves to report as liquor-law violators all persons they encounter whose breath bears the odor of alcohol.

Included are those met on the street, on a street car or in a private home, she added.

Grazing Fight Won by Indians

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—Warriors of the Modoc tribe of Indians showed today that they can fight in the courts as well as on the field of battle. A decision of the Federal Court handed down here today made them victorious in their long-drawn legal attempt to prevent cattle owners from allowing their stock to trespass upon the lands of the Fort Bidwell Indian reservation in Modoc county.

Named as defendants in the action were the Alturas Stock Association and the California Cattlemen's Association. The action was based upon a statute of 1882 holding that any person knowingly allowing his cattle to trespass upon lands owned by an Indian shall be subject to a fine of $1 for each head.

SALVATIONISTS' CHIEF DEPOSED

Gen. Booth Adjudicated Unfit by High Council

Vote of Fifty-five to Eight Carries Motion

Statements to Press Point to Court Fight

On November 15, 1928, it was summoned for the present meeting.

The council was called not only to decide the question of leadership, but also to consider general reforms in the organization of the army. Its first move for the removal of Gen. Bramwell Booth was to send a deputation to his Southwold cottage to request his resignation.

The general took several days to consider and then, in a secret memorandum, refused, adding that the council had no power to remove him for any cause other than spiritual and contending that the present action was based solely on his physical condition. He said that he had been given reason to hope that he might be restored to complete health.

Commander Evangeline Booth, head of the Salvation Army in the United States, who previously had refused to obey an order of her brother transferring her from that field, was a leader in seeking his retirement and a broadening of the control of the millions in property of which the general virtually is sole trustee.

The army hitherto has been led and controlled almost exclusively by the Booth family. It had been thought possible that if things took a normal course the general might name his wife or his daughter, Commissioner Catherine, as his successor after his death.

From the statement issued to the press tonight by Gen. Booth and from other sources it was gathered that a court battle might be expected before the general will relinquish his office at the command of the council.

After saying that the seven commissioners have taken a leading part in the work of the Council at Sunbury, the statement goes on:

"Numerous legal and technical questions had to be dealt with both before and after calling the Council and in these matters the seven commissioners have been guided by independent legal advice so as to insure that their actions were entirely in accord with the deeds of constitution signed by the founder and upon the terms of which the present general accepted office.

"These seven men also were foremost in the efforts to persuade the general to retire from office, as nothing was further from their thoughts than anything in the nature of an act of personal hostility toward the general, with whom they had been associated for so many years and for whom they constantly had shown the most sympathetic concern.

"It is thought that examination of the names of those voting for the adjudication will reveal the fact that the requisitioning commissioners have been justified in their action by the support of every territorial commander, except the general's daughter, Col. Mary Booth."

The eight opponents of the resolution were Mrs. Bramwell Booth, Catherine Booth, Mary Booth, Mrs. Booth-Helberg, and Commissioners Laurie, Kitchin, Cunningham and Smith.

ONE KILLED BY SEA'S FURY

Several of Majestic Crew Injured as Giant Wave Hits Liner, Causing Heavy Damage

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (AP)—A cook was killed and several other members of the crew were injured by a gigantic wave that surged over the bow of the White Star liner Majestic on the crossing completed when the ship docked here today.

The wave twisted steel bulkheads, wet the mail, ruined part of the cargo and necessitated removal of the 289 third-class passengers to other quarters.

Lenardo Fiorini, 54-year-old assistant cook in the third class, stepped out of the galley Monday. He saw the huge wave curling over the bow and hanging above him. He attempted to regain the galley but was overtaken and thrown against a stanchion. His neck was broken and he was buried at sea.

The wave smashed in a forward hatch imprisoning eight members of the crew who were in their bunks in the forecastle. The water was eight feet deep there and the trapped seamen swam about until they found a break in a wooden bulkhead through which they crawled to safety, several of them suffering from abrasions.

The water broke down the doors of the third-class passenger quarters forward but most of these passengers were out on deck. There were some instances of hysteria but no general panic. A few of the passengers were trapped below decks by the broken doors and had to be freed with axes. All equipment forward, including two giant derricks, the forward ventilators and the bell standard was carried away by the wave.

The third-class department looked when the ship docked today as though it had been bombed. Bulkheads were smashed in, berths and baggage were wrecked, and furniture was broken.

SENATE SHIFTS TO CRUISER BILL

Backers Open Offensive for Approval

Opponents Hope to Reduce Naval Program

Measure Offered as Lesson to Other Powers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—The Senate turned today to the other side of the treaty-cruiser controversy, when advocates of the bill for the construction of sixteen new warships took the offensive in an attempt to win for their measure approval similar to that given the Kellogg treaty to renounce war.

Waiting, however, for the opportunity to make a determined fight against the construction of the proposed fifteen cruisers and one aircraft carrier was a formidable group of Senators who hope to defeat the bill, or at least materially reduce the number of cruisers to be authorized.

COOLIDGE BACKS PROGRAM

Equally determined to keep the measure intact was chairman Hale of the Senate Naval Affairs Committee, who was given support in the opening debate today by a Democrat, Senator Swanson of Virginia, who aided the administration in its fight for ratification of the Kellogg pact.

Construction of the new ships has the active support of President Coolidge, who repeatedly has given expression to a desire for the authorization of additional war craft. The President, however, has asked elimination of a clause providing that the ships shall be laid down within five years. This provision is known as "the time clause," the retention of which is insisted upon by Chairman Hale and some other advocates of the bill.

The principal opposition to the construction of the ships is expected from a group of western Senators including Norris of Nebraska, Brookhart of Iowa, Nye and Frazier of North Dakota, Republicans, and King of Utah, a Democrat.

MANY DELAY VOTE

The group so far has given no notice of an intention to filibuster against the measure but it is probable that they will be sufficiently strong to postpone a final vote for some time.

The cruiser bill has been passed by the House and will go directly to President Coolidge if no Senate changes are made. Should the bill be altered, however, a conference would be necessary and there then would be a danger of the conference report being caught in a last-minute legislative jam in the Senate.

Taking up the cause of the administration, Senator Swanson asked approval of the bill. He argued its approval would tend to accelerate further discussion of naval armament limitation, and thereby prevent a warship-building race between the United States and Great Britain.

LESSON TO ENGLAND

The Virginian said that passage of the bill would constitute "an object lesson" to England since, he continued, it would demonstrate that the United States was determined to place itself upon a naval equality with that country. The knowledge that sixteen new ships has been authorized, Swanson declared, would make clear to Great Britain the advisability of entering into a pact for naval equality.

If competition continues after the passage of this bill, the Senator added, "the responsibility belongs to other nations and not to the United States" because the measure would specifically authorize the President to cease construction of the ships whenever further limitation of naval armament is agreed upon.

French Airplane Makers Protest

PARIS, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—French airplane manufacturers are preparing to protest to the government that the powerful Compagnie International de Navigation Aerienne, known as Cidna, which has a monopoly on the lines from Paris to Central Europe, is placing an order for ten new machines with the Fokker works at Armsterdam.

It is considered the worst blow French airplane makers have suffered in years when one of the largest companies passes up famous native makes to buy abroad. The government is interested because most of the large concerns here are subsidized.

Railroads Hear Federal 'Gimme'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—A move toward requiring payment to the government of excess earnings of three of the country's most important railroads has been started by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The New York Central, Southern, and Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroads were notified that the commission soon will begin hearings to determine the amount the government may claim from them on earnings in the period between 1920 and 1927.

COOLIDGE DIPS TREATY PEN

Documents of Ratification on Kellogg Pact to be Signed Today With Ceremonies

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—A White House ceremony was arranged today by President Coolidge for his formal signing at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning of the document of ratification of the Kellogg treaty pledging the nations of the world to renounce war.

Members of the Senate who yesterday ratified the treaty by a vote of 85 to 1 were invited to attend by Mr. Coolidge, who also will have with him the members of the Cabinet. The ceremony will be held in the East Room of the White House.

Vice-President Dawes announced to the Senate this afternoon that the President had requested him to extend the Senators an invitation to be present at the signing of the document.

DOUBTS RAISED

In the wake of the drawn-out fight in the Senate over an interpretative declaration on the treaty there arose some speculation today as to whether the interpretative report on the treaty finally submitted by the Foreign Relations Committee had not spread on the record a new and stricter construction upon the Monroe Doctrine.

Chairman Borah of the committee who drafted the report, which was not voted upon, took the position that the report limited America's right to interfere in South American affairs only in question of self-defense. It was further contended by some that this is a stricter construction than was adhered to by the Coolidge administration in its Nicaragua policy.

COMMITTEE REPORT

The committee report stated that "the United States regards the Monroe Doctrine as a part of its national security, and defense." Inasmuch as the committee report was accepted by those demanding an interpretation of the treaty as an authoritative construction upon the treaty, there was some speculation as to whether those in doubt about its interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine would seek modification of the report in this respect.

However, Senator Bingham, Republican of Connecticut, one of the group demanding the committee report on the treaty, expressed the view that no modification of the report is necessary. He took the position that the interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine is a question solely for the President and said he did not believe the committee report will or can limit the Chief Executive in the exercise of his duties under it.

The ratification by the Senate of the treaty was followed in the House today by the introduction of a resolution by Representative Korell, Republican, Oregon, to prohibit the exportation of arms, munitions or implements of war to any country which might violate the agreement.

Korell issued a statement in which he declared that the adoption of the resolution would make more effective the outlawry of war.

VETERAN CARE FUNDS LARGER

Nearly Half-Billion Provided for Needs This Year

Appropriation Increased by $13,000,000 Over 1928

Compensation and Insurance to Take Most of Money

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—Almost $500,000,000 will be expended by the United States next year in taking care of the problems of the World War veterans and in the administration of the various functions of the Veterans' Bureau.

An appropriation bill reported to the House today to provide funds for various independent government activities included an item of $499,975,000 for the bureau.

This money will be divided so that $191,450,000 will be for military and naval compensation; $115,250,000 for insurance; $112,000,000 for the adjusted compensation, or bonus fund; $43,500,000 for salaries and bureau expenses; $31,650,000 for medical and hospital services and $6,000,000 for hospitals.

The total amount carried in the bill was $541,314,144, or $13,000,000 more than was supplied for the current year. The increase was largely in the annual allotment for military and naval insurance and hospital facilities.

The $6,000,000 hospital appropriation was designed to carry to completion the hospital building program now authorized. Ten of the hospitals will be completed and ready for use during this year, including the Tucson (Ariz.) recreation building and quarters and Walla Walla (Wash.) new infirmary building.

No longer need a trim, slender figure be your envy. No longer need you face the rigid requirements of harsh dieting methods. Overweight is banished when you banish fattening sweets and eating between meals and light a Lucky. "Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet."

20,679 physicians have confirmed the fact that Lucky Strike is less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes. These professional men realize the value of toasting, the secret process that eliminates impurities and irritants. Lucky Strike is a delightful blend of the world's finest tobaccos. And toasting develops a flavor which is a delightful alternative for fattening sweets.

Many prominent athletes testify that Luckies steady their nerves and do not harm their physical condition. Men have long known this and practiced it successfully. These are the men who watch their health, who keep trim and fit, realizing the dangers of overweight. And now, women may enjoy a companionable smoke with their husbands and brothers—at the same time slenderizing in a sensible manner. That's why folks say: "It's good to smoke Luckies."

A reasonable proportion of sugar in the diet is recommended, but the authorities are overwhelming that too many fattening sweets are harmful and that too many such are eaten by the American people. So, for moderation's sake we say:—

"REACH FOR A LUCKY INSTEAD OF A SWEET."

GOVERNOR GETS POLITICAL SLAP

Speaker Names Committees for State Assembly

Work of Finn and Split With Administration Seen

Angeleno Delegation Given Twelve Chairmanships

BY C. A. JONES

"Times" Staff Representative

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—Verification of the long-awaited break between component parts of the political machine which elected Gov. Young to office came today, when Speaker Levey, a Boss Finn man from San Francisco, announced committee assignments for the session.

No attempt was made to disguise the fact that Finn is in the saddle and seems determined to keep control of the Assembly away from Alexander McCabe, lieutenant of Senator Johnson and guiding star of the Young administration.

Care was exercised, however, by Finn not to permit Gov. Young to make himself out as a "martyr," for administration men are given the chairmanships of the Ways and Means Committee, which went to T. M. Wright, and Revenue and Taxation given to Percy West.

SLAP APPARENT

The outstanding example of the slap at the administration is glaringly apparent when chairmanships assigned the Los Angeles delegation of fifteen are examined. The Los Angeles Assemblymen generally are opposed to the administration. Two years ago, when Finn was in accord with the administration, Los Angeles received only seven chairmanships and two of these went to George Rochester and Clare Woolwine, Kent Parrot adherents, although new members. William M. Byrne, the only other Parrot man from Los Angeles, also was given a chairmanship.

This year, however, twelve chairmanships are given Los Angeles, many of them extremely important, and without differentiating between factional affiliation. Harry Sewell, opposition floor leader last year and therefore left entirely "out in the cold," is made chairman of Judiciary this year, the juiciest of all the plums.

LITTLE RECOGNIZED

Walter Little, ignored last session, is chairman of Pensions, a newly created committee, but recognized as a major issue this year, with the old-age pension bill due for a battle. Harry Lyons, another outsider in 1927, now is chairman of Corporations. Willis Baum, disregarded last session, is chairman of Libraries, while Willard Badham, also ignored previously, is chairman of Introductions of Bills. Jerome Scofield moves up from Commerce and Navigation to chairman of Oil Industries, while James Crawford is promoted from the Civil Service chairmanship to that of State Parks and Grounds.

Fred Roberts continues as chairman of Building and Loan Associations, as Woolwine does of Municipal Corporations, Byrne of Education and Keaton of soldiers' and sailors' affairs. Miss Eleanor Miller of Pasadena, regarded as the only Los Angeles vote the administration can count upon, received no chairmanship in 1927, but was given Public Morals this year. Assemblymen Arnold, Stockwell and McGinley, all new members, do not receive chairmanships, but have important assignments.

SCUDDER GETS POST

Assemblyman Scudder, a supporter of former Gov. Richardson, was totally ignored last session but today was appointed chairman of Fish and Game, a position sought after on all sides. Bradford Crittenden, administration man, was chairman of Reapportionment last session, when that was a live issue and had great weight. This year he finds himself heading a new and untried committee, Social Service. Eugene Rolland is demoted from Insurance to Public Charities, while Harold Cloudman, disregarded before, now receives the choice assignment of Universities chairman.

The foregoing examples are a few of many which tend to show that this is due to be a lively session. The divorce between Finn and McCabe, which began to appear toward the last of the 1927 session, came to the point of actual separation last September when Finn threw his strength against Charles Neumiller in the fight for the chairmanship of the Republican State Central Committee and succeeded in electing Senator Merriam of Long Beach, former Gov. Richardson's stalwart supporter. The general opinion about the capitol now is that the decree has been granted and Finn is earnest in wooing the enemies of the Young administration. In this he has the aid and assistance of Kent Parrot, who is of small consequence, however, as it is understood Parrot is getting out of politics before he is squeezed.

Measure Aimed at Bay Bridge

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16. (AP)—The Golden Gate bridge, projected to span San Francisco Bay between Marin county and San Francisco, may remain no more than a myth if legislation proposed today in the Legislature by Assemblyman Ingels of Mendocino county is enacted.

Assemblyman Ingels submitted a bill to the lower house that repeals the Coombs Act providing for the formation of a joint bridge and highway district under which the Golden Gate bridge district is being formed.

Chamberlain Not to Go to Lords

BIRMINGHAM (Eng.) Jan. 16. (AP) Sir Austen Chamberlain, Foreign Secretary, in a speech here tonight denied rumors that he likely will go to the House of Lords.

He said that as long as he remains in politics he desires to remain in the House of Commons.

Bill Seeks Oil Men Protection

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16. (AP)—All oil well drilling operations in California will be placed under the jurisdiction of the State Mining Bureau as a safety measure if the Legislature approves a bill introduced today by Assemblyman Craig of Brea.

The purpose of Craig's measure is to prevent loss of life and property through careless drilling operations. He declared that some of the accidents that have occurred in the State's largest fields, especially at the Santa Fe Springs field, could have been avoided had precautionary methods been employed.

Two Trainmen Dead in Wreck

IONIA (Mich.) Jan. 16. (AP)—Two trainmen were killed in a wreck on the Pere Marquette Railroad twelve miles north of here tonight.

The dead are William German, 38 years of age, fireman, and Bert Pont, 48, brakeman, both residents of Ionia. Engineer Thomas Humphreys, 60, was pinned in the cab of the overturned engine for nearly two hours, but was only slightly injured. Spreading rails caused the wreck, trainmen say.

TAX MEASURES OFFERED TODAY

Legislative Plan of Handling Program Announced

Rochester Seeks Curbing of Auto-License Bureaus

Levy Exemption Urged for Huntington Library

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—Definite plans concerning the procedure in handling the major tax program were announced today by Senator Nelson of Eureka, chairman of the Senate Revenue and Taxation Committee. The bills, one setting a State tax of 4 per cent on income of banks and certain corporations, the other fixing a rate of either 2 mills or 3 mills per dollar on intangibles, will be introduced in both houses tomorrow morning.

HAIG TO GIVE TALK

Tomorrow night before a joint session of both houses, sitting in the Assembly Chamber as a committee of the whole, Dr. Robert Haig, tax specialist of the State Tax Commission, will explain the measures to the legislators. Adjournment is planned for Friday with the Legislature reconvening February 18 next, with twelve legislative days in which to adopt the bill before March 4, the beginning of the tax year.

It is understood that the clause exempting from the tax those corporations, 95 per cent of whose income is derived from rentals of real estate, must be eliminated as unconstitutional and discriminating against the banks. In its place the commission is struggling to substitute some plan whereby real-estate returns may be deducted by corporations from their gross income.

ROCHESTER'S BILL

On the grounds that the public is being mulcted by so-called motor-vehicle license service bureaus, Senator Rochester today introduced a bill making it a misdemeanor to sell, at higher than the State rate, license plates, drivers' licenses, registration certificates and other motor-vehicle instruments. He stated that the official motor-vehicle department in Los Angeles is surrounded by numerous concerns and individuals, who, for a "service" fee, obtain license plates and certificates for the unwary. The department, he said, is quite capable of furnishing the same service free and does so without the delay encountered in the "service" bureaus. His bill, he added, will in no way conflict with the activities of automobile clubs and business establishments which procure blocks of license plates and distribute them to their members and clients at no increase in cost but merely as a convenience.

BLIZZARDS GRIP NORTH OF EUROPE

Gales Amid Snowstorms Wreck Shipping and Many Perish in Icy Seas

LONDON, Jan. 16. (AP)—Northwestern Europe today was visited by heavy wintry weather. France, Germany, Denmark and Sweden were suffering from gales and snowstorms with much resulting shipping damage and accidents. Britain escaped with light snowfalls.

The stormy seas along the Dutch and Belgian coasts compelled cancellation of some crossings between Ostand and Dover today and further damage was done to the dikes at Middlekerke and Breedene. The latest advices from Rotterdam state that it virtually is certain that the crew of eight of the Hook of Holland lifeboat which put out to assist a distressed vessel have perished.

The Swedish schooner Sophie with a crew of three was lost off the Scandinavian coast.

The crew of twenty-six men of the Norwegian steamer Skolma were rescued by salvage ships and rocket apparatus today after their vessel stranded on the rocks of Bornholm Island, Denmark.

Alienists Plead for Student on Trial as Slayer

ATLANTA, Jan. 16. (AP)—An array of alienists today began the insanity defense of George R. Harsh, former college student, by telling a jury that he could not resist the impulse to commit the crime of murder and robbery charged to him.

The specialists began their story after the State had abruptly rested before the trial of the scion of a wealthy Milwaukee family was well into its second day.

They asserted he did not appreciate the enormity of the crime of slaying Willard Smith, 22-year-old drug clerk, during a hold-up October 16, last, as charged.

Dr Carhart declared Harsh was afflicted physically and mentally from the time artificial feeding was resorted to six weeks after birth.

Coolidge Again Senators' Host

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—For the third time within a week President Coolidge was host today at a Senatorial breakfast party. Twenty-one members of the Senate, nineteen of them Democrats, were his guests.

Those who attended are Bruce of Maryland, Caraway of Arkansas, Copeland of New York, Dill of Washington, Edwards of New Jersey, Glass of Viginia, Hawes of Missouri, Hayden of Arizona, Heflin of Alabama, King of Utah, Mayfield of Texas, Neely of West Virginia, Overman of North Carolina, Reed of Missouri, Steck of Iowa, Thomas of Oklahoma, Tydings of Maryland, Wagner of New York and Walsh of Montana, all Democrats, and Greene of Vermont and Robinson of Indiana, Republicans.

DAKOTANS MAY CHANGE TONGUE

Legislative Bill Designates Language as "American" and Not "English."

BISMARCK (N. D.) Jan. 16. (AP)—North Dakota would join Illinois in having a law specifically designating the language as "American" rather than "English" if a bill now before the Legislature is enacted. The "American language" has been the official language of Illinois for several years.

The resolution, introduced yesterday, also would provide that the history of the United States, as taught in North Dakota schools, "be treated from an American and not an English viewpoint."

EDISON HAS NO TIME TO PLAY BRIDGE

Too Busy With Another Sort of Rubber Game, He Says on Florida Arrival

JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) Jan. 16. (AP)—Other folks may come to Florida for a winter vacation, but not Thomas Alva Edison, who, at almost 82 years of age, will resume work at Fort Myers tomorrow.

The inventor, eager to arrive at his home and scene of his experiments with rubber-producing plants, received newspaper men for a brief period as his train stopped here today.

"I'll start work tomorrow," he said simply, with a twinkle as he puffed a long black cigar. He told one impertinent questioner that he expected to live "a few years more."

To evolve a domestic supply of rubber for this country in case of future wars is the problem now occupying Mr. Edison. He believes he will find the solution.

One inquisitive reporter scribbled the question whether, now that he is nearly 82, Mr. Edison finds his mind as active as ever.

"Yes," was the quick reply. "I can see no difference."

"Have you decided after all to learn to play bridge?"

"Not yet," said the inventor. "I'm too busy playing the rubber game right now."

CURTISS AND ITALIAN JOIN AIR FORCES

Caproni to Handle Making Large Craft for American Plane Builder

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (AP)—Seeing a broadening market for large planes, the Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor Company has joined hands with Gianni Caproni, Italian builder of the planes largely used by American aviators during the war, as a short cut to getting into production of various types of giant land and sea planes.

C. M. Keys, president of the Curtiss company, announced today that his company and Caproni, who is president of the Società Aeroplani Caproni of Milan, had organized a new manufacturing company to build planes here under the designs and rights of the Caproni company.

Where the factory will be, when production will begin and on what scale it will be, Keys said, had not yet been decided, but he estimated that Curtiss was saving about two years by joining forces with Caproni rather than blazing its own trail single-handed.

Bill Proposes Narcotics Chief

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16. (AP)—Creation of the office of chief of narcotic law enforcement in California would be provided in a bill introduced in the upper legislative House today by Senator Crowley of San Francisco.

The position would be independent of the State Board of Pharmacy and the position would be made appointive, Crowley proposes.

Lindbergh Off for New York

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 16. (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh took off from Lambert Field, St. Louis, today for New York City.

He announced before leaving that he has abandoned, for the present, his plan to complete an air survey of the Transcontinental Air Transport Company's proposed route to the Pacific Coast.

RUIN FOR STAGE PAINTED IN BILL

Veteran Producers Plead Before Committee

Divisible Patent Shown as Peril to Theater

Talking Pictures Feared by "Legitimate" Operators

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—A pathetic picture of the present plight of the legitimate stage, including the threat held over it by the development of talking pictures, was painted before the House Patents Committee today by William A. Brady and Arthur Hammerstein, pioneer dramatic producers of Broadway, appearing in an effort to defeat the pending divisible patent bill affecting manuscripts.

After a hearing lasting most of the day the committee suddenly discovered that as it already had reported the bill to the House it was without jurisdiction, and the meeting was terminated abruptly with Lee Shubert, Gene Buck, attorneys for several of the large motion-picture producing companies and others waiting to be heard, all but Shubert in support of the proposed change in the patent law.

BRADY MAKES PLEA

Under the present basic patent law, if a play is run on Broadway three weeks, or shows seventy-five times on the road, the producer receives 50 per cent from the sale of other rights. Brady told the committee it was the prospective profit from these sales that made producers willing to invest capital in untried plays.

The proposed new law, he said, would give producers the right only to stage the play, with the result they would have to seek protection through special contracts and in negotiating these contracts he asserted the producers who are "weak" would be at the mercy of the writers who are "strong."

Mr. Brady has appeared many times before the committee, but never reached the heights he attained today in pleading for defeat of legislation he held would ruin the legitimate theater.

THREE SUCCESSES

He declared only 3 of 200 plays produced this year have been successes, and that twenty large theaters on Broadway now are dark with little prospect of being reopened this year. Bemoaning the birth of talking motion pictures, Brady said that under the proposed new patent law motion-picture producers could use the same dialogue, setting and even the same actors, open up across the street from a legitimate theater on the same day with reduced prices and within a week force the dramatic producer to close his doors.

RIVER TILT ROCKS ARIZONA

State's Senators Battle When Effort is Made to Exclude Gov. Phillips from Dam Issue

PHOENIX, Jan. 16. (AP)—Dropped into the Senate unexpectedly, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1 was introduced at 2 p.m. today by Senator Donnelly of Pima, seeking to declare it the sense of the upper house, with the lower body concurring, that the Colorado River situation is strictly the business of the Legislature and the Attorney-General, except that the Governor be given the right to participate in proceedings and make recommendations.

In brief, the resolution has as its purpose delegating all power in the Colorado River issue to the Legislature and the Attorney-General.

BATTLE BEGINS

The resolution brought a broadside attack from more than one source. Its first result was to incite a furious onslaught against the present Colorado River Commission by Senator St. Charles of Mohave, who declared that if the commission has the right to initiate a suit against the Swing-Johnson bill such right should be taken away immediately.

He pointed out that sixty-eight United States Senators voted for the Swing-Johnson bill and said Arizona's river commission should be shorn of all power to institute court action against the measure.

ANOTHER ATTACK

Senator Favour of Yavapai also attacked the Donnelly resolution, saying the Governor would be held responsible for river action to a large degree. The Donnelly resolution called on the Attorney-General to advise the Legislature as to Arizona's river rights, the constitutionality of the Swing-Johnson bill and other details of the river situation. Favour met this phase of the resolution by saying the Attorney-General already is the adviser of the commission, and that this officer has attended meetings of the commission and advised it as to procedure.

The debate came to a lull after a sudden outburst, and President Hill said the resolution will lie over one day.

UTAH LEGISLATORS DISCUSS SITUATION

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—Arizona's Senate flurry today and yesterday brought much cloakroom and corridor discussion among Utah legislators today, but no definite action crystallized. The general tenor of the gossip, however, was to the effect that Arizona's attitude now augurs well for Utah not having to take further legislative action, by rejoining the six-State pact.

Gov. Dern declined to make any statement on the Arizona row.

NEW VALLEY POWER RATE-SCHEDULE FILED

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16. (AP)—The Southern Sierras Power Company today filed a new schedule of rates with the State Railroad Commission reducing the rates for Imperial Valley consumers in the amount of $90,000 annually.

BAY CITY GAS FIGHT LEADS TO ARRESTS

Three Operators Cited for Selling on License Given to Corporation

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16. (AP)—The gasoline price war reached the stage of arrests today when the operators of a service station were held momentarily on charges of operating without a permit.

Harry Melendy, Homer Smith and John Millu, the operators, were arrested on warrants charging that the station's license was issued to the Standard Oil Company and could not be assigned to the three men when the station was leased to them.

James L. Hanley, owner of an independent service station and signer of the warrants, was condemned by the Independent Retail Service Dealers' Association.

SACRAMENTO DEALERS JOIN TO FIX GAS PRICE

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16. (AP)—After two weeks of price cutting among gasoline dealers in Sacramento a move was made here last night to stabilize the price at 20 cents a gallon.

Forty-five dealers agreed to a plan by which it is hoped to bring the price back to 20 cents. Within the past few days gasoline has sold for prices ranging from 22 cents at company-owned stations down to 13 cents at the privately owned service stations.

Failure Seen in Loan Move of Cattleman

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—Financial officials of the government expressed the opinion today that the move of W. P. Morley, New Mexico cattleman, to have Congress give to borrowers from the War Finance Corporation the profits it made would result in failure.

The corporation, officials explained, was created with a capital of $500,000,000 to operate at cost and there would be no actual profit because the expected $65,000,000 surplus must be used to repay the Treasury for financing the venture. These officials declared that loans to cattlemen during the war resulted in a loss to the corporation.

Mexico Grants Angeleno Huge Oil Concession

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 16. (AP)—Two oil concessions totaling 65,000 acres in the State of Sinaloa have been granted to Augustin Bila of Los Angeles. Bila announced today that the tract already had been explored and that drilling would start after necessary preparations are made in Los Angeles.

It is reported that other large concessions are to be granted soon. Reports that some of the larger companies are preparing to abandon the Mexican field have been categorically denied by company officials.

VITAL FACTOR IN RADIO CITED

Caldwell Tells Vast Service of High-Power Stations

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—O. H. Caldwell, a member of the Federal Radio Commission, testified before the House Merchant Marine Committee today that high-power stations are essential for radio reception by 40,000,000 persons in the United States.

The commissioner was being cross-examined on the White bill to extend the life of the Radio Commission for a year. Caldwell said that under the present law radio broadcasting is divided into local, regional and clear channel divisions, and if high-power stations and clear channels are removed all distant listeners, including farmers, will not be able to get satisfactory radio reception.

Idaho Governor Promotes Parley

BOISE (Idaho) Jan. 16. (AP)—Governors of eight States have been asked by Gov. Baldridge to join him in a petition to the Interstate Commerce Commission to hold a meeting of the commission in Salt Lake or some other western city in order that a number of western questions pending may be taken up without so much expense in traveling to Washington to present the case.

He cited a statute providing that the commission can meet any place in the country.

States whose Governors are asked to join in the application are Utah, Oregon, Washington, California, Wyoming, Montana, Nevada and Arizona.

SHIPPING BOARD PLANS COST CUT

Research Contemplated to Improve Vessels

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—The Shipping Board has laid plans for an extensive research and development program to study the means of improving engines and hulls of ships to increase their speed and reduce their operating costs. These were outlined to the house House appropriations subcommittee at hearings on the independent offices appropriation bill by commissioner H. I. Cone, a retired rear-admiral of the Navy.

The study would be made under four general heads -combustion, machinery, propulsion and operation. Experiments would be made by using ordinary oil for motor ships, and pulverized coal in steamers.

POWER BOOKLET GIVEN SCRUTINY

Federal Inquiry Resumed on Utilities' Activity

Magazine's Editor Tells of Disputed Pamphlet

Witness Unable to Clear Payment Issue

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—The history of a pamphlet dealing with the Canadian government-owned power project in Ontario, previously identified as published by the Smithsonian Institution and subsequently repudiated by it, occupied today's renewal of the Federal Trade Commission's investigation of public utility power interests.

The subject was revived with the testimony of William H. Onken, Jr., editor of the Electrical World, New York, who was asked concerning earlier testimony by another witness that the pamphlet was prepared in 1924 by S. S. Myer at the instance of the National Electric Light Association: Onken related today that Myer had submitted the manuscript to him for checking as to statements of fact, and that he had gone over it with the author before publication. A request for such action had been made to him by M. H. Aylesworth, then managing director of the N.E.L.A., and now president of the National Broadcasting Company, he said, adding that his activities regarding the pamphlet had been confined to an hour's scanning of the copy.

Onken said he did not know whether Myer had received $3000 from the N.E.L.A., to do the work.

Robert E. Healy, commission counsel, questioned Onken briefly about the Electrical World. The editor said about one-third of his publication's 20,000 circulation is in utilities circles, and that it has opposed municipal ownership and operation of utilities "by and large."

COAL BILL FOES MAKE CHARGES

Operators Say Bituminous Plan Unconstitutional

Property Held Illegally Taken from Owners

Measure Attacked as Being Indirect in Purpose

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—Coal operators appearing before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee today reinforced their opposition to the bituminous coal bill supported by the United Mine Workers with testimony that the measure is unconstitutional and tyrannical with respect to property rights.

The contention that the bill would delegate unwarranted power to the commission to be created under it was made by Alfred M. Liveright, counsel for the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers' Association, who said that rather than aid the bituminous coal industry the measure actually is intended to "safeguard the rights and position of the United Mine Workers."

"More particularly does it antagonize the fifth article of the Federal Constitution, in that, followed to its logical conclusion, it deprives persons, firms and corporations of their property without due process of law," he said.

"By indirection the proposed bill seeks to do what palpably it cannot constitutionally accomplish directly, that is, to regulate the production of coal at the mines and in the pits, a purely State function under all the authorities. It is hardly necessary to cite cases to show that the Congress cannot do by indirection what it is forbidden to do directly."

LAST CENT PAID TO FIND DEATH

Young Newspaper Man Rents Hotel Room in Seattle and Turns on Gas

SEATTLE, Jan. 16. (AP)—Leaving notes indicating he had paid for his death chamber with his last penny, Cullen B. Fare, 27 years of age, correspondent for a Sacramento newspaper, is believed by police to have committed suicide at his hotel room here early yesterday. Another note, addressed to his mother, Mrs. Anne B. Fare of Tyler, Tex., declared he was "tired of living."

Occupants of the hotel who smelled gas escaping from the room summoned police, who found Fare dead.

RAILWAYS ORDERED TO SET NEWSPRINT RATE

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (AP)—J. B. Campbell, Interstate Commerce Commissioner, at a joint hearing today before his commission and the Public Service Commission into railroad rates on newsprint, directed the railroads to set a definite rate. If they do not, he declared, the Interstate Commerce Commission will do so.

NEW MEXICAN BILL IN OFFING

Box Measure Substitute May be Presented

Quota-Curb Legislation Discussed Again

Backers Working Hard to Put Through Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—Restriction of Mexican immigration was discussed again by the House Immigration Committee today at a meeting, which wound up with a statement by Chairman Albert Johnson, Washington, that he regarded the Box bill, placing Mexico on a quota basis, as the unfinished business before the committee.

The committee is called to meet again tomorrow and although no notice to the effect was given, it is probable the Mexican question will receive attention.

It is becoming increasingly evident that proponents of Mexican expulsion are seeking by every means to obtain favorable action by the House committee to match the advance they won in the Senate immigration group, headed by Senator Johnson of California, which reported out a twin measure to the Box bill, sponsored by Senator Harris of Georgia just before the Christmas recess.

SUBSTITUTE BILL LIKELY

It was reported today that a substitute bill likely will be offered the House committee. The only member known to have definite ideas on a substitute is Chairman Johnson, who has a plan for restricting Mexican immigration along lines even more severe than those proposed in the Box-Harris measure. Unless he has changed his views since the campaign Mr. Johnson would permit only one Mexican to enter for every citizen of the United States emigrating for permanent residence to Mexico each year. This would reduce Mexican immigration to the vanishing point as would the Box bill, too, from any practical labor standpoint, since it would permit entry only of about 3000 a year.

ENTRIES REDUCED

Restrictionists forces have shown signs of increased activity as the present "short" session has begun to wane and particularly since word that the State Department, which is opposed to any immediate tinkering with the Mexican immigration situation, inaugurated a more rigid censorship of Mexican visas to demonstrate that restriction is not necessary. As the result of the State Department's new policy Mexican entries were reduced by one-fourth during November and it is said figures for December and January, when complete, will show even more effective results toward reducing the influx and confining it to desirable types of Mexicans entering the United States to take up helpful pursuits, such as the work they perform for farmers in California and other sections of the Southwest.

MEXICO STRIVES TO CURB EXODUS

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—The Mexican government continues to study with seriousness the question of retaining its citizens at home as the United States is studying various proposed quota restrictions toward Mexico. Acting Secretary of the Interior Canales in a statement declares that Mexico considers the question of emigration of its workers to the United States of the utmost importance, and that President Portes Gil is determined that a practical and permanent solution shall be made of this question, having for that reason instructed the secretaries of the Interior, Foreign Affairs, Treasury and Industry, Commerce and Labor that they should work jointly and in harmony to bring about a solution of the problem and adopt such measures as are deemed necessary to prevent the yearly exodus of Mexican workers to the United States.

MANY EMIGRATE

Close to 100,000 workers emigrated to the United States during 1928, in the estimation of Secretary Canales. Discussing the subject, which of late has become one of paramount importance for Mexico, Canales said that the government's records show that since 1910, World War years excluded, Mexican emigrants to the United States have increased steadily.

Canales estimates that a large proportion of last year's emigrants left the country clandestinely. Inadequate frontier control on the part of both countries is held responsible for this by Canales.

REASON GIVEN

Another reason for this exodus is increased American wages offered Mexican laborers who are content to migrate, especially at the cotton-picking season in the Southern States for three or four months, save up their earnings and return to their homes, refusing in a majority of cases to work, passing their time spending their wages and preparing for next year's similar journey.

Canales's explanation follows closely a statement from Acting Foreign Secretary Estrada in which he considers the Harris quota bill as impracticable, tending to increase rather than to decrease illegal travel between both countries, and in which he explains that Mexico is in sympathy with any movement that will keep its citizens within its own borders.

STUDENT IN KANSAS MENINGITIS VICTIM

LAWRENCE (Kan.) Jan. 16. (AP)—Harold Hughey, Linwood (Kan.) junior in the University of Kansas, died in a hospital here today from cerebro-spinal meningitis. Hughey, a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity, was taken ill Monday. His fraternity house and the Alpha Omicron Pi sorority house, where he attended a party Saturday, are under quarantine.

SUSPECT LINKED WITH HOLD-UP IN COLORADO

BUFFALO, Jan. 16. (AP)—Clyde Roberts, held by Buffalo police for Texas authorities on a series of charges, was identified today as one of a gang that held up a bank in Lamar, Colo., last May, shot and killed the president and his son, and kidnaped a teller. The identification was made by Chief of Police Harper of Colorado Springs.

Supreme Court Grants Retrial

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16. (AP)—W. D. Smith, former City Treasurer of Imperial, now serving an indeterminate sentence in San Quentin prison for embezzling $248 of city funds, was granted a new trial by the State Supreme Court today.

The court based its action upon affidavits filed by the jurors who tried Smith in November, 1927. The jurors explained that they were led to believe by the trial court that Smith would be granted probation by it. They later discovered, the affidavits state, the trial judge had no probationary powers.

PARAGUAY WILL HELP FARMERS DUE TO WAR

ASUNCION (Paraguay) Jan. 16. (AP)—The Paraguayan government decided today to set aside 25,000,000 pesos credits to farmers who are unable to harvest their grain because of the absence of farm hands in the army mobilized recently in the dispute with Bolivia. The government also is trying to demobilize the farmers as quickly as possible.

TARIFF ON ARMS URGED BY ARMY

War Department Makes Plea Before Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—The War Department took a hand in the tariff-making business of the House Ways and Means Committee today, entering a plea on national defense grounds that protection be given private small-arms manufacturers.

Lieut.-Col. Townsend Whelen of the ordnance department, appearing at the request of the Secretary of Work, told the committee during hearings on the metals schedule that the government is absolutely dependent on private manufacture of small arms, and any increase in duties, provided they do not raise prices, would "redound very greatly to the national defense."

Col. Whelen said the Army is planning to conduct tests next summer with a new automatic rifle, which, if found successful, will be used by the Army instead of the present Springfield rifle.

GASPARRI GETS ACCORD CREDIT

Papal Secretary of State Directed Negotiations

Italy-Vatican Pact Will be Feather in His Cap

Cardinal Told by Pontiff to Arrange Agreements

ROME, Jan. 16. (AP)—It was revealed today that Cardinal Gasparri, Papal secretary of state, was instructed by Pope Pius to direct all negotiations for solution of the Roman question and that indeed, the negotiations were conducted according to the cardinal's plans by Mgr. Borgongini Duca, secretary of extraordinary affairs at the Vatican, and Mgr. Pacelli.

The fundamental basis of discussion between the negotiations of the agreement for solution of the long-pending problem was a project for conciliation which Cardinal Gasparri drew up as long ago as 1918 when it was submitted to the then Premier Orlando during the Paris peace conference.

CODE METHOD USED

At that time Pope Benedict thought that the peace treaty after the World War presented a good opportunity also for bringing about a reconciliation between church and state in Italy.

In order to avoid having the negotiations with the Papacy leak out, Premier Orlando several times went to the hotel-apartment occupied by Signor Brambilla, a member of the Italian delegation to the peace conference, where he was welcomed by Signora Brambilla, formerly Miss Julia Meyer, daughter of George Von Lenderke Meyer, former American Ambassador to Rome, and one-time Secretary of the Navy.

There Premier Orlando and the Papal representative discussed the Gasparri plan thoroughly, and communicated with the Vatican in code about some changes which had been introduced.

PLANS DISRUPTED

After this the plan was approved by both sides, but the Orlando Cabinet fell and the negotiations were not resumed.

During the present negotiations Cardinal Gasparri has been most useful to both parties, especially because of his vast and profound juridical knowledge. Vatican circles therefor consider that if the solution of the Roman question definitely is accepted by the Pope and Premier Mussolini, it will represent a great victory for the cardinal who then will rank next to Cardinal Consalvi, who concluded the concordat with Napoleon in 1801, as among the most celebrated of the Papal diplomats.

Robbers Take Hamilton Bust

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (Exclusive) The police were asked today to find Alexander Hamilton. The bronze bust of the illustrious Secretary of the Treasury was stolen some time Tuesday night from the Hall of Fame.

The sizable piece of metal was abstracted from the colonnade of the American immortals at New York University while four university night watchmen were on duty and while all about prowled Commissioner Whalen's re-energized policemen ostensibly detecting and preventing crime.

New Marriage Law Introduced

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16. (AP)—A certificate of health as well as a marriage license would be required of all prospective brides and grooms under the provisions of a bill introduced today by Assemblyman J. V. Scofield of Huntington Beach.

The bill makes it mandatory that persons desiring to marry first obtain from a physician a health certificate showing them to be in good physical condition. Similar measures have been introduced before in the Legislature but never passed out of committee.

Syndicalism Act Repeal Proposed

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16. (AP)—A renewed attempt to repeal the Criminal Syndicalism Act, passed several years ago, was made today with the introduction of a bill in the Legislature by Assemblyman Hornblower.

Hornblower has made similar attempts during the past four sessions on the contention that the law is "unfair, unjust and a black eye to California."

The law was passed to curb activities of organizations obviously formed for criminal purposes.

Mrs. Durant Gets After Alimony

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16. (AP)—A writ of execution in behalf of Mrs. Pearl Durant against her divorced husband, R. C. Durant, automobile magnate, under which Durant will be compelled to pay $16,800, was forwarded by the local Superior Court today to Los Angeles.

The alimony has accrued, it is asserted, since June 10, 1910, at a rate of $75 per month.

EX-HUSBAND KILLS WOMAN

NEW RAILROAD SUPPORTED

Southern Pacific Executive Admits Gateways Into San Joaquin Valley Are Overcrowded

FRESNO, Jan. 16.—Testimony that both the northern and southern gateways to the San Joaquin Valley on the Southern Pacific lines are overcrowded, and that one of the reasons why much of the San Joaquin Valley remains undeveloped is lack of adequate rail facilities, were among the highlights of testimony at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing here today on the application of the Western Pacific Railroad for a permit to build into the valley.

V. S. Andrus, assistant to the vice-president of the Southern Pacific Line, who was recalled to the stand for cross-examination by Western Pacific counsel, said rail traffic now overcrowds the Southern Pacific gateways to the valley.

"The thing that has held back development of the territory through which the proposed Western Pacific Line is to run, is, first, it has been held in large holdings by the cattle interests, and secondly, because it has not been afforded adequate rail facilities," was the testimony of Neils Searls, soil expert and land appraiser for the Federal Land Bank at Berkeley.

J. J. Deuell, manager of the utilities department of the California Farm Bureau Federation, testified that the federation is opposed to the extension of the Western Pacific, and at the same time testified that he had not been authorized to speak for the federation. He said that members of the federation look to the State Railroad Commission for service they need, rather than to obtain it through competition.

In the event the Western Pacific Line is authorized by the Interstate Commission, Fresno county will demand a separation of grades wherever the line crosses a paved public highway, the County Supervisors indicated today.

JURY HOLDS GIRL DIED FROM DRUG

Twilight Sleep and Lack of Water Blamed in Death of Home Inmate

ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.) Jan. 16. (AP)—A Coroner's jury today found that Helen Haskew, 18-year-old inmate of the New Mexico Girls' Welfare Home, died from "lack of water and an injection of twilight sleep administered by Dr. Evelyn F. Frisbie and Miss Bertha Lips, superintendent of the institution."

The girl was one of six who escaped from the home last week and were recaptured Friday.

Testimony at the inquest revealed that the girls were placed in cells, on a bread and water diet, and on Saturday night all were given an injection of twilight sleep by Dr. Frisbie, after they had created a disturbance in their cells.

The Haskew girl whose home was at Portales, N. M., died Sunday afternoon and Miss Lips testified that Dr. Frisbie named heart disease as the cause of her death.

The report of the institution officials, following the girl's death, gave heart disease as the cause, but an inquest was held at the request of her father.

Others of the six girls testified that they had been given the injections, and one stated that she would "have refused to take it, only there were two deputy sheriffs there." They testified that they felt sick after the injections and that they had only bread and water to eat and drink.

Rare Painting Admitted Free

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16. (AP)—The custom house here today admitted duty-free a picture brought here from Germany as an authentic painting by Raphael and valued at $250,000. If a copy the picture would be taxed 20 per cent. The picture is owned by Messrs. Ludke of Munich, and Bach of Hamburg.

W. G. Reed, art expert for the customhouse, said he believes the picture to be the "Madonna Di Gaeta, or Madonna of Munich," painted on wood by Raphael as a copy of his own "Madonna Della Casa D'Alba," which was painted in 1509. Customs experts say there are only three other genuine Raphaels in the United States.

Lethal Gas May Displace Noose

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16. (AP)—Execution of condemned murderers in lethal gas chamber instead of on gallows in California is provided for in a bill prepared for introduction by Assemblyman Kleine of San Jacinto.

Kleine declares that hanging is a "relic of barbarism" and that Nevada has passed its experimental stage with its lethal gas system of execution and should be followed by California in abolishing the "gruesome scaffold."

Retention of Moffett Urged

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—The board of governors of the National Aeronautic Association today adopted a resolution urging the Secretary of the Navy to reappoint Rear-Admiral William A. Moffett for another term as chief of the Navy Aeronautical Bureau.

The resolution said Moffett's organization is now the best of its kind in the world and that he should be continued in office during the five-year-building program which has been authorized.

Credited With Possessing Majority of Proxies in Standard Oil of Indiana

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (Exclusive) John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has won the fight for control of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana from its administration, according to one of New York's outstanding petroleum authorities, who is close to the affairs of the industry, says the Herald-Tribune.

At present it is understood Mr. Rockefeller is assured of proxies from 35 to 40 per cent of the outstanding 9,231,540 shares of $25 par value stock, held by estates, trust funds and banks which were part of the old Standard Oil group, as well as by foundations.

It was asserted today as quite likely that Mr. Rockefeller will announce that he has more than 51 per cent of the voting proxies some time before the meeting of the company on March 7.

The NEW Majestic RADIO

THE WORLD'S GREATEST RADIO VALUE

IT'S HERE. The new Majestic Electric Radio, as far in advance of the radio industry as were the two Majestic models introduced in Southern California last June, is now on display in the show rooms of more than 250 authorized Majestic dealers in Southern California and Arizona. The two new Majestic models now being shown are, in every way, typically Majestic. They are just what you would expect as the product of a manufacturer who, a few short months ago, shook the radio industry to its very foundations by producing a complete electric console radio that sold for nearly $200 less than any comparable equipment on the market.

Majestic has always been a radio that was months ahead of the field. This new Majestic will bring to you features, exclusively Majestic now, that you will find in most of the high grade receivers of 1930. A year ahead of the industry in appearance, performance and low price...Majestic Electric Radio will be, in 1929, as great a sensation as was the Majestic Radio of 1928.

Majestic Electric Radio has always been a product that mere words could not describe. Descriptive adjectives...glowing superlatives, failed of their purpose when used as a means of telling people what they could expect of this sensational radio value. And the new Majestic receivers are just as outstanding in performance in comparison with other radio receivers as were the Majestic receivers introduced last year. Words cannot describe the beauty of the new Majestic cabinets...the peerless performance of the improved seven tube Majestic receiving circuit...the amazingly true-to-life tone of the Majestic Dynamic Power Speaker that is self contained in all Majestic receivers.

You must see the new Majestic with your own eyes...hear it with your own ears...to realize that its manufacturers have really accomplished the seemingly impossible by producing a new Majestic that is better, in every way, than the Majestic Electric Radio which was the sensation of the radio industry in 1928. Call on your nearest Majestic dealer today.

MYSTERY LIFTS ON RUTH CHILD

Girl Born in Massachusetts Hospital, Says Report

No Murder Connected With Burning of Wife

Hatchet Now Buried by Both Family and Ball Player

BOSTON, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—The mists of mystery that for six years have beclouded the real identity of the child, known as Dorothy Helen Ruth, who calls Babe Ruth "daddy," began to clear here today when it was revealed that Mrs. Babe Ruth was a patient in the maternity ward of Forest Hills (Mass.) hospital late in 1921.

A man, a reputable citizen of this city, whose name cannot be disclosed at this time, has informed the authorities that he was a patient in the hospital in October, 1921, and that during his stay he learned that a child had been born there to Mrs. Ruth. The nurses, excited over the presence of the wife of the famous ball player, told him that the Ruths had been presented with a baby girl.

Three days after the birth, according to this latest report, the child was taken from the hospital. But the birth was never recorded, and Edward W. McGlennon, City Registrar, will launch an investigation tomorrow.

If this information is substantiated by the official investigation, Dorothy Helen, now in the Convent of the Assumption, in Wellesley, will not be adopted by the family of her mother, the Woodfords, of South Boston, and she will be made the legal heiress of Mrs. Ruth, who left about $20,000.

NO MURDER IN CASE

Reports that Mrs. Ruth, who died in a fire in the home of Dr. Edward W. Kinder at Watertown last Friday, was the victim of a murder plot, were dispelled definitely today by the final autopsy report of Medical Examiner George B. MacGrath to Dist.-Atty. Bushnell of Middlesex county.

"There was no murder in this case," Bushnell said tonight after the body of Mrs. Ruth was released at the morgue for burial, "and death was caused by burning. Defective wiring and the overloading of wires, perhaps the hook-up of a radio set, started the fire."

Maj. Judson Hannigan, the attorney who has been retained by William Woodford, brother of the dead woman, to "protect the rights of the family" tonight said that the Woodfords are satisfied with the findings of the medical examiner.

There were no indications that Mrs. Ruth ever had been a drug user, Dr. MacGrath said.

NOT LEGALLY ADOPTED

Hannigan, speaking for the Woodfords, declared a belief that Dorothy Ruth is not the daughter of the ball player and Mrs. Ruth but was taken from a Brooklyn protectorate and was never legally adopted.

But the fire-seared remains of Mrs. Ruth, whose death provoked a bitter feud between her husband and her family were returned tonight to a house of peace. When an undertaker's wagon drew up at the Woodford residence, her mother and sisters watched quietly.

"The hatchet is buried," William Woodford, Mrs. Ruth's brother said. While plans went forward for the funeral tomorrow afternoon from the family home, a mass Friday morning in the parish church, and burial in Calvary Cemetery, Forest Hills, the Woodfords retracted the harsh words they had been uttering about the famous ball player.

BITTERNESS PASSED

"The Babe is all right," Woodford said tonight. "We want to cooperate with him. He has always been friendly with us, and we believe he has done the right thing. In the excitement after my sister's death, it appeared we had a misunderstanding. But when the shock has passed off it will be seen that we are fully friendly."

Neither Woodford nor the family lawyer, Hannigan, credited with patching up the breach, would say why the Woodfords turned on the Bambino after Mrs. Ruth's body was identified as the pseudo Mrs. Kinder.

After the funeral which both Ruth and Dorothy Helen probably will attend, the Woodfords will confer with Babe at his hotel.

"This will be an altogether friendly conference," Hannigan said, "and all of the affairs of Mrs. Ruth which affect her family will be threshed out in an amicable fashion."

Mrs. Ruth's sister is anxious to give the child the same loving care and attention which Mrs. Ruth has given her from babyhood and in that desire there is every reason to believe that they will have the cooperation of the Babe.

HELEN TO KEEP UP TENNIS

"Poker Face" Racquet Star Finds Her Tongue to Tell of Joy in Being Engaged

OAKLAND, Jan. 16. (AP)—Helen Wills lost her poker face today and found her tongue.

Perhaps the poker feature was merely hidden beneath the smiles and blushes with which the famous tennis star acknowledged congratulations on her engagement, announced by her parents yesterday.

By no means loquacious the Berkeley girl, however, did unfold some of her plans for the future, which she envisages as a triune career of matrimony, tennis and artistic endeavor with none of them interfering with the other.

Although Miss Wills and her mother, Mrs. Clarence A. Wills, both said there will be no hurry about the wedding, the daughter said she can not see how it possibly can interfere with her tennis. Besides, both Miss Wills and her fiance, Fred S. Moody, Jr., San Francisco broker, are young. She is 23 years of age and Moody is 24.

Miss Wills told her plans to friends as she was inspecting the new Oakland Women's Athletic Club. She said she intends to finish her education at the University of California. She intends to go ahead with her painting. She may continue to write. She will play tennis "as long as I can hold a racquet." And then, when the time comes, maybe a year from now, she says she hopes to make a good wife.

As for the fortunate Mr. Moody, he possibly will improve his tennis game. As a tennis player Miss Wills said Mr. Moody is not so good. But he is handsome and she loves him.

It was about a year ago that Moody's interest in tennis increased noticeably. He began taking lessons, three a week, at the California Tennis Club in San Francisco. He improved after a few months until he was known as a "fair" player. Miss Wills does most of her practicing at the California Club courts, but so far as known she never has been on the courts with Moody.

It was a busy day at the home of Dr. C. A. Wills in Berkeley. There were many telephone calls. One of them was from a London newspaper, which spent more than two minutes getting an interview from Helen. Her engagement was first-page news in London, where one paper carried the headline, "Helen Wills—23 love."

Mr. Moody was not saying anything today.

BANKER CAUGHT IN PARIS CRASH MISSING

PARIS, Jan. 16. (AP)—Baron Fernand Pacquement, a banker who was caught in the collapse of the Gazette Du Franc bubble, is missing. The courts have ordered his bank closed, finding that it owes more than $1,500,000 to investors.

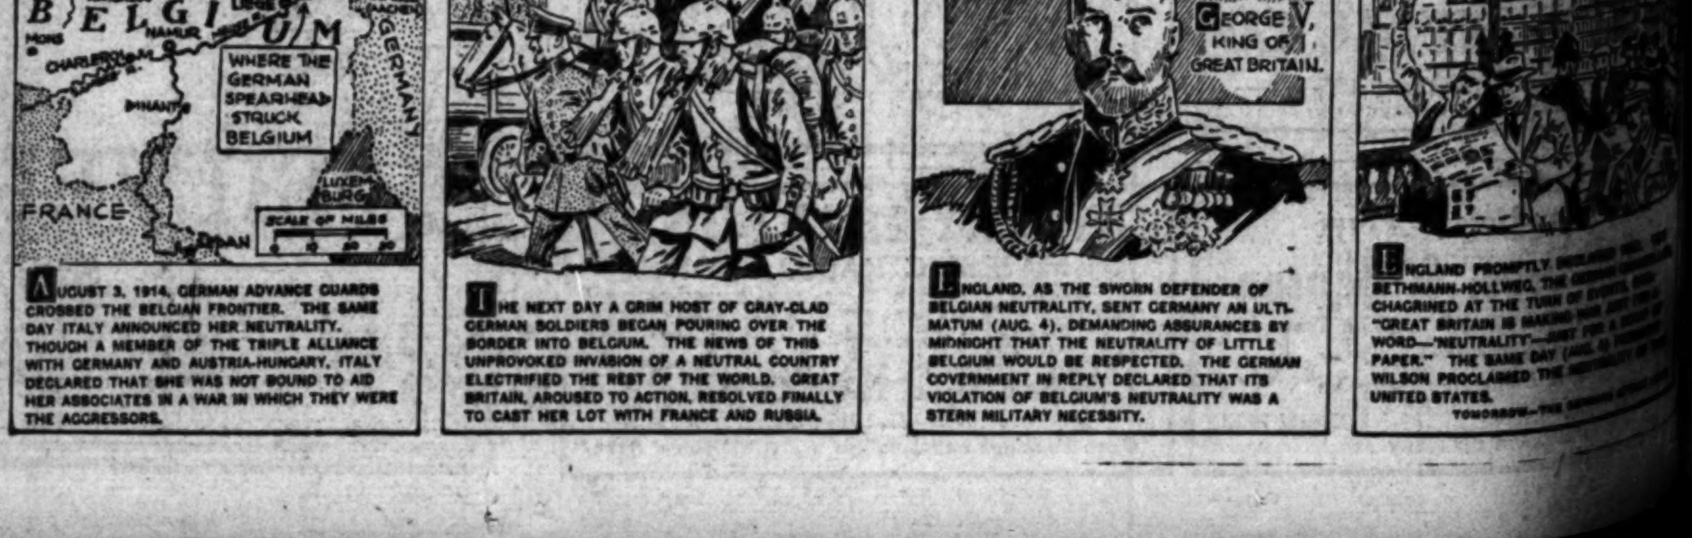
The Story of the World War

X—Germans Invade Belgium, England Enters the War

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD



© 1928, McCLURE NEWSPAPER SYNDICATE

AUGUST 3, 1914, GERMAN ADVANCE GUARDS CROSSED THE BELGIAN FRONTIER. THE SAME DAY ITALY ANNOUNCED HER NEUTRALITY. THOUGH A MEMBER OF THE TRIPLE ALLIANCE WITH GERMANY AND AUSTRIA-HUNGARY, ITALY DECLARED THAT SHE WAS NOT BOUND TO AID HER ASSOCIATES IN A WAR IN WHICH THEY WERE THE AGGRESSORS.

THE NEXT DAY A GRIM HOST OF GRAY-CLAD GERMAN SOLDIERS BEGAN POURING OVER THE BORDER INTO BELGIUM. THE NEWS OF THIS UNPROVOKED INVASION OF A NEUTRAL COUNTRY ELECTRIFIED THE REST OF THE WORLD. GREAT BRITAIN, AROUSED TO ACTION, RESOLVED FINALLY TO CAST HER LOT WITH FRANCE AND RUSSIA.

ENGLAND, AS THE SWORN DEFENDER OF BELGIAN NEUTRALITY, SENT GERMANY AN ULTIMATUM (AUG. 4), DEMANDING ASSURANCES BY MIDNIGHT THAT THE NEUTRALITY OF LITTLE BELGIUM WOULD BE RESPECTED. THE GERMAN GOVERNMENT IN REPLY DECLARED THAT ITS VIOLATION OF BELGIUM'S NEUTRALITY WAS A STERN MILITARY NECESSITY.

ENGLAND PROMPTLY BETHMANN-HOLLWEG, THE CHAGRINED AT THE TURN OF "GREAT BRITAIN IS MAKING WORD—'NEUTRALITY'— PAPER." THE SAME DAY WILSON PROCLAIMED THE UNITED STATES.

TOMORROW—

GENERAL MOTORS TRUCKS

Now add "STRAIGHT RATING" TO These ADVANCEMENTS:

1. A COMPLETE LINE OF TRULY MODERN VEHICLES
2. EXTRA VALUE INSTEAD OF "EXCESS ALLOWANCES"
3. A REAL WORK TEST OFFER

PLEDGED TO BETTER DELIVERY for
1 SAFER STREETS
2 LESS TRAFFIC CONGESTION
3 MORE ECONOMICAL DELIVERY

THERE should be no vagueness, no need for hedging, when a truck-maker (through his sales representative) says to a truck-buyer:

"Here, sir, is a truck that will handle your work with efficiency and economy."

Information should be definite, accurate. Only then can the investment be wisely considered, or the co-operation between maker and buyer of real benefit to either.

• • • •

Hereafter all General Motors Trucks will be described, and sold, on the exact basis of STRAIGHT RATINGS—instead of the customary "capacity" ton figures which have become inexact and misleading.

For every model the total allowable weight, including load, will be given and unqualifiedly guaranteed. That total allowable gross weight will be the tonnage under which the truck will give its best and most economical performance, year in, year out.

Chassis weight will be known. Exact weights of all body types will be known. Advance knowledge as to maximum pay-load capacity of any model equipped with any given body will be mathematically accurate.

Actual requirements of work to be done by a truck will thus really govern its selection. The buyer using a comparatively light weight type of body will not have to buy and maintain more "capacity" than he needs. The buyer requiring a body of heavier type will not have to risk cancellation of his guarantee, high maintenance, or shortened life of his truck, through overloading.

For the first time it becomes possible to provide tire-equipment exactly suited to the work—and therefore possible to effect a new degree of tire economy in operation.

• • • •

This step forward is made necessary because of penalties hidden in the old terms: "one ton", "two ton", etc. On the market today are "one ton" trucks with differences in chassis weights as high as 1,500 pounds. In the larger "capacities" still greater variances exist. Between various types of bodies weight-differences of half-a-ton are not uncommon. These discrepancies make it difficult to match a truck to its job with any efficiency at all.

• • • •

Every General Motors Truck in the complete line is modern in the strictest sense; designed, engineered and built to meet modern conditions with something more than past standards of economy. Their list prices contain no "water" to permit unsound trade-in allowances. They provide extra value instead of "excess allowances".

A real Work Test is offered, backing every statement made about any General Motors Truck.

That is why it will pay you, now more than ever, to investigate what General Motors has before you buy. Even the man who is not yet considering new equipment will find great value in applying these new standards of truck measurement, now.

A Pledge In Action, Now:

ROBINSON SCANS BUSINESS SKIES

First National Head Heard at Annual Bank Meeting

International Situation Held Showing Improvement

Says Past Year in Local Area Generally Satisfactory

International, national and local business conditions were commented upon yesterday by Henry M. Robinson, president of the Los Angeles-First National Trust and Savings Bank in addressing the annual meeting of stockholders. After the conclusion of the meeting Mr. Robinson announced the election of two new directors to fill vacancies caused by resignations. All other directors were re-elected.

Richard Bard, of Hueneme, and John P. Burke, vice-president of the bank, are the two new directors. They replace Charles A. Meyer, president of the Los Angeles Soap Company, and F. Q. Story, retired capitalist, who resigned. Mr. Burke is a former director who retired temporarily from the board recently.

PROGRESS SLOWED UP

In outlining the international situation in his annual address, Mr. Robinson pointed out that the United States has advanced $1,425,000,000 to foreign countries during the past year, but that the return of a portion of this money to the New York stock market has retarded the stabilization of Europe. He added, however, that no serious recessions have developed, and in most European countries some improvement in economic conditions has occurred. International trade, on the whole, continued at somewhat better levels than in 1927.

American loans totaling about $1,425,000,000 have been of effective assistance, Mr. Robinson observed, in the further recovery of European countries.

"The extraordinary condition in the stock markets in the United States during the most of the year 1928, with its demand for the use of credits, has resulted," he said, "in extremely high interest rates and this, in turn, has moved some of these advances back to this country, particularly to New York, for use in the stock market. This movement in the New York market has, of course, been hurtful to further improvements abroad.

NEW SURVEY LAUNCHED

"The question of reparations is again being agitated and a committee of experts, unofficial in character, will undertake a further study of the problem, with the hope that a final solution may be reached. It is a problem which, if solved at all, will not be solved to the satisfaction of each and all of the various nations interested. The plan to undertake such a solution has materialized earlier than was expected."

With reference to national conditions, Mr. Robinson mentioned the prosperity in such lines as iron and steel, copper, motor and motor equipment, building, retail chain stores and farm machinery. Other

GLOBE GRAIN NET PROFITS DECREASE

Earnings for Six Months Decline 8 Per Cent from Previous Period

Earnings of the Globe Grain and Milling Company for the six months ended December 31, last, amounted to $327,464.95, as against $355,923.78 for the same period in the previous year, a decrease of $28,458.83, or about 8 per cent, O. H. Morgan, president, announced yesterday.

After setting up reserves for depreciation and allowing for dividends on the preferred stock, the six months' earnings available for dividends on the common stock were slightly in excess of 8 per cent per annum, Mr. Morgan stated.

Sales for the half-year aggregated $10,732,287.14, as compared with $11,729,905.27 for the corresponding period of the previous year, a decrease of $996,618.13, or approximately 9 per cent.

In the six months' period the price of wheat declined 33 cents per bushel. Flour prices dropped about $1.60 a barrel reaching the lowest point since 1924, he pointed out.

Officials, Mr. Morgan said, consider the earnings very satisfactory in view of the conditions under which the company was compelled to operate. All of the principal products manufactured by the company steadily declined in price. As the full decline of the market has been reflected in the inventory values at the present closing, the company is now in the most favorable position to reap the benefits of any improvement in the market, he added.

Iron and Steel Meeting Called

Four Los Angeles men have been chosen to speak at the fifth annual conference of iron, steel and allied industries of the California Development Association at Del Monte from the 24th to 26th inst., inclusive, it was reported yesterday. The speakers include Orra E. Monnette, vice-chairman of the board of directors of the Bank of Italy; F. J. Twaits, chairman of the building code committee of the California Development Association; Waller Taylor, president, Consolidated Steel Corporation, and Carroll A. Stillson, chairman of the Southern foundry group of the conference.

More than 200 industrial leaders from every section of the State are expected to attend the conference, which is held in co-operation with the chambers of commerce of Los Angeles, Oakland and San Francisco. Several authorities from Washington and other eastern centers are also listed among the speakers.

Status of Local Trade Improves

Although collections continue slow, wholesalers report that business so far this month has been very satisfactory and beyond expectations with the women's apparel trade looking for a good spring business, having been aided last week by the large attendance at the style show, according to the weekly summary of conditions about Los Angeles conducted by the Bradstreet Company.

The balance of the report is devoted to the petroleum industry, in which it is pointed out that the week's production of oil has held steady, while exports from the harbor have declined. Attention is drawn to the tendency on the part of major companies to dispose of their service stations and that a large number of independent stations have cut the retail price of gasoline 2 cents a gallon.

Issue of Realty Liens Approved

Permit was granted yesterday by the Corporation Commissioner to the Ocean Center Building Company for the issuance of $1,100,000 first mortgage 6½ per cent sinking fund gold bonds and $400,000 6½ per cent cumulative preferred stock carrying common stock purchase warrants.

Issuance of these securities is to provide in part for the acquisition of the property on the southwest corner of Ocean Boulevard and Pine avenue, Long Beach, and the construction thereon of a Class A fourteen-story store and office building. Public offerings of the bonds and preferred stock will be made shortly by a syndicate of local investment houses, headed by Blyth, Witter & Co.

AYRES OFFERS NEW STUDY

Economist Shows Prices Far Outdistance Dividends and Earnings

BY EARLE E. CROWE

From a study of the relationship of stock-market prices, earnings and dividends, Col. Leonard P. Ayres, vice-president of the Cleveland Trust Company, has contributed another piece of constructive comment on the status of speculation, writing in the January issue of the Cleveland Trust Bulletin. His conclusion is that prices have discounted dividends about four years ahead, and earnings about eight years.

Col. Ayres took twenty-nine dividend-paying stocks which have furnished the greatest volume of trading in the last five years as the basis of his study. Taking 1924 as a normal year, he found that dividends advanced from 100 to 220 at the end of 1928, and earnings from 100 to 178.

Until the end of 1926, he finds that earnings, dividends and prices moved forward in fairly equal proportion. This record suggests that the bull market during this period was reflecting actualities, and not discounting expectations.

DISCOUNTING STARTS

"In 1927," Col. Ayres continues, "earnings declined, but nevertheless dividends were increased, and prices advanced sharply. The bull market had begun to discount the future. This process continued with increasing rapidity in 1928. Earnings made a good recovery, dividends were again increased, and prices mounted very much higher. During the four years since 1924 earnings increased 78 per cent, dividends were advanced 120 per cent, and prices were marked up 230 per cent."

While he does not say so, it is evident that the Cleveland economist draws a bearish inference from his analysis of the movements of dividends, earnings and prices. He does not believe, however, that the volume of activity in the stock market will decline. By comparing the relation of the volume of stock transactions with bank clearings, bank deposits and estimated national wealth over a period of forty-eight years, he reaches the inference that this country is entering another period of relatively high volume of stock speculation.

"It seems unlikely," he writes, "that the phenomenal records of 1928 will constitute durable landmarks in stock-market progress."

QUESTION RAISED

About the status of general business, Col. Ayres wonders whether the stock market, the corporations and the banks will continue to cooperate as the "three partners in prosperity." This is the most important question about business in 1929, he believes.

"In some measure," he explains, "the stock market has been active because of the good business, and to some degree business has been good because profits taken from the advancing stock prices were being spent. Moreover, the corporations have been supplying much of the credit by which the brokers finance the margin traders who keep the market going, and they have been increasing their funds by selling new stock to the market. The corporations are leaning on the stock market, and the stock market is leaning on the corporations, and both are leaning heavily on the banks."

Dividend Rate of Occidental Life Marked Up

Directors of the Occidental Life Insurance Company have increased the dividend rate 2 per cent, bringing the annual return to 14 per cent and marking the seventh consecutive yearly increase, Robert J. Giles, secretary-manager, announced yesterday at the close of the annual stockholders' meeting.

New life insurance written during the year totaled $31,000,000 bringing the aggregate insurance-in-force to $137,000,000 at the close of 1928 and representing a gain for the year of 29 per cent. Net earnings for 1928, after depreciation and taxes, amounted to $41.92 a share, he stated.

Directors elected for the ensuing year include H. J. Burkhard, J. F. Burkhard, E. L. Blanchard, John W. Vaughn, Donald W. Skeel, Dudley Fulton, Byron Erkenbrecher, Jr., and Mr. Giles.

New Plane Due This Week for Maddux Fleet

Delivery of the second sixteen-passenger Ford plane, largest of its type ever built in this country, is scheduled for this week, officials of the Maddux Air Lines Company announced yesterday. The first was brought out from Detroit last week by Lieut. Tomlinson, famous Navy flyer who is now an officer in the company.

This will give the company a total of ten trimotored Ford planes in addition to a number of smaller planes. Elaborate plans for the opening of the Grand Central Air Terminal at Glendale next month are being made by Maddux officials. It is said to be one of the first air terminals to be constructed.

GAIN REPORTED IN RAIL CAR LOADINGS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—Loading of revenue freight for the week ended the 5th inst. totaled 798,723 cars, the car-service division of the American Railway Association announced today. Compared with the preceding week, this was an increase of 131,137 cars with increases being reported in the total loading in all commodities. The total for the week of the 5th inst. also was an increase of 44,476 cars over the corresponding week in 1928, but a decrease of 138,167 cars under the corresponding week in 1927.

FINANCIAL UNIT FILLS VACANCIES

Ben R. Meyer and Tracy Keedy Named to Board of Mortgage Guarantee

Following the annual meeting of stockholders of the Mortgage Guarantee Company yesterday, announcement was made of the election of Ben R. Meyer, president of the Union Bank and Trust Company, and Tracy Keedy, treasurer of the Mortgage Guarantee, to membership on the board of directors to fill vacancies created by the recent deaths of John H. Coverley and William R. Staats.

The preliminary earnings statement presented by Morgan Adams, president, revealed combined net earnings of Mortgage Guarantee and Mortgage Guarantee Associates for the twelve months ended December 31, of $841,442, equivalent to $16.82, as compared with $16.33 a share for the corresponding period last year.

Outstanding guarantees as of December 31 amounted to $65,859,820, a net increase of $11,610,768, the report showed. Loans made during the year amounted to $23,698,990, a slight increase over the previous year.

Surplus and undivided profits account, not including Mortgage Guarantee Associates, as of December 31, amounted to $2,153,780, as compared with $1,913,780 for the same period last year.

Kinner Airplane Moving Quarters

Kinner Airplane and Motors Company will be installed in its new factory at Glendale by Monday, next, and will immediately begin operations with three shifts every twenty-four hours, Robert Porter, chairman of the board, announced yesterday. The old plant, now on two shifts, is producing motors from the assembly line.

Production in the past has been held up awaiting delivery of motor parts not manufactured at the factory, but this difficulty has now been overcome, Mr. Porter stated. It is expected that by February 10 the plant will have an output of one motor a day, and two motors a day by the end of March. Unfilled orders on hand are sufficient for several months to come, he said. One order is for fifty motors a month indefinitely, another for twenty-five, besides standing orders for lesser amounts.

NEW EXCHANGE CHIEFS NAMED

Two Governorship Vacancies Filled at Meeting

President Jardine Reports Activities of Year

McClarty Harbison of Dunk-Harbison Company, and Norman A. Tulk of Bond & Goodwin & Tucker, Inc., were elected to the board of governors of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange at the annual meeting of the members, held last night at the Biltmore.

The two retiring members, Frank L. Gardiner of Banks, Huntley & Co. and A. W. Morris, were not candidates for re-election. James R. Martin of James R. Martin & Co. was re-elected.

The three members were elected to serve for a period of three years, Exchange rules providing for nine members of the governing body with one-third retiring each year. Other members of the board are John Earle Jardine, Lewis A. Crisler, S. H. Ellis, Francis P. Graves, Paul B. Hammond and L. F. Parsons.

In his annual address to the members President Jardine reviewed the progressive steps taken by the local institution over the past year. He prefaced his remarks with the statement that "at no time in the history of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange has any president had the privilege of reporting such outstanding progress as it has been my pleasure to relate to you for the year 1928."

"The period covered by this report," he said, "stands without a parallel in the annals of the Stock Exchange's history. The growth of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange during 1928 to the third largest exchange in the nation in point of share volume and fourth in value of transactions, definitely reflects the growing importance of the southwest territory as a market for high-grade securities and to a great extent bears out predictions of able authorities that this exchange is destined to become as important a market in the West as the New York Stock Exchange is in the East.

"During the year just closed all existing records on this exchange were broken. The value of transactions was nearly four times the value of sales in 1927 and was in excess of the aggregate value of business conducted by this exchange in the ten preceding years. Sales during 1928 totaled 49,403,086 shares, as compared with 27,082,249 shares in 1927. The value of the 1928 share turnover was $840,384,806, as against $242,272,278 in 1927. This represents an increase of 82 per cent in share turnover and 246 per cent in value."

Net Earnings of Oil Concern for Period Reported

Net operating profit of the Holly Development Company for the eleven months ended November 30, last, totaled $69,758.50 after charging off intangible drilling costs of $54,720.15, it was reported yesterday by the company. This is equivalent to 7.7 cents a share on 900,000 shares of capital stock outstanding.

Dividends on stock of the company at the annual rate of 20 cents a share are being paid quarterly. Dividends paid in excess of earned surplus for the period totaled $67,078.13, which was charged off depletion account. Dividends paid and charged to surplus earned amounted to $47,921.87, leaving an earned surplus at the close of the period of $21,836.63.

Depletion account, which on December 31, 1927, stood at $401,945, has been raised to a total of $456,128 as of November 30, last, notwithstanding the deduction for dividends paid. Reserve for depreciation totaled $652,174 and for Federal income taxes, $27,592. Capital surplus from appreciation of value of leases is set at $482,646. Cash on hand totaled $399,724.

LOWER TARIFFS FORECAST

Boston Merchant Believes Big Business Eventually to Bring About Revision Downward

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Edward A. Filene, Boston merchant, predicts that big business, "which always does in the end what is to its own interest," will some time adopt a policy of lower tariff. This Boston merchant attributes the lack of mass production in Europe—a territory about the same size as the United States, if Russia is included—primarily to the tariff barriers among European nations.

"Eliminate these tariffs, and the market of each of the thirty-six nations would immediately expand to include all Europe," he said. "What would happen? Wages would go up and prices down, as they have in the United States."

Two years ago, five outstanding American bankers—J. P. Morgan, Melvin A. Traylor, Albert H. Wiggin, the late John J. Mitchell, and Gates W. McGarrah—signed a plea for the removal of tariff restrictions on trade among the nations of Europe.

"Trade is not a war but a process of exchange," said these bankers. And any tariff obstruction placed in the way of the free flow of the goods of trade means the ultimate impoverishment of peoples.

"Big business will reverse itself on the tariff as it has on other problems, including shorter working hours, higher wages, smaller profits and lower selling prices," believes Mr. Filene. "In each of these instances present policy is the direct opposite of what it was twenty years ago. And so it will be with the tariff."

Matthew Woll, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, believes the free-trade argument all wrong from the standpoint of labor. He thinks that American investments abroad are a threat ultimately against the American labor standard.

"Some method must be found for preventing the exportation of national savings to competitive countries and to foreign competitive enterprises, if American labor is to be protected against the competition of foreign, pauperized labor," says this labor leader.

It is true that American surplus production has been sold abroad, largely because of the liberal use of American credit in lending money. A foreign loan abroad, therefore, does act in the same way as an import.

American foreign policy will undoubtedly be greatly affected by her investments abroad. One writer puts it this way: "It is not possible to enjoy the prerogatives of the world's greatest economical power and at the same time retain all the advantages of isolation."

With the retirement of David M. Biggs, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, the reserve system loses one of its oldest governors in point of service.

Gov. Biggs, retiring this month, has been with the Federal Reserve Bank since 1919. Before that, for thirty years, he had been identified with banking in Missouri, and during that time, also, he was treasurer of the International Shoe Company, one of the largest shoe companies in the Middle West.

Gov. Biggs, 62 years of age, a small man physically, was born in Pike county, Missouri, and has lived his entire life within that State, with the exception of a short time in Quincy, Ill. He is retiring, taciturn—a product of the old school in banking—conservative in dress, speech and action.

The idea of personal publicity never appealed to him. So he is one of the least-known of the Federal Reserve governors. To a stranger he appears cold and austere—the type Bishop McIntyre described in his famous address, "Buttoned-up People." To his friends he is anything but that—to them he is warm, considerate, generous.

Fifteen years ago twelve governors were appointed to start the Federal Reserve on its spectacular career. Today only three remain—McDougal of Chicago, Seay of Richmond and Fancher of Cleveland.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (AP)—Prices worked generally lower on the bond market today, as call money held at 8 per cent throughout the day, renewing at that rate for the first time since January 4. Time money held at 7½ to 7¾ per cent, the highest rate for this time of year in years.

Trading was dull, and there was a marked tendency to hold up operations pending a clearing of the credit atmosphere. The Federal Reserve brokers' loan compilation is anxiously awaited tomorrow.

Public Service of New Jersey 4½s and International Telephone convertible 4½s were the individual features, the former jumping 6½ points to another new high price on heavy trading. International Telephone was up 1½ points on a large turnover. Public Service's advance was attributed to announcement of plans for a huge new power plant. Most of the other utilities registered losses, Detroit Edison refunding 5s losing 1½ points. Postal Telegraph and Cable 5s were lower, while American Telephone issues were actively dealt in at unchanged prices.

Although the rails were generally lower, several issues made headway, including Santa Fe convertible 4s, which fell a point, while St. Paul adjustment 5s yielded fractionally to heavy selling pressure. Great Northern 4½s closed down 1⅛.

Anaconda Copper 7s jumped into new high ground, with a net gain of 2½. Pathe Exchange made a gain of 2⅛, while Murray Body Sinking Fund 5s A declined 1⅝ on reports the company plans to spend all surplus on expansion instead of retiring funded debt. International Cement gained a point, while weakness was displayed by Abraham & Straus 5½s and North American Cement.

Oils were lower, although Barnsdall 6s with warrants gaining fractionally. The Standard Oil issues—New Jersey and New York showed losses.

Pirelli of Italy 7s were again the feature of the mixed foreign list, with a decline of 2 points. Fiat 7s with warrants also lost 2 points. German issues showed improvement, while the French were active and lower.

United States governments were weaker.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

Appreciation of Bank Stocks in Year Reviewed

Merger tendencies of Los Angeles banks and the growth of business in 1928 found reflection in important advances in market values of bank stocks during the year, which when added to liberal dividend payments, has resulted in attractive profits to shareholders, according to an analytical review just issued by Howard G. Rath Company, members of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange.

Pacific National tops the list in point of market value increase with a gain of 45.08 per cent. Merchants' National was second by advancing 19.27 per cent. United States National and Los Angeles-First National vied for third place with a rise of 16.5 per cent. Security Trust and Savings and Seaboard National increased 11.63 per cent, Citizens' National, 9.38 per cent, Union Bank and California Bank about 6.8 per cent and Farmers' and Merchants', 5.27 per cent.

Approximate dividend yields, based on prices as of December 31, last, show a mixed tendency. Farmers' and Merchants' showed a yield of 4.13 per cent, which was the highest among the banks listed. Los Angeles-First National and Citizens' United States National and California Bank showed a yield of 3.56 and 3.49 per cent, respectively. National followed with yields of 3.76 and 3.70 per cent, respectively. Seaboard National, 1.05 per cent and Merchants' National, 1.85 per cent.

Transamerica Calls Meeting

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—Transamerica Corporation today announced that a special meeting of shareholders would be held in Wilmington, Del., on February, 9, next, at which a vote will be taken upon a proposal of the board of directors to increase the capital stock of the corporation to $1,250,000,000, represented by 50,000,000 shares of $25 par value.

This action, if approved, will represent an increase of 40,000,000 shares, as the present capitalization consists of 10,000,000 shares of $25 par value, or $250,000,000. Significance of this move may be best appreciated when it is recalled that the way will be paved for many future operations which the present capitalization was too limited to admit.

BRAY MORTGAGE TO INCREASE CAPITAL

Stockholders of the George A. Bray Mortgage Company at the annual meeting held yesterday voted to increase the authorized capital from $200,000 to $1,000,000. Directors for the ensuing year were elected, and in turn elected George A. Bray, chairman of the board, Howard C. Teale, president, and J. B. Van Alstine, secretary. Directors voted to pay a dividend on the capital stock for the quarter ended December 31, last.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Irregularity Marks Trend of Local Security Prices; Rio Grande Gains Sharply

Indicating a tendency on the part of traders to await further developments, uneasiness continued to characterize operations yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. This irregularity was more pronounced among oil stocks, where the greater activity is centered, and extended to all divisions of the market. Bank stocks were virtually at a standstill.

Rio Grande Oil stood out prominently as an exception to the general trend. This issue advanced to a top at 35 1-2 and ended finally at 35 1-4 for a net gain of 3 3-8 points. Barnsdall added 3-4 to finish at 43 1-2, although trading in this issue was light. Union of California and Union Associates improved fractionally from the recent depression and ended at 49 1-8 and 48 1-4, respectively. Signal dropped another point to a close at 39, while Standard of California rallied a similar amount to 70.

Lower-priced issues continued on the downward movement, excepting Bolsa Chica, which regained 15 cents to 3.05. Buckeye Union, despite rumors of negotiations in progress for sale of the company, slumped 25 cents to 1.40. This follows a 15-cent drop the previous day. Occidental Petroleum fell off 35 cents to 3.40 and United States Royalties 1-2 to .16.

Pacific Finance, depressed on selling pressure Tuesday, lacked support to counteract the continued profit taking, but held to 100 on active trading. Piggly Wiggly Western advanced a point to 28 3-4. Lincoln Mortgage lost 10 cents to 1.10.

Transamerica Corporation fell off 5-8 to 129 3-8, while Los Angeles-First National recovered 1-2 to 122 on light sales. Hydraulic Brake, in the industrial list, dropped off 2 1-2 points to end at 43. Emsco firmed up 1-4 to 40, while Byron Jackson Pump lost 1 1-2 to 81.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Displaying a mixed tone, the trend of prices on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday, moved in an uncertain fashion as the volume of trading dropped to a low ebb. Oil prices revealed more losses than gains at the close of the market, while mining stock reacted as a whole. Industrials were irregular while the miscellaneous issues were unchanged and practically inactive.

Crystalite Products continued a star performer by rallying 2 points to 35. Claude Neon added 1-2 to finish at 62 3-8, while Diamond Electric lost a similar amount to 47. Gladding McBean, leader of the activity for the past week, was traded in comparatively light volume and dropped off 2 points to 88. Samson Tire and Rubber moved off 1-2 to 24. Airplane stocks showed little change.

Mexican Seaboard regained 1-2 to 58 3-4, Bolsa Chica 10 cents to 3.00 and Italo 5 cents to 1.35. The balance were depressed. Buckeye, following a 30-cent drop Tuesday, slumped another 27 1-2 cents to end at 1.27 1-2. Bandini lost 15 cents to 3.25 and Santa Fe broke 1 1-2 cents to 7. In the mines Sunnyside, Wright Creek and United Republic dropped 2 cents each.

THE MANY Versus THE FEW

GO TO YOUR INVESTMENT BANKER and ask him to secure for you a complete list of first mortgage bond financing during recent years. Check it carefully. Note how many first mortgage bonds are issued for 50% to 60% of the valuation of the property, how few for less than 50% and how scarce the issues at 40%.

In the opinion of leading financiers, a 50% to a 60% loan, under practically all circumstances, is a conservative method of financing. How much more secure then, the first mortgage bond we are now offering which represents only a 37% loan on the conservatively appraised value of Southern California property. Furthermore, this issue is priced to yield a full 6.50% return.

It will be well worth your while to write for complete information regarding this unusual offering.

All Futures on Corn Market at New High Level

CHICAGO, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—May corn sold up to $1 in Chicago today to a new high on the crop, and showed 24¢ per bushel above the inside figure of the season. All deliveries were in new ground. March touching 96⅝ and the July 1.01⅝, and privileging prices were the best since last September when that future sold as high as 1.05. The finish was within a fraction of the top with net gains of ⅜@1c, March being 96¼c to 96⅜@96½c and May 99⅞@99¾c. The sensational upturn of practically 10 cents in the past ten days came at a time when the winter movement of grain from producers to terminal markets is at its height and many millions of dollars has been added to the prospective income of farmers.

Rumors that large sales of Canadian flour had been made to Russia, shipment to be made by way of Northern China, injected a new factor into the world's wheat situation, and led to increased buying of futures with an advance of 1½@2⅛c from the early low, and the finish was 1⅛@1⅜c higher with March 1.19⅝ and May 1.23¼. Strength in Winnipeg and in corn had some effect on sentiment. Oats were unsettled and closed ⅜c higher to ⅛c lower, the latter on July which was 48¼ at the last with March 50⅛, May 50⅝. Rye gained ⅝@⅞c with March 1.05 and May 1.07⅝.

Reports of showers over a good part of the Argentine corn belt was instrumental in making an early decline of around 1c in the local market, and many of the local longs took the selling side. Commission houses absorbed the surplus in the pit on the break, and later there was a general disposition to replace soldout lines and to cover shorts, and offerings were light on the way up, the advance being checked by profit-taking sales, and closing of spreads with wheat, the latter being bought. Comparatively little May was sold at $1. The country sold around 200,000 bushels cash corn to arrive as the result of the upturn, with 90c or more bid to producers in parts of Illinois.

Conflicting cables were received from Argentina as to the rains, a majority indicating that the precipitation had been too light to be of material benefit, and later cables said weather was clearing. Buenos Aires May was 1⅛c lower at midday and closed ⅛c lower at 87⅝. Rosario was ⅛c lower. The general run of reports indicate that the crop this year will be smaller than in the previous year. Export demand at the seaboard was lacking.

A general broadening in the flour trade, not only this country but also in Canada, has resulted from the recent strength in the wheat market, and sales by southwestern mills of late have been the largest in a number of weeks.

Western Canadian mills were said to be booked ahead for four months with a large quantity under orders to go to Northern China. Efforts to confirm the rumor that part of the sales were to go to Russia were without avail, and well-posted Winnipeg people wired that there was no evidence of business with that country. A cargo of 75,000 barrels will clear shortly from Vancouver to Northern China.

Export demand for wheat at the seaboard was slow, although the Continent took a little Manitoba. Liverpool closed ⅛@¼d lower with a better demand for cash wheat. Buenos Aires was ⅛c higher with May 1.15. Winnipeg showed strength throughout the day and finished 1@1⅛c higher. There was buying of wheat here against sales at Winnipeg.

Realizing sales had a depressing effect on oats, but the nearby deliveries rallied toward the last in sympathy with corn. Rye was influenced largely by the action of wheat.

Large stocks of lard and meats, especially the former, led to selling of lard early with a fair decline. Hedging sales by small packers was also a factor. Offerings were well taken and the late advance in corn, coupled with the jump of 15 to 25c in hog prices, gave the market fair strength at the last, although the close was at net losses of 5 to 7½ on lard. Bellies were given more attention and closed 5 to 10c higher.

BAY CITY CURB

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16. (AP)—Moderate activity returned to the curb exchange today, particular impetus being recorded by the oils.

Greatest activity resulted from a break in Universal Consolidated which opened at $1.95, reached $2 and then broke to a new low at $1.77½, returning to $2 at the close with a turnover of 23,085 shares. Italo transferred 15,510 shares on a slight decline from $1.32½ to $1.30. Palmer Union continued to sink, losing a cent at 14 cents. Occidental Pete was up, then down, and looking upward again closing at $3.50 after ranging from $3.90 down to $3.10.

Industrials were comparatively slow, fluctuations being fractional. Banks were unsteady. First National of Los Angeles gained 2 points to 122. Bank of America of California dropped nearly 2 to 175½ and Bank of America of New York held at 193.

THE NATIONAL BANK OF COMMERCE OF SEATTLE, TRUSTEE

SECURITY

These bonds are the direct obligation of United Exchange Building, Inc., a Washington corporation, and are secured by a first closed mortgage on land owned in fee and the Exchange Office Building to be erected thereon. The land has frontages of 235 feet on Marion Street, 120 feet on First Avenue, and 60 feet on Second Avenue, comprising a total of approximately 20,880 square feet. The building will have a height of 18 stories on the First Avenue frontage and 15 stories on the Second Avenue frontage. It will contain approximately 4,300,000 cubic feet, providing a net rentable area of approximately 286,600 square feet of office and store space.

LOCATION

Exchange Building will be located in the heart of the financial and banking section of the downtown business district of Seattle, on Second Avenue, the most important business street in the city. Immediately contiguous to the building are the Bank of California and the Seattle Title Trust Company. Across the street are the National City Bank of Seattle and the First National Bank of Seattle. Within a block are the Dexter Horton National Bank, the Canadian Bank of Commerce and the Seattle National Bank; within two blocks, on Second Avenue, are the Pacific National Bank, the Washington Mutual Savings Bank and The National Bank of Commerce of Seattle.

APPRAISAL

A joint appraisal by Mr. J. Arthur Younger and Mr. F. W. West, of Seattle, gives a total valuation for the property of $3,650,000, of which this issue represents 52.05%.

EARNINGS

Net annual earnings of the property applicable to the payment of interest and sinking fund are estimated at $269,551, or more than two and one-third times the greatest annual interest charge of this issue. This estimate was made jointly by the managers of four of the largest office buildings in Seattle.

SINKING FUND

A sinking fund is provided, which, it is calculated, will retire an aggregate principal amount of $903,000, or more than 47% of this issue, prior to maturity.

These bonds are offered when, as and if issued and received by us, and subject to the approval of counsel. The legality of the issue and all legal details are subject to the approval of Messrs. Peters & Powell, of Seattle, and Messrs. Sonnenschein, Berkson, Lautmann & Levinson, of Chicago, for the bankers, and of Geo. Harroun, Esq., of Seattle, for the borrowing corporation. STEEL ADVANCE MARKS TRADING the bright spot of the scant business news of the day. Allied Chemical, which closed at 262 yesterday, a drop of 13 points, more than made up its loss today, soaring 18 points to a new record high at 280. Mathieson Alkali also shot up about 15 points in buying largely based on a rumor that Dupont was negotiating to acquire it. Dupont interests denied the rumor too late in the session to influence the stock. In the Utilities, Commonwealth Power and Detroit Edison made extreme gains of 8 and 9 points.

United States Steel touched 173 1-4, just a quarter point under the highest figure since the payment of the 40 per cent stock dividend. Bethlehem, American Steel Foundries, Colorado Fuel and Iron and Vanadium were other issues in this group to sell 3 to nearly 6 points higher. Copper shares stiffened and St. Joseph Lead jumped more than 6 points. Automotive shares improved, Continental Motors and General Motors selling up about 3 points, and electric Auto-lite jumping nearly 10 points to a new peak.

Borden Company gained 8 points in buying in expectation of a stock split-up, and Curtiss Aero improved on reports of an affiliation with the Caproni Aviation Company of Italy. Pan American Petroleum B was bought in expectation of better earnings from its new refinery.

Radio fell 7 points, but regained most of its loss. General Gas and Electric B lost more than 7 points, and Allis Chalmers slipped back 3.

The commodity markets generally closed higher. Rubber advanced sharply in sympathy with the London market, and cotton firmed up after a series of mixed movements. Wheat was strong, helped by an upturn at Winnipeg, and corn was firm.

Foreign exchanges were quiet. Sterling was steady until late in the day when cables fell below $4.85.

ROBINSON SCANS BUSINESS SKIES

commodities, he said, such as coal, textiles, shipping and petroleum have been equal to or above normal, but with prices unimproved.

"In our own area," he continued, "the year has treated the merchants, the industrialists and the producers extremely well, with the important exception of the grape and peach growers."

On the affairs of the bank, Mr. Robinson cited a growth in deposits of $22,500,000 in 1928, an increase of $3,000,000 in capital structure, $4,000,000 in acceptances and $4,600,000 in letter of credit liability, or a total of $34,000,000 in the year.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (AP)—Advances of 10 or 12 points on covering or rebuying by recent sellers who appear to be influenced by the reports of a steadier spot situation in the South, were followed by reactions in the cotton market here today. Trading generally was quiet with the midafternoon market ruling within a point or two either way of yesterday's closing quotations.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (AP)—Disregarding another sharp break in Ford Motors of Canada, the New York Curb Market today moved upward in rather brisk fashion, with buying orders generously distributed among a wide assortment of oils, public utilities, mining and merchandising shares and specialties. Some uneasiness was still apparent over the credit situation, although the call money rates held steady at 6 per cent all day.

Ford of Canada opened 31 points lower at 701, moved up to 708, broke to 670 and closed at 673 for a net loss of 60 points. Ford, Ltd., stock closed fractionally higher on a heavy turnover. Auburn rallied 2 points but Isotta Fraschina warrants broke nearly 10 points on one sale.

Heavy trading in Standard of Indiana, which ran up 6 points to a new high at 102½ and then lost all but 1¼ points of its gain, revived talk of competitive bidding between the Stewart and Rockefeller interests, but little credence was given to these reports in banking circles. Another theory was that stock was being bought in the open market by the company in anticipation of the new stock offering to employees. No important changes took place in the other oil shares.

Electric Bond and Share was the spectacular leader in the public utility group, soaring nearly 15 points to a new high record at 192½ and retaining most of its gain. American Super Power issues, Columbia Electric, Mohawk and Hudson issues and United Gas also moved into new high ground, and United Gas Improvement ran up 7½ points but lost half of its gain.

Establishment of new peak prices for the year by National Family Stores common and Southwest Stores featured the merchandising group. Automatic Registering Machine crossed 9 to a new high and Benjamin Winter sold above 15 for the first time this year.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

We practice financial dieting!

Two classes of financial institutions . . just as Woodrow Wilson . . pointed out . . two classes of 'statesmen' . . who came to Washington . . one capable of real growth . . while the other classification . . merely SWELLED!

And we've had no hasty growth . . through 36 years of conservatism . . to resources of $11,500,000 . . in the Mutual Building and Loan Association . . of POMONA . . pointing to State records . . with no loss-records . . as proof . . that there has been . . no cancerous financial swelling.

Because we limit our growth . . deliberately . . by the dietetic method . . of refusing new 6% accounts . . and concentrating on new loans . . whenever our growth . . shows signs . . of adding too much weight . . so we keep our health . . and strength . . of $2,500,000 capital, surplus and reserve.

In an old-fashioned way . . right now . . we're concentrating on loans . . which we make . . as among friends and neighbors . . in Pomona Valley . . with none of the 32 methods . . of shrinking your borrowed dollar . . because our expenses are small . . and our desire to please you . . is genuinely great

Goes Into Lawndale

Announcement was made yesterday that the Western Oil and Refining Company has taken nine locations at Lawndale and is starting the immediate drilling of one well, to be located on Lots No. 1 and No. 2, Tract No. 6578, to be known as the Crowley No. 1. Definite plans for drilling on the other locations have not been announced.

A subsidiary of the Western Oil and Refining Company—the Western Drilling and Producing Company—already had entered the Lawndale field and has started drilling its C. O. P. No. 1.

Buckbee Cleaning Out

The Wilshire Oil Company's Buckbee No. 1 at Santa Fe Springs has been off production for several days while the crew has been cleaning out a sand bridge. The work is nearly done and it is expected that the well will be returned to production soon.

Many persons have been disturbed by reports of extensive water invasion in this well. While nothing official has been given out, it is reported that the well has been making a great deal of water, but the condition of this well, it is believed, is not comparable to conditions in other wells adjacent to it, because operators have long been of the belief that the Buckbee No. 1 never did have a successful water shut-off.

Will Core Ahead

The Elwood Consolidated Oil Company, which struck a rich sand in the Cavaletto No. 1, northwest of Goleta, a few days ago, has decided to make no production test at the present depth, but to core ahead for several hundred feet before setting casing. It is thought probable that a production test can be made within ten days. Some operators think that a new field discovery in that area along the foothills of the Santa Ynez range is a probability.

Three G. P. Wells

The General Petroleum Corporation added nearly 9000 barrels to its daily oil production at Santa Fe Springs yesterday by the completion of three wells. Its No. 227 was completed at 5680 feet for a production of about 2800 barrels a day of 34.8 deg. gravity oil with a cut of 7 per cent.

The No. 160-A was completed at 5010 feet and made 2250 barrels in twenty hours, the oil testing 33.4 deg. gravity and with a cut of 6 per cent. The No. 161-A was completed at 5760 feet, flowing at the rate of 2500 barrels a day, testing 34.9 deg. gravity and with a cut of 4 per cent.

The No. 160-A, drilled to 5100 feet and plugged back to 5010 feet, is the shallowest of the deep-sand wells in the field. It is believed that this production is coming from the top of the Nordstrom zone.

New McKeon Well

The McKeon Drilling Company completed its York & Lockhart No. 2 yesterday with a flow estimated at 2500 barrels a day. It had not been accurately gauged last night. The well is 5396 feet deep. There was some mud but no free water in the initial flow.

Oil Investment Trust Brewing

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (Exclusive) Organization of a $100,000,000 investment trust to deal in oil stocks, which is to enjoy the services and support of two-score or more men of financial and industrial prominence, was reported in Wall street today. Public announcement of the trust's formation will be made within a few days, it is believed.

Organization of the trust, in the face of widespread talk of overproduction and slack market activity, is regarded here as a much-needed and timely expression of confidence in the future of oil prices. According to all reports, the board of directors of the firm will include men well known to the oil industry whose presence will lend assurance and aid in stabilization of production.

Mr. Coy Burnett, President, summarizes his letter to us of January 16, 1929, as follows:

History and Business: The Monolith Portland Cement Company was incorporated under the laws of Nevada, June 30, 1920, and has successfully engaged in the production and sale of Monolith Portland Cement. It has also established, built up and successfully marketed upon the entire Pacific Coast a specialty trade-named Monolith Plastic Waterproof Portland Cement. 1927 production equalled 1,445,793 barrels or an increase of 350% over 1921, its first full year of operation. Maximum production capacity is now approximately 1,600,000 barrels. However, with a comparatively small outlay of additional capital this capacity can be doubled.

The Monolith Portland Cement Company will control, through ownership of 100% of the outstanding common stock of Monolith Portland Midwest Company, an additional daily production capacity of 1800 to 2200 barrels. The "Midwest Company" is located at Laramie, Wyoming, and is one of the most modern Portland Cement wet process plants in the United States. In addition to plant costs in excess of $2,000,000, the General Appraisal Company has appraised the cement deposits owned by the "Midwest Company" at $5,026,250.

Properties: The bonds will be secured by a First Mortgage or Deed of Trust upon the real property, leasehold estate, and machinery and equipment of the Company as described and provided in the Trust Indenture.

The plant is located at Monolith, Kern County, California, on the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe joint right-of-way. Due to both the proximity of raw material and the center of consumption, this location has many outstanding advantages. Developed and proven raw materials are conservatively estimated as being sufficient to supply the plant for 100 years at double present capacity. Plant is of modern up-to-date type operating under the wet process, 4 kilns of 200 feet length.

Earnings: Net earnings as certified by Messrs. Arthur Andersen & Co., after all charges except Federal Income Taxes, including depreciation on cost values, available for interest requirements on the First Mortgage 6% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds to be outstanding, for the four years and eleven months ended November 30, 1928, have been as follows:

		Times Interest Earned			Times Interest Earned
1924	$299,645	4.99	1927	$416,743	6.94
1925	504,494	8.40	1928	407,091*	7.40
1926	334,387	5.57

*Eleven months ended November 30, 1928.

The total earnings for the above period are subject to possible reduction in the sum of $61,000 pending interpretation of certain sales contract.

The average earnings as indicated above are equivalent to 6.65 times maximum interest requirements on the Bonds to be outstanding.

Assets: The balance sheet as of November 30, 1928, as certified by Messrs. Arthur Andersen & Co., after giving effect to this financing shows total net assets of $7,598,004.11, which includes leasehold value of $2,670,170.07, or net tangible assets of $4,927,834.04, equivalent to $4,927 for each $1,000 par value First Mortgage 6% Sinking Fund Gold Bond to be outstanding. Current assets are shown as $1,414,228.50 against current liabilities of $416,237.83, or a ratio of 3.40 times to one.

Purpose: The proceeds of this financing will be used for the liquidation of bank loans and other corporate purposes.

Sinking Fund: The Indenture will provide that the Company shall set aside as a Sinking Fund, commencing Jan. 1, 1930, a specific sum per barrel of cement thereafter sold, or 10% of the net operating earnings for the year as defined by the Trust Indenture, whichever be greater. The Sinking Fund is estimated to retire in excess 50% of the bonds by maturity.

Legal proceedings subject to the approval of Messrs. Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher and Messrs. Meserve, Mumper, Hughes and Robertson for the underwriters; and Messrs. Bordwell, Matthews and Wadsworth for the Company. Audits by Messrs. Arthur Andersen & Co., Certified Public Accountants.

The above Bonds are offered "when, as and if issued and received by us" and subject to the issuance of a permit by the Commissioner of Corporations of the State of California authorizing the same, and also subject to the issuance by the Title Insurance and Trust Company of Los Angeles of a Bondholders' policy of Title Insurance.

Marilyn Miller Said to Have United Parents

CHICAGO, Jan. 16. (AP)—The Daily News says today Marilyn Miller, who had domestic troubles of her own that led to a divorce from Jack Pickford, has succeeded with her sisters in effecting a reconciliation of her parents, Mrs. Caro Miller of Chicago, and Caro Miller, Syracuse, N. Y.

The newspaper said the children had been trying to bring about a reconciliation of their divorced parents for two years.

Miss Miller will be here next week to join her mother and Mr. Miller, former vaudeville actor, is expected to join them later in Los Angeles, where, the newspaper said, they planned a reunion.

Méjico Lucha por Atajar la Emigración de Trabajadores

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Enero 16. —El gobierno mejicano continúa estudiando con seriedad la cuestión de mantener a sus ciudadanos en el país, así como los Estados Unidos estudian varias propuestas restricciones para cerrar la puerta a la entrada ilimitada de mejicanos. El señor Canales, ministro accidental de lo Interior, ha declarado que Méjico considera de la mayor importancia la cuestión de la emigración de sus trabajadores hacia los Estados Unidos, y que el presidente Portes Gil está decidido a que se resuelva práctica y permanentemente este problema; y a ese efecto, ha dado instrucciones a los ministros de lo Interior, de Relaciones, de Hacienda, de Industria y Comercio, y de Trabajo, para que trabajen de acuerdo, propongan una solución y adopten las medidas que juzguen oportunas para impedir el éxodo anual de jornaleros mejicanos rumbo a los Estados Unidos.

Estima el señor Canales que cerca de 100,000 trabajadores emigraron a los Estados Unidos en 1928. Comentando sobre este asunto, que en estos últimos tiempos ha llegado a ser de capital importancia para Méjico dijo Canales que, según los datos del gobierno, desde 1910, y excluyendo los años de la guerra mundial, la emigración a Estados Unidos ha aumentado de un modo continuo. Estima el ministro que buena parte de los emigrantes del año último salieron del país clandestinamente, y hay que atribuir ésto a la inadecuada vigilancia de ambos países en la frontera.

Otra razón que explica el éxodo es el jornal más elevado que se ofrece en los Estados Unidos al jornalero que quiere emigrar, especialmente durante los tres o cuatro meses de recolección de algodón en los estados del sur. Los peones mejicanos ahorran allí una buena porción de sus jornales y vuelven a su país, donde casi siempre se abstienen de trabajar, pues pasan en él su tiempo gastando tranquilamente sus ahorros y preparándose para idéntica peregrinación el año siguiente.

WASHINGTON, Enero 16.—En la tribuna de la cámara de diputados, el representante Somers, demócrata de Nueva York, lanzó hoy un reto general a todas las organizaciones sociales debidamente acreditadas. Las desafía a que presenten algún individuo o alguna familia para quien haya sido un beneficio la prohibición.

Agregó que apuesta a que no hay un solo individuo, bebedor antes de la prohibición, que no lo siga siendo ahora, ni una sola familia, menesterosa antes de esa enmienda constitucional, que esté hoy próspera debido a la promulgación de la misma.

Cuando hubo terminado Somers de leer su discurso, uno de sus colegas de Nueva York, el señor Snell, presidente de la Comisión de Reglamento, dijo que él podía presentar una familia que llenaba esas condiciones.

Un Cocinero del Majestic Muerto por un Golpe de Mar

NUEVA YORK, Enero 16.—Fué muerto un cocinero y fueron lesionados varios otros tripulantes por una ola gigantesca que se abatió sobre la proa del trasatlántico Majestic, de la línea White Star, en el curso de la travesía terminada hoy, cuando el citado vapor entró aquí en dársena.

La ola referida hizo que se alabearan varios mamparos de acero, mojó el correo, echó a perder una porción del cargamento, y acarreó el cambio de los 289 pasajeros de tercera a lugar menos expuesto.

Leonardo Fiorini, de 54 años, cocinero ayudante en el departamento de tercera, salió el lunes de su cocina. Vió venir la ola gigantesca, que iba a desplomarse sobre la proa, cogiéndole a él debajo. Trató de meterse a toda prisa en la cocina, pero fué alcanzado por el maretazo y arrojado contra un montante. Se le fracturó el cuello y pereció. Fue sepultado en el mar.

CLEAR SKIES DUE TODAY

Rains of Tuesday Night and Yesterday Add .34 of an Inch, Boosting Seasonal Fall to Near Normal

Clearing weather was scheduled for today by the weather man following showers of early yesterday and Tuesday night, which netted Los Angeles another .34 of an inch of rain. This brought the season's total to 5 inches. The normal total for this time of year is 5.91 inches. At this time last year the total was 5.76 inches.

After hovering around off the coast of Oregon and Washington, the rainstorm moved inland quickly and dipped down into Southern California. Yesterday it had moved inland over Arizona. Possible showers were expected last night and early today as the weather began to clear up.

SNOW IN MOUNTAINS

The precipitation was general, in some places bringing to an end a dry spell of thirty days and breaking up cold waves in some districts, particularly in the San Joaquin Valley. In the latter area, reports from Bakersfield declare weather officials state that the fog that blanketed the valley for weeks left about two inches of moisture. Bakersfield receive .25 of an inch of rain.

In the higher mountain areas around Los Angeles the snowfall sufficient to offer encouragement to lovers of winter sports, with the prospect that if the cool weather keeps up there will be fun for the week-end. Big Pines county recreational camp reported eight inches of snow up to noon. Mt. Wilson reported a fall of five inches of snow and Camp Seeley, operated by the Los Angeles City Playground Department in the San Bernardino Mountains, had four inches of snow. Big Pines and Camp Seeley have toboggans, and equipment for winter sports may be obtained there, the slides at the latter camp being opened Sunday. Roads are reported to be in good condition, but the wise motorist will always be equipped with skid chains for ready use in the event of need on mountain roads in winter time.

DEEP SNOW IN SEQUOIA

Ten inches of snow was reported from Lake Arrowhead. The crest of the San Bernardino Mountains received general snowfall, ranging from 3 to 10 inches. Big Bear Lake registered 8 inches; Idyllwild, 5 inches, and Ice House Canyon, 4 inches.

The heaviest snow total was reported from Sequoia Park, where 38 inches is packed on the ground. Heavy snowfall also occurred in the Santa Ynez Mountains, particularly back of Carpenteria.

LIGHTER IN SOUTH

The rainfall began to taper off as the storm moved south. San Diego had .15 of an inch with further showers expected. In some districts the storm was accompanied by brisk gusts of wind, and in the San Diego coast area small craft warnings were hoisted at 8 a.m. yesterday.

Santa Paula received .99 of an inch of rain, which brought the season's total there ahead of this time last year. Fillmore had .71 of an inch and Piru, .80 of an inch.

Porterville reported that more than three feet of snow lay in Giant Forest.

Camp Baldy also reported snow, three inches of it. Rainfall there was reported as 1.08 inches, making the season's total 8.87 inches, as against 10.52 inches last year. The total snowfall there this season is 12 inches, compared to 14 inches at this time last year.

Pasadena registered .61 of an inch of rain for the storm, with foothill towns in general receiving a generous share of the precipitation. In general some of the lower areas received heavier rainfall that the mountaintops.

Fullerton, Yorba Linda and Ventura took first place in the amount of precipitation, each town receiving 1.10 of an inch.

UNION HEAD TRIAL DATE SCHEDULED

Asserted Terrorists of Cleaners and Dyers Will Face Jury February 11

Charles M. Murphy, president of the Cleaners' and Dyers' Union, and two asserted confederates charged with creating a reign of terror in the dyeing industry, were arraigned before Judge Sheldon yesterday and the date for their jury trial set for February 11.

Confessions by several union men, according to the police, implicate Murphy and other union leaders in plots to drive independent dyers out of business. The men who confessed are in jail.

Murphy, with James Delaney and Jeff Goodman was arrested by Detective Lieutenants Hynes and his squad on a warrant charging the trio with having slugged Frank Janovicz, an independent dyer. Murphy was taken by the police after he had dodged them for two weeks.

Delaney has been an associate of Murphy and admitted to the police that he had "worked" for him. Goodman, the police assert, admitted he drove Murphy and Delaney to the house in which Janovicz was beaten.

LASKY'S NEW STAGE BURNS

Blaze Ravages $450,000 Sound Film Plant; Five Firemen, Three Employees Hurt

Fire destroyed the new $450,000 sound-proof talking-picture stage of the Paramount-Famous-Lasky studios on Melrose avenue last night and five firemen and three civilian workmen were injured while combatting the flames.

The blaze was discovered about 6 o'clock by a girl employed in the cutting department. Shortly afterward flames shot high into the sky and could be seen for miles. When the fire department arrived the entire top of the structure was aflame. The building, which was 180x350 feet, was constructed of steel, tile and wood. Between the tile and wood was a layer of a soundproof composition of wood and felt.

EQUIPMENT NOT IN

It was this material that caused dense smoke and sparks to rise in a huge column over the studios. The soundproof building had just been completed and preparations had been made to celebrate the opening with a dance Saturday night. The new equipment designed to make talking pictures had not been uncrated and had not been moved into the building. Had the equipment been in the building it would have increased the loss to almost $1,000,000, studio officials assert.

The fire is believed to have been caused by defective wiring in the coping of the building. The building has been designed to hold five stages and was considered the last word for the production of sound pictures. No one was employed in the building when the fire was discovered and the heavy iron doors had been closed.

LASKY ON GROUNDS

Across the street in the cutting department Jesse Lasky and B. P. Shulberg, officials of the company, were in the projection room looking at a film when Maisie Hause, a film cutter, saw sparks coming from the roof of the soundproof building. She cried out the alarm and everyone near by rushed for the fire-alarm box and extinguishers.

The alarm-box door could not be opened and one of the girls, Miss Helen Thompson, snatched off her high-heeled shoe and hammered on the box until she broke the glass. In the meantime the studio fire department had started working on the blaze. The Hollywood department arrived and threw up ladders.

Just as three ladders had gone up the pent-up smoke and gas within the building exploded and blew the heavy iron doors outward, carrying with them two ladders

S. L. ROLAND, FINANCIER, SUCCUMBS

Rites Planned Tomorrow for Pasadena Man Who Died Yesterday

Samuel L. Roland, president of the Prudential Building and Loan Association, died at Pasadena Hospital early yesterday morning of a heart disease following a three-weeks' illness. He was 60 years of age.

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at 4 p.m. from the Little Church of the Flowers, Glendale. Interment will follow in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Glendale.

Mr. Roland organized in 1923 the corporation which he headed. He also was president of the Remote Control Valve and Manufacturing Company of South Pasadena. He resided at 145 Arlington Drive, Pasadena.

During his activities as an organizer of financial institutions in Los Angeles for the last sixteen years, Mr. Roland had been identified with several loan associations. He was connected with the Metropolitan Building and Loan Association from 1918 to 1921 as secretary and manager. When this organization consolidated with the Southern California Building and Loan Association he became manager of the combination.

Besides his local activities, Mr. Roland had interests in the development of several Southern California towns. He built the Barbara Worth Hotel in El Centro.

Prior to his coming here, Mr. Roland organized a building and loan association in Pueblo, Colo., and a title company in Denver. He was born in Le Roy, Ill.

GAY MODERNIST HERE TO PREACH

Miss Rheba Crawford

Bubbling over with enthusiasm and a happy, carefree attitude toward life and religion, Miss Rheba Crawford, youthful apostle of modernism, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday to commence a speaking engagement. She hopes that her visit will result in the establishment of a church of her own and a hotel for women motion-picture extras in Hollywood. For years she has been widely known among theatrical people as "the Angel of Broadway," New York, where, as a Salvation Army, leader, she spoke in the streets of the theater district.

In her room at the Biltmore she told of aims and her "message" in short, punchy sentences punctuated with smiles and an occasional joking remark. With equal facility and pleasantness she discussed clothes, morals, philosophy, religion and amusements.

CLIPS WORDS—NOT HAIR

"Long skirts? Yes, my skirts are long. I like them that way. So is my hair. It is more becoming to me. I am not prudish and would bob my hair and shorten my skirts if I liked them that way. I do not heed the dictates of fashion but believe in expressing my individuality. For the same reason I use cosmetics somewhat to improve my appearance," she said in a few short breaths.

"No, I am not an evangelist. I dislike the word. Please do not connect it with me. It connotes the sawdust trail, hysteria and self-hypnotism found in revivial meetings. These things I think are out of keeping with the philosophy of Christ.

"I came here to see if Los Angeles wants a sane, happy religion. I am a modernist. I believe in

CEMENT PLANT ROW WIDENS

Federal Authorities Sole Arbiter of Pipe Line, State Attorney-General's Opinion Rules

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—Neither the City of Los Angeles nor the State of California has the authority to grant a permit for the pipe line sought by the Los Angeles Mountain Park Company into Santa Monica Bay from a cement plant in the Santa Monica Mountains, in the opinion of the State Attorney-General's office. Advice to this effect was forwarded today to Maj. C. P. Gross of the United States Engineer's office, Los Angeles, by Chief Deputy Attorney-General Harrison, in response to a request from Maj. Gross.

Whether or not the United States government has jurisdiction is a point not ruled upon by the Attorney-General. Questioned in this regard, Deputy Harrison said Maj. Gross requested an opinion on the jurisdiction of city and State and that it is not the province of the State to rule for the government.

In effect, therefore, Deputy Harrison declared the matter of Federal jurisdiction is something to be determined from the legal interpretation of Federal statutes, "a point with which this office has nothing to do."

The Attorney-General's opinion is based upon the 1911 statute covering tidelands, the amendments thereto in 1917 and Sec. 2920 of the Political Code.

The statute of 1917, Deputy Harrison said, did not enlarge the title area granted to Los Angeles by the statute of 1911; and Section 2920 of the Political Code, which authorizes incorporated cities under certain conditions to grant permits for wharves, chutes and piers, does not include permits for pipe lines.

JACOBSON CASE FINALE WRITTEN

Grand Jury Hits Actions of Raymond and Lucas

Neither Side Found Free of Culpability, However

Resignation of Two Officers Involved Commended

DICK LUCAS

HARRY RAYMOND

The Los Angeles county grand jury wrote finale to the case of Councilman Carl I. Jacobson and Mrs. Callie Grimes late yesterday when it adopted a resolution condemning the actions of Detective Lieutenant Dick Lucas and Special Investigator Harry Raymond in the case but at the same time declaring that "neither side is wholly free from culpability."

The resolution commended the resignations of Lucas and Raymond from the police department, which were tendered and accepted yesterday, and declared that the two men never should have any place in the public service of the city or county.

Lucas and Raymond submitted their resignations to Chief of Police Davis yesterday afternoon. He immediately accepted them, but declined to comment on his action.

The Police Chief, Councilman Jacobson and Dist.-Atty. Fitts all appeared before the grand jury yesterday. None would comment on what occurred.

HISTORY OF CASE

Councilman Jacobson was arrested in company with Mrs. Callie Grimes at the latter's home at 4372 Beagle street on the night of August 5, 1928, on a morals charge. Lucas and Raymond in company with Lieutenants of Detectives Wallis and Williams made the arrests.

At the trial, which resulted in a jury disagreement, the prosecution produced witnesses in addition to the police who declared Jacobson admitted an unclad condition when questioned following the arrest. The Councilman did not take the stand in his own defense. He made numerous public utterances, however, declaring he was "framed" and the victim of an underworld plot.

After the morals charge against him had been dismissed, following the jury disagreement, the Councilman appeared before the grand jury and declared he had been "framed," he said, because of his efforts in the City Council to campaign against organized vice in Los Angeles. Shortly after this Mrs. Grimes went before the grand jury and declared she had conspired with police officials to "frame" the Councilman.

The grand jury's resolution follows:

TEXT OF RESOLUTION

"On motion the following resolution was unanimously adopted by the 1928 Los Angeles county grand jury, viz.:

"This jury has investigated the Jacobson-Grimes case, and the part that several members of the Los Angeles Police Department played therein. Many witnesses for both sides have appeared before this body. Based on the testimony produced before us, a great deal of which was contradictory, this jury is of the opinion that neither side is wholly free from culpability. The jury cannot give full credence to all of the witnesses on either side. At the same time, there is no doubt in the minds of this jury that the conduct of the members of the police department participating in this matter is subject to the strongest possible condemnation.

"This jury further feels that Detective Lieutenant Dick Lucas and Special Investigator Harry Raymond were the leaders in this matter. We are of the opinion, not only from our investigation into this case, but from many others in which these officers have been involved, that they should have no place in the public service of this city or county.

"The jury believes that the resignations of these two officers submitted to the Chief of Police and accepted by him, will result in in-

BOYISH FIGURES

We may sob with anguished sympathy over the plaint that the boyish figure sought by our flappers ruined the Chicago market for rice and potatoes. But we will not sob as hard as we can. This same fashionable slimness put California oranges on the breakfast table.

The great problem of the California orange industry was to convince the world that the orange is an article of food; not something invented by a benevolent nature to put in Christmas stockings.

From now on fat may become as fashionable here as in a Turkish harem; but the California orange has come to stay as a breakfast drink.

The committee will include Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia, Augustus Thomas, Hamlin Garland, Prof. Baker of Yale; Robert Underwood Johnson, John H. Finley of the New York Times, and Robert Grant.

Northcott Discharges Counsel and Fights Alone for Life in Trial

YOUTH WANDERS IN CLARK QUIZ

Judge Warns Accused Slayer of Dangers in Step

State Asserts Questionings Constitute Confession

No Comment Made on Return of Mother as Witness

BY JAMES M. KENDRICK
"Times" Staff Representative

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 16.—Gordon Stewart Northcott has elected to play a lone hand in his fight for life for the asserted butchery of boys on his lonely Wineville chicken farm, and this afternoon assumed the dual role of defendant and attorney.

His move followed a lengthy conference this morning between Superior Judge Freeman and all other principals in the case, after which the asserted boy slayer announced that he had discharged his battery of defense counsel and would depend solely upon his own ability to defeat the State's charge that he played the leading role in a murder orgy on his farm.

Northcott's first attempt to try his own case brought him face to face with Sanford Clark, his nephew and chief accuser, whom the asserted slayer ramblingly tried to cross-examine throughout the afternoon session.

ANOTHER CONFESSION

"How often did you see the Winslow boys after I brought them to the ranch," Northcott asked his 15-year-old nephew and then continued with a line of questioning which Dep. Dist.-Attys. Redwine and Kelly declared was tantamount to another of the accused slayer's several confessions.

"Did the Winslow boys appear happy when you came out to the car and met them, as you have testified you did?" Northcott further asked the witness.

"Well, I don't know exactly how they looked, but when I nailed them up in the hen house for the night they didn't seem by their actions to be badly frightened," young Clark told his uncle during the cross-examination.

Northcott's move to take the case into his own hands appeared imminent at the conclusion of yesterday's court session, but because of the uncertainty of the accused slayer's actions his own counsel and the prosecution did not take him seriously.

YOUTH ADAMANT

This morning, however, the youth remained adamant and insisted that he be allowed to conduct his own case.

"If the defendant desires to conduct his own case I don't believe there is any law which prevents him. There may be a technicality which covers the action of a defendant in allowing the case to proceed as far as this one has and then discharge his counsel," Judge Freeman said in part in a lengthy decision handed down on Northcott's motion.

"I warn the defendant, however, that if he firmly has decided to proceed upon his own initiative, he will not be allowed to re-engage the attorneys who have represented him, or any others. From thenceforth he must and will be his only counsel," the court continued.

JUDGE GIVES WARNING

Judge Freeman at the same time warned Northcott that he was, in the court's opinion, making the wrong move.

After several conferences in which Norbert Savay, A. H. De Tremaudan and J. McKinley Cameron consulted with the youth, the latter asked for a private consultation with the court. Upon leaving Judge Freeman's chambers he announced that he would stand by his decision to make his fight for life alone.

After a recess was granted from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. for the purpose of allowing the asserted slayer an opportunity to acquaint himself with the transcript of young Clark's direct testimony, Northcott faced his nephew and began his disconnected cross-examination.

JUMPS ABOUT

Continuously Northcott would jump from the case of the headless Mexican, whom young Clark said he slew and decapitated, to the asserted slaying of Louis and Nelson Winslow and little Walter Collins.

"Did the Mexican's head look fresh when I brought it to the ranch in the bucket? By the way, did the bucket I brought it in originally come from the ranch?" Northcott asked.

"Did I have anything else besides the head?" the accused slayer also asked.

"Yes, you had his clothes," Clark replied.

While young Clark appeared concerned earlier in the day over the possibility of being cross-examined by his uncle, when he took the stand he stared at his questioner defiantly and shot replies at Northcott as rapidly as they were asked. Not once did the boy witness falter.

"Say, what kind of lumber was used when we burned the head, as you say we did?" Northcott asked.

BURNING DESCRIBED

"We gathered scraps from around the ranch to make the fire with," Clark answered.

"Did we use any gasoline or kerosene on the fire?" Northcott queried.

"No, but you put some on the Mexican's clothes and we put them in the same fire," the witness retorted.

"What did we do after we burned the head?" was the accused slayer's next question. Before Clark replied Northcott said:

"By the way, did I do anything before we burned the head?"

"Yes, you went in and washed up after you brought it to the ranch and after we burned it we went to town," the witness replied.

Northcott went into lengthy detail as to the distance from the house to the tin-can dump where Clark says he dumped the residue of the victims; how long it takes to go there from the ranch and a myriad of other details which the prosecution asserts will not be of importance. The slayer is attempting to establish something which court attaches said is not now determinable.

"I believe you said yesterday that when you were arrested at the ranch on an immigration charge, that I left rather hurriedly. Why did I do that?" Northcott asked Clark, and then snickered.

NORTHCOTT LAUGHS

"Because you didn't want to get arrested and have all this stuff found out," the boy answered.

"Did you ever do any work on the ranch?" Northcott asked.

"Yes, I did most of it all the time," Clark answered.

"What was I doing all this time?" Northcott queried.

"Nothing. You made me bring your breakfast to you in bed nearly every morning," the youth shot back at him.

Northcott threw back his head and laughed. Because of the sensation caused by Northcott's previous dramatic meeting with his nephew at the County Hospital detention ward several weeks ago where Northcott asked Sanford to state that the unidentified Mexican was murdered on his Wineville ranch and not in Los Angeles county, court attaches took special precautions when Northcott was allowed to try his own case.

"The defendant will remain in his seat at the counsel table and cross-examine the witness," Judge Freeman ordered. Later, however, Northcott was allowed to show Clark the transcript of the boy's grand jury testimony where Clark was vague as to the Winslow boys' ages.

CHICKENHOUSE NAILED

"At that time, Sanford, you said the boys were 7 or 8 years of age. Now you say one was about your size and the other smaller," Northcott declared after Sanford read the transcript.

"Well, suppose I did. I didn't know their ages and wasn't able to tell much about them because you wouldn't let me get around them much anyway. But I know who they were just the same," the boy fired back at his uncle.

"Why did I have you to nail up the henhouse after the Winslow boys were put there?" Northcott asked.

"So they couldn't get out and run away," the witness answered.

Throughout the questioning Clark sat back easily in the large witness chair, that made him appear undersized for his age, and scowled at his questioner. Despite Northcott's several outbursts of laughter, young Clark never once smiled.

Several times Northcott futilely attempted to put his nephew on record with a definite description of the Winslow boys' clothing, worn on the night of their arrival at the ranch. Clark, however, confined his testimony to the mere fact that one boy had on part of a Boy Scout uniform and the other wore knickers.

PLEASED WITH SELF

"Are you certain of your parentage?" he asked.

"Well, I feel sure of it anyway," the boy replied.

"I am not such a bad attorney after all, am I?" Northcott asked reporters during the afternoon recess. He seemed highly pleased with himself and declared that he will be able to "impeach all of Sanford's testimony and bring out the real truth in this case."

He has not heard from his mother, whose return here as a witness for the defense was ordered yesterday by Judge Freeman.

Following the withdrawal of his attorneys, Northcott made an address to the court during which he thanked his attorneys and declared they "have done nobly and have worked without compensation."

"It is only because I believe that I will be able to get at the truth of matters by cross-examining this witness that I am making this move. I realize my life is now in my owns hands and it is up to me to make the most of it," he stated.

The prosecution never once offered any objections to Northcott's line of questioning, but tonight indicated that tomorrow they will move to the court that the accused slayer be confined to relevant matters.

Lewis K. Rosenberger slapped his wife's face because she refused to bring his slippers, Mrs. Betty Rosenberger testified before Superior Judge Yankwich yesterday.

Mrs. Rosenberger also said Rosenberger locked her up in the garage and kept her there for a period of twenty-four hours.

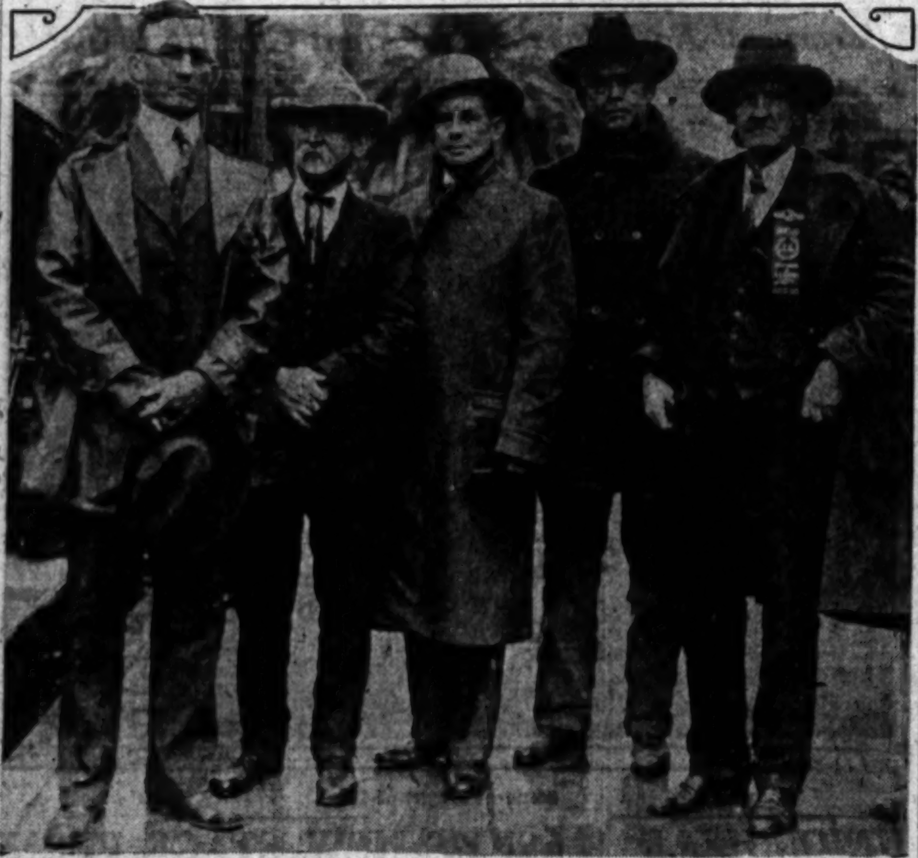
Colorful Past Recalled at Two-Gun Man's Funeral



They All Knew Him When—

EARP BURIED BY OLD WEST

Pioneer Folk Gather at Rites of Peace Officer Whose Life Molded Frontier History

Wyatt Earp's funeral was conducted down at Pierce Brothers' chapel yesterday and it was like a reunion of the sturdy men and women who knew Wyatt as a wiry, six-foot two-gun officer of the law in mining town, cow camp and almost anywhere along the frontier where trouble was apt to pop loose.

George M. Easton came in from Colton, recalling that it was the Earp boys who were called into Colton to help clean up that town at a time when outlawry was so rampant that desperadoes used to ride into town at night and knock out the lamps in houses with their guns.

Bill Hart, no novice in the ways of the West himself, came in from his place and was one of the pallbearers. Bill, as a little boy, knew Wyatt in Dodge City when that town was going good on the frontier. Tom Mix was there and as a friend of the deceased was a pallbearer.

SHOOTING REMEMBERED

There was Mrs. Roma Thorndyke, widow of Melburn Thorndyke, who was numbered among the mourners. Tears filled her eyes when she told how she remembered as a little girl 7 years of age back there in Tombstone in '81, the day that Wyatt shot it out with the Clantons. As a child would, she ran out into the street the minute she heard the shooting start, but someone grabbed her and threw her flat on the floor in a grocery store or something.

Maj. John P. Clum, one of the well-known figures of the West of earlier days, was one of the pallbearers. Maj. Clum is a long-time friend of the Earps. Why, he was the first Mayor of Tombstone and Wyatt Earp was his Chief of Police. The major was founder and editor of the Tombstone Epitaph, a newspaper whose history is wrapped in the history of the Southwest, and is still reporting the doings of Tombstone and surrounding territory. That was in '81. Maj. Clum's and Wyatt's trails crossed again up in the Yukon in '98 and in Nome in 1900. The major was extending the postal service in Alaska at that time and Wyatt was gold hunting.

Wilson Mizner, another pallbearer, and J. P. Browner, knew Earp up in the Klondike country, also. They met Maj. Clum again, for the first time since then, at the funeral yesterday. Other pallbearers included George W. Parsons, formerly of Tombstone, Charles Welch, Fred Dornberger, and Jim Mitchell.

MANY ASSEMBLE

Out from the colorful past of the old West stepped these friends of Wyatt Earp, their numbers increased by others until extra chairs had to be brought into the chapel to seat them all. There they sat, this colorful company of actors from the melodrama of the older days, bronzed of face, and those who were not white haired were bald headed. Many of them carried canes and they were not for mere ornament, either. Some wore business suits and some wore heavy jackets of wool or leather; some with large long overcoats made to "turn the wind" that has a habit of driving the chill into the bones when one is getting old. There was a sprinkling of younger folks there, too.

Sitting there in the chapel before Wyatt's bier banked high with flowers, while from somewhere came the music of a harp, these men and women no doubt let their thoughts drift back to the happy, though turbulent days when the man in the casket there before them was among them helping to lay the foundations for the West of today.

When Dr. Harper of the Wilshire Boulevard Congregational Church began to speak, these veterans snapped out of their reverie and leaned forward. Some of them rested their elbows on their canes as they cupped their hands over their ears.

HE KNEW PLAINS

"We are here to pay our respects to one who has journeyed across the plains of life for a long time," said Dr. Harper. Yes, most of those before him knew just what that journey meant.

One ruddy-faced neighbor of old eased in through the door and dropped into a seat in the back row. He wore a pink carnation in his lapel. He meant to be quiet, but when he was settling down he recognized the man next to him as one he had not seen in years, and he slapped him on the shoulder and said quite audibly, "Well, old-timer, how are you!" They mumbled along during most of the sermon, apparently swapping comment.

The brief services over, the mourners passed by the coffin and as they came out through the side door there were plenty whose eyes were red. Among those who were present were Tom Grady and M. C. Beckwith and Dr. D. K. Dickinson, who knew Earp in Tombstone many years ago; Jack Cochrane, who knew him in Alaska; Dr. George B. Calnan, who knew him in El Paso; Joe Treest, who knew him in Tonopah and Goldfield; E. A. Speegle of Tombstone days, and Frank E. Cline, a friend of his for the past twenty years in Los Angeles.

stripping religion of its sophistry. The Immaculate Conception and other points of difference between sects are of no interest to me. Christ was a philosopher whose teachings were so far ahead of his time that they can be followed today by lively, happy people.

"I consider that everything which is young, light, gladsome, careless, free, dancing and song-filled belongs to Christ. Everything that is clean and lovely and beautiful belongs to the philosophy of Christ. The theater has a kinship with the church in this respect.

"Do I dance? Yes. Smoke? Only occasionally, because smoking injures my throat. I like the drama, too. No, these things may not be conventional for a minister, but Christ was not conventional. He preferred the friendship of publicans and sinners. I don't blame him—they are infinitely more delightful than pious people. He was a laughing Christ, for he turned the water into wine at a wedding feast so that the dancing and merriment might go on.

"I believe in temperance and think that the Volstead Act is the greatest piece of social legislation in history. No, the young people are not worse than their forebears. Frankness is not a sin. Whether grandmother and grandfather like it or not, they must get used to it."

THE SPORTING THING

Miss Crawford is 28 years of age. She was literally reared in the ranks of the Salvation Army, her father being Col. Charles A. W. Crawford, chief secretary of the western territory, with headquarters in San Francisco. Miss Crawford, who is an ordained Congregational minister, left the Salvation Army, she said, because she could not stop the publicity attached to her activities in New York. This publicity was frowned upon by Commander Evangeline Booth and others and she thought it the sporting thing to do to avoid displeasing them further, she declared.

Commencing next Sunday morning Miss Crawford will conduct a Sunday morning studio service from a local broadcasting station. Beginning February 1, next, she will speak every Sunday evening from the pulpit of Wilshire Boulevard Congregational Church.

TULLY BATTLE WILL BE BITTER

Startling Outcome Pledged in Divorce Tangle

Attorney for Wife Denies Writer's Charges

Naming of Neilan Brings Retort from Lawyer

A bitter court fight over charges hurled by Jim Tully, author, in a cross-complaint to a divorce action brought by his wife, Margaret Myers Tully, in which Marshall Neilan is named, was promised yesterday by attorneys representing Mrs. Tully and the director.

Mrs. Tully is out of the city recuperating from a nervous illness and her counsel, Clay Robbins, issued a statement in her behalf in which he declares that an answer and a complete denial of the accusations will be duly filed in Superior Court.

TELLS FIGHT PLANS

"Inasmuch as Mrs. Tully is out of the city and I have talked to her only briefly on the telephone, there is little to say for the present except to issue a denial of the charges in her behalf," Robbins said. "We plan to fight the charges to the fullest extent possible when the time comes."

Attorney Milton Cohen, to whom Neilan, prominent in film circles as a director, referred all inquiries, was a little more forceful in making a statement for Neilan.

"We are little concerned over the charges except to clear Neilan's name," the attorney said. "He has a full legal defense and we consider the charges silly. In due time will be filed the necessary papers setting forth his legal denial and something of a startling nature may be the outcome."

TULLY'S CHARGES

Tully sets forth in his cross-complaint a purported confession made to him by his wife in which she told of her asserted infidelity with Neilan. He specifically accuses his wife of infidelity, and charges she clandestinely met Neilan at the latter's home at 601 Camden Drive, Beverly Hills, on the night of May 6, 1928, following a party Mrs. Tully attended at the home of a film actor in Santa Monica.

Mrs. Tully originated the divorce action by filing a complaint accusing Tully of cruelty. Another complaint was filed previously by her but dropped when they became reconciled. Tully gained prominence as a writer of hobo stories and as a protege of H. L. Mencken. His wife asserts the community property is worth $150,000, and that Tully's monthly income is $2000. One of his stories was made into a film.

FOUR ACES CASE DISPOSITION COMMENDED

Superior Judge Schauer was right when he permitted J. W. Garrity and L. B. Longenecker to go free on probation to reorganize the Four Aces Mining Company that they were convicted of plundering, the grand jury declared in adopting a report of a special committee yesterday.

The grand jury also commended the report of Chief Probation Officer May, on which Judge Schauer acted. Mr. May stated that the only way investors in the Four Aces company could recover was by Garrity and Longenecker being forced to make restitution as part of the terms of their probation.

The defendants were found guilty of violating the Corporation Securities Act in issuing stock to their wives, for no consideration, then selling it without permission from State authorities.

The grand jury's resolution said in part:

"The grand jury has questioned Judge Schauer and Mr. May and desires to state that there is no element of criticism whatever of either the judge or the probation officer. On the contrary, the committee commended Judge Schauer on his handling of the case."

Barbara Kent Gets Lloyd Role Through Party

It was a lucky day for Barbara Kent when she attended a recent social function in Hollywood, because Harold Lloyd happened to be there, too. For, it was learned yesterday, it was at this party that Lloyd met Miss Kent for the first time and now she is leading lady in his production now being filmed.

BARBARA KENT

While at the party with Mrs. Lloyd, the comedian was introduced to Miss Kent. At the studio next day he went immediately to John L. Murphy, production manager.

"Get Miss Kent over to the studio. I think I've found the leading lady we want," Harold told Murphy.

Miss Kent was called, a screen test was made, and she was signed on loan from Universal, thus ending a search for a leading lady which had been going on for weeks. Incidentally Miss Kent is the third Wampas baby star to play Lloyd's lead, the other two being Jobyna Ralston and Ann Christy.

SLOT MACHINES FADE OUT

Fitts's Agents Fail to Find Any in County Tour; Plans for Continued Vigilance Announced

The slot machine evil in Los Angeles county yesterday was officially declared a thing of the past by agents operating under Tom O'Brien, chief of Dist.-Atty. Fitts's vice squad. After cruising about the county all day two details of men were unable to find any such machines operating.

Ten days after taking office as District Attorney, Fitts issued an ultimatum to slot-machine owners telling them that they must withdraw their contrivances or face indictment by the grand jury.

The owners agreed to remove all gambling slot machines from the county within a month and yesterday Fitts sent his agents out to ascertain whether the owners had kept their terms of the agreement.

Vigilance will be continued, however, L. C. Wheeler, chief of Fitts's bureau of investigation, said last night. A detail of men will be maintained for some time to guard against the installation and operation of these devices. If any offenders are found an indictment charging conspiracy to violate the State law will be asked against them from the grand jury.

A similar provision governs the jurisdiction of counties, he declared.

The opinion does not go into the construction of the proposed cement plant itself, but confines itself to the pipe line by which the cement plant backers propose to carry off the by-products of the plant to a barge anchored several hundred feet offshore in Santa Monica Bay.

By inference, therefore, Federal jurisdiction will center around the proposed pipe line and its seaward barge as they affect navigation.

CITY URGED TO ACQUIRE TIDELANDS IN QUESTION

Another move to protect the interests of the public against the proposed encroachment of a cement manufacturing project in the Santa Monica hills residential district was made yesterday when the City Playgrounds and Recreation Commission suggested that the City Council seek to acquire jurisdiction over tidelands in the affected district.

While the purpose of the playground commission is essentially in its own interest and in line with practices of the city with reference to acquiring jurisdiction over tidelands, the move also would insure a further barrier to the proposed pipe line to be run from the grinding mill to the ocean. The general policy is to have the State cede to the municipality jurisdiction over tidelands adjoining the municipality. When Los Angeles acquired the area affected in the Santa Monica Bay district, this jurisdiction over the tidelands in question was not obtained. The purpose of the commission is to remedy this omission by suggesting that the City Council proceed immediately to obtain from the State Legislature jurisdiction over these tidelands.

The tidelands in question are said to cover territory over which the cement plant promoters propose to run their pipe line. The promoters would have to obtain a permit from the city for the right of way. Already they have a request before the War Department to lay their pipe line on the floor of the ocean. Action on this request is understood to be awaiting certain rulings, with neither side particularly anxious to crowd the matter right now.

The suggestion of the playground commission was referred by the Council to its playground committee for consideration and report.

County Health Groups Publish Monthly Paper

To meet the needs of local health conditions, the Los Angeles County Health Department, jointly with the Los Angeles County Public Health Association, has announced the monthly publication of the Los Angeles County Health News.

The first issue is devoted to a survey of the health problems of Los Angeles county; information on health services available to the public and brief health educational articles written by staff workers. Theodore H. Sierks is the editor. The slogan, "Health Is Wealth," has been adopted and is the subject of the lead editorial written by Dr. John L. Pomeroy, County Health Officer.

The County Health News carries no advertising and is distributed on request to persons interested in public health, its sponsors announced.

Today's Bible Text

The Lord reigneth; let the earth rejoice; let the multitude of isles be glad thereof. Psalm xcvii:1.

NO REASON AT ALL

Woman is running for Mayor of St. Paul because she had a dream in which she saw herself leading a host of her fellows. What of it? Lots of men have been running for office for less reason than this.

WAR ITEM

Junior Rockefeller starts a war upon Col. Robert Stewart, head of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, and then takes the boat for Egypt. The layman will wonder whether this is a gesture or a battle. Tell better in March.

PAY-ROLL ROBBERIES

So frequent have pay-roll robberies become in many parts of the country that the National Crime Commission has appointed a special committee to discover a way to prevent them. Matching their wits against the makers of armored cars and other devices for the safeguarding of treasure, bandits have made such devices of dubious value. If the Crime Commission can find some means of outwitting them and making pay rolls safe from their depredations they will have performed a great public service.

FINANCE AND RELIGION

At the age of 26 an Adventist preacher in Brooklyn is reported as paying the lofty price of $560,000 for a seat on the New York Stock Exchange. He doesn't get a chance to sit in one of his own pews on Sunday and so he craves a costly divan during the week. While preaching to a congregation on the Sabbath he has been doing brokerage on week days and in a very few years has amassed a big pan of dough. Now that he has taken one of the seats of the mighty he should be able to add to the Sunday collection plate.

SOMETHING ON FOOT

Among the seasonal exhibits are dainty little shoes for dames and damsels of distinction. They have a sandal-like tang and look as if they ought to be worth at least $9. They are. The man who fits them to flossy feet has, in fact, the courage to charge $300 for them—subject, of course, to a slight reduction for a one-legged wife. Nor is this all. If you have the exalted hardihood to ask for something better the leather artist will steer your eyes against a jeweled shoe that eats up a $1500 bill. There must be many Cinderellas at large this season.

ANDREW J. MULLEN

The closing of a useful career, after long years of successful endeavor have preceded the inevitable end, is an event that calls for general sorrow in the community benefited by the services rendered. Doubly intense are the feelings of grief when the career of a useful servant and well-loved citizen is cut short prematurely while his powers are still at their zenith and the promise of his life work has not reached its full fruition.

Such is the general feeling of the friends and associates of Andrew J. Mullen, head of one of the oldest and best known of our Los Angeles mercantile houses, at the news of his unexpected death just as he had reached the prime of life and was establishing his business enterprises on a stronger and more extensive footing. The sympathy for his widow and family in their sudden bereavement is deep and widespread in the city where the name of Mullen and Bluett has so long been a household word and its president and general manager so universally respected.

In another two years the house of Mullen and Bluett will reach the half-century mark of its existence, an unusual record in the changeful West. The grandson of its founder has seen the original establishment move three times in Los Angeles, each time to more commodious quarters and branches started in Hollywood and Pasadena. Andrew Mullen has been called from the further betterments he had in mind for the business he did so much to advance, but the results of his untiring efforts remain and through them he will be numbered among the leaders who have helped to build Los Angeles.

THE ANTIWAR PACT RATIFIED

References to the United States Senate as the "graveyard of treaties" are no longer quite so appropriate, since that body on Tuesday ratified without emasculating the Kellogg-Briand treaty outlawing war. The treaty-wrecking sentiment had its fling, to be sure, but it was a mere gesture. Interpretation of a treaty is not fixed by the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate; it is fixed by the working out of events, which neither that committee nor anyone else can fully foresee; and that committee's ideas on the subject are neither very interesting nor important.

It has been said that the Kellogg-Briand pact amounts to little more than the expression of a lofty sentiment. The same thing might be said about the Sermon on the Mount, which for twenty centuries has profoundly influenced the world in many ways. No treaty, no matter how specific its provisions, has any more meaning than the signatory nations give it; any treaty can be treated as a "scrap of paper" if the nation so treating it is willing to take the consequence—which may be light or grave as circumstances dictate. In the case of the antiwar pact the expression of a lofty sentiment seems likely to be extremely practical from the fact that the most powerful signatory, the United States, means it.

As a matter of fact, what has been called the basic weakness of the Kellogg pact—the absence of any means for its enforcement—is its chief strength. International "understandings" dependent upon implied threats of force for their observance obviously are not on the basis upon which enduring peace can be built. Friendship between nations, as between individuals, cannot exist in an atmosphere of suspicion and mental reservations. Peace guaranteed by force is not peace nor will it be observed beyond the range of the cannon that enforce it.

It was that factor which kept the United States out of the League of Nations, thereby robbing that well-intentioned organization of its greatest potential strength. Its absence from the Kellogg pact, moreover, alone made possible the latter's ratification by pulling the teeth of the isolationists. At that, there was no lack of suggested "reservations" sponsored by politicians of the Hearst stripe and only their obvious incongruity kept them from emasculating our participation.

Friends of the treaty had hoped that its acceptance here would be so whole-hearted that its sincerity would be apparent to all the world. But the Senate does nothing whole-heartedly except poking and prying into matters which do not legitimately concern it, and the 85-to-1 vote by which this pact was made part of international law, so far as the United States could make it so, is an offset to the time-wasting and futile discussion which preceded it.

The next step should be adherence by the United States to the World Court, the necessary instrumentality to make the treaty effective. The United States, by this treaty, has renounced war, except in plain self-defense, and has agreed to the solution of all international controversies by peaceful means. But the treaty itself sets up no tribunal for this peaceful solution; there was no reason why it should do so since the tribunal already existed.

It exists, but without the United States, thanks to previous Senate activities and Senate objections to nothing, and because the Senate insists upon adding the attempted practice of diplomacy, which is none of its business, to the duties enjoined upon it by the Constitution. The United States can and should be in the World Court, and this session of Congress should not end without the taking of positive steps to put it there.

The naval-maintenance program should also be passed by the Senate quickly. There is here no conflict of ideas with those of the antiwar pact, except in the brains of perfervid politicians like Lloyd George, who are running for office and have to say something, and in the minds of the incurable ultra-pacifists. The antiwar treaty will do a great deal to prevent war, but it is no infallible mechanism, and reasonable preparation for possible contingencies is no more than insurance such as is carried on the most fireproof of buildings. As fireproofing is perfected, insurance rates decline, but do not disappear. As the danger of war subsides the cost of defensive armament will subside also, but may not wholly be eliminated, at least for some generations.

Cutting down of armament cannot be done unilaterally; there must be joint action. The United States has vital interests which it must protect, and it must have means of protecting them.

THE C. D. A. CAMPAIGN

The California Development Association, which starts today a campaign for 1000 new members in Southern California, is an institution which should need no explanation to Californians, so numerous have been its accomplishments for the benefit of the State in the past few years. But to those conscious of the benefits, yet ignorant of the directing influence behind them, it may be said that the association is the State Chamber of Commerce and that in its membership are represented local chambers, producing and marketing associations, boards of supervisors, corporations, partnerships, and individuals. The usefulness of such a body is apparent and its record proves it to be as useful in practice as it should be in theory.

One of its most important functions has been in bringing about State unity. All through the State's history, all through the history of California in Mexican and even Spanish times there were forces at work seeking to pry the northern and southern portions of the territory apart, to set up and magnify the differences and the divergences of interest. That these forces, of late, have been waning, that there is more and more of a tendency to harmonize conflicts instead of intensifying them, is due in large measure to the California Development Association.

It is impossible to describe in a few words the multifarious other activities of the organization; they cover the field of California industry, with all its complexity and its diversity, and with all of its common interest. They also touch upon living conditions. The association is not merely trying to turn California into a giant factory; it is trying to make life in the State more pleasant, more urbane, fuller and richer. Its program requires concerted effort and the widest possible participation; and for this reason its usefulness is multiplied as its membership increases. Many hands make light work.

Those interested in the details of its achievement may find them in its reports; they will discover there little activity with which any loyal Californian can object to, and much to which everyone will give whole-hearted approval.

PUBLIC DEBT REDUCTION

In the hot rush of events the fact probably has been overlooked by many newspaper readers that the government has greatly reduced the public debt, which now stands at $17,309,749,135. During last year a reduction of $726,603,315 was effected. There is a cash balance in the general fund amounting to $269,543,968. After the payment of current expenses what is left of this will be applied on further debt reduction.

The war debt reached its peak in 1919. Since that year nearly $10,000,000,000 has been paid on the principal, and large amounts in interest. This may be considered a remarkable financial achievement, when one considers the tax reductions of the last five or six years. Treasurer Mellon has refunded in the last few months the enormous sum of $142,393,567 to more than 168,501 claimants of excess taxes, ten of them getting back $1,000,000 or more each.

President Coolidge has asked that $75,000,000 more be added to the refund budget for 1929, for which $130,000,000 already had been proposed, making a total of $205,000,000 to be returned to taxpayers. Despite all these refundings and other heavy drains upon the Treasury, it is anticipated that another large reduction will be made in the public debt this year.

But while the Federal government has been cutting down its debt the States and municipal governments have been greatly increasing their liabilities. A writer in the Washington Post says that the total indebtedness of the States has increased nearly 300 per cent in the last ten years. The total now stands at nearly $1,500,000,000. Municipal governments have more than reached this record. New York, termed by Irvin Cobb the "City of Dreadful Debt," has run up a very high score, its net funded indebtedness now amounting to about $1,400,000,000.

So that while taxpayers have been receiving considerable benefit from the reduction of the national debt in smaller taxes, these are being offset by higher local debts and taxes. Our profligate State and municipal governments might well look to Washington for lessons in economy. But, judging by the present tendency toward extravagance, there is no immediate prospect of their doing so.

THE LADY ATHLETES

As usual the women are themselves divided over the problem. One group of club women will assert with emphasis that girls should not compete in athletic contests such as the Olympic Games while another division announces with equal force that no restraint can be suggested—that the young women ought to go out and beat the men in their own field. That is, if they can. They will stand for no limitations or barriers. If they want to do the high jumps, toss the hammer or play polo let them go to it. But the conservatives argue that all this makes a maiden mannish and does not even make for better health. It is admitted that athletes are not always good risks for the insurance companies. The lady boxers and toreadors forfeit the native charm of their sex. The dame who specializes in physical prowess is not desired by the average bachelor. The moderates would prefer a middle ground for maidenly athletics. They would provide competition between girls themselves in events that are admittedly suitable to the sex, but would keep them free from rivalry with male athletes in more strenuous events. There is a lot of argument in the air. In the meantime the young Junos will continue to do as they doggone please?

THE KEY TO SUCCESS

By James J. Montague

The ground hog gazes at the sky
And if the sun is riding high

And his black shadow he can see
He says "Back in my hole for me."

But if the snow is falling fast
And loudly howls the winter blast,

He says, "It's spring, or thereabout,
And consequently I'll come out."

The husbandmen and pioneers
The ground hog rates with gifted seers.

But when their seeding time they plan
They both consult the weather man,

And do not credit in the least
The word of this fallacious beast

Which maybe once in his career
Could get his prophecy in gear.

And yet I'm hearing people say,
"We'll know what's what on Ground Hog Day!"

Which shows that if you'd fain succeed
A reputation's all you need!

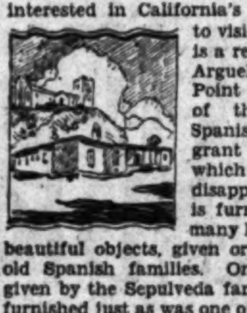
The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

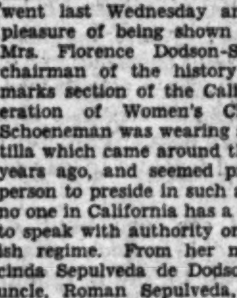
By Lee Shippey

JUST across from Sycamore Grove is the Casa Adobe, a place everyone interested in California's past ought to visit. The Casa is a replica of the Arguello home at Point Loma, one of the historic Spanish land-grant manors which now has disappeared, and is furnished with many historic and beautiful objects, given or loaned by old Spanish families. One room is given by the Sepulveda family, and is furnished just as was one of the rooms in the original Sepulveda home. Other rooms are similarly furnished and, though not all are as completely furnished as could be desired, the house and its patio and garden give a graphic idea of how the old grandees of this territory lived.



Wednesdays and Sundays

Casa Adobe was built and furnished by the Hispania Society, the members of which are descendants of our first families, but now has been turned over to the Southwest Museum. It is open to the public only on Wednesdays and Sundays. But members of the Hispania Society still act as hostesses there on Wednesdays. We went last Wednesday and had the pleasure of being shown through by Mrs. Florence Dodson-Schoeneman, chairman of the history and landmarks section of the California Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Schoeneman was wearing a lace mantilla which came around the Horn 200 years ago, and seemed precisely the person to preside in such a casa. And no one in California has a better right to speak with authority on the Spanish regime. From her mother, Lucinda Sepulveda de Dodson, and her uncle, Roman Sepulveda, who were born on the great Sepulveda rancho which extended from San Pedro to the mountains and was one of the half-dozen land grants given by King Carlos of Spain, she knows all about it, and no one can tell it more charmingly.



Tactless Sightseers

As she led from room to room those who listened attentively and with understanding were transported to another atmosphere, saw again proud old houses filled with gracious senoritas and courtly caballeros. But not all listened that way. Some of the things some of them said were gauche beyond compare. For instance, there is only one ancient bowl on the dining table, and one wiseacre loudly exclaimed: "You see, these primitive people all ate from one central dish." Others expressed loud surprise at finding a bathroom.

"A bath was a rather rare thing with these people, though, wasn't it?" ingenuously asked a perfectly gowned woman whose culture seemed very cheap and new compared to that of her hostess.

But the hostess showed no irritation. "Oh, no," she answered. "You see, they had plenty of servants to carry the water in and out. It was more trouble than nowadays—but, really, bathing was quite a habit."

And Ever Shall Be

Somehow the comments of some of the visitors reminded us of a letter Charles Fletcher Lummis wrote us not long before his death. To prove that an Americanized Spanish name now in use was correct, some one had written us that in the Hall of Records is a map, made in 1847, on which the name appeared in the un-Spanish form. "That doesn't prove anything," characteristically wrote Dr. Lummis, "except that there were ignoramuses then as well as now."

'SALL WRONG!
LOS FELIZ
WELL, BE AS IT MAY!

Ow! When Mrs. J. Reads That!

Shatterproof glass is well enough,
But what autos lack, alas,
To cut this back-seat driving stuff
Is some holeproof chatterproof glass.

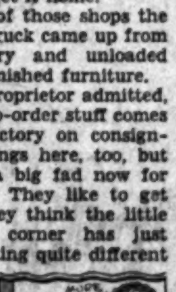
Made-to-Order Furniture

Maybe you've noticed the savage outbreak of little cabinetmaker shops all over town. There are several in Hollywood, and some scattered all about. In them you may get anything from a doll buggy to a living-room suite made to order, and paint it up yourself after you get it home.

We were in one of those shops the other day when a truck came up from a furniture factory and unloaded about a ton of unfinished furniture.

"Oh, sure," the proprietor admitted, "lots of our made-to-order stuff comes to us from the factory on consignment. I make things here, too, but people here have a big fad now for rolling their own. They like to get unfinished stuff they think the little shop around the corner has just turned out—something quite different from the ordinary factory product, you know—and finishing it up themselves and then proudly exhibiting it as their own work, or made in accordance to their plans. It's just one of the pleasant, harmless little fads that go around, and we might as well indulge them in it."



LETTERS TO The Times

[Name and address of writer must accompany all letters for this column. Letters of a personal nature or involving contentious religious questions are not acceptable.]

Sandino

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The Lancer column of your issue of today has a boost for Sandino (dignified in that boost as general) and a knock for our marines, both without foundation. In no country is Sandino discredited more than in Nicaragua.

Like the proverbial flea, Sandino, with his handful of outlaws, jumps from one side of the Nicaraguan-Honduran border line to the other, in which vicinity he stays, to keep fresh his propaganda. Neither the recently defeated Conservative party nor the winning Liberals in Nicaragua take interest or time enough to even speak of Sandino; and the Nicaraguan press seldom, if ever, gives him space.

Our marines in Nicaragua, who in the Lancer's article are said to have no brains, have just assisted most commendably in an election in Nicaragua which will always redound to the credit of the American nation. The marines in Nicaragua are making no great effort to get Sandino, who is being given plenty of rope to sooner or later hang himself with.

JUST RETURNED FROM NICARAGUA.

Deep Sea Lore

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The undersigned has been fishing for sixty years and has never heard of a baskell shark, which you pictured recently. You may have reference to the basking shark, which has no teeth except a ridge around its jawbone containing hundreds of small ones, size of a grain of wheat. He lives on small fish and also has an appetite for vegetable matter from the bottom of the sea. Years ago I measured a basking shark thirty feet long at San Pedro, the appearance of teeth in his mouth has a cartilage effect.

I did one time (off Cape Cod) catch a sea cat with hundreds of horns in 600 feet of water, it had been caught before and marked W. I.

A Moral Jolt

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It is to be hoped all your readers read and pondered the article, "Deliberate Graft," by Alma Whitaker. It contains much admonitory truth in very brief compass. The common, desperate struggle for wealth—not a competence, but wealth—is so widespread, permeating all classes, that, as Alma Whitaker intimates, it has become a menace to democracy and democratic institutions.

We of the comfortable or well-to-do classes, who are not striving for great wealth, have not, fortunately, the temptations of the strivers. The evils of that striving, personally and for the public, are as your writer says, obvious here in these days when we read of the fate that has caught up with some seekers after easy money. England, as mentioned, was in a pit of corruption for nearly a century, but, backed by an aroused and enlightened public sentiment, she dug herself out by the reform of her judicial system, of her legal procedure and by compelling her lawyers to use common sense and not technicalities in unraveling legal snarls.

More power to The Times for giving our minds (and maybe our moral senses) a jolt by printing such an article.

A. J. MERITON.

Junior Abroad

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Here's a bouquet for your edition of the Junior Times tossed to you from far-off China. Mrs. Frederick Beach, whose husband is professor of psychology in Fukien University at Foochow, writes a friend in Los Angeles as follows: "My little daughter Betty and I want to thank you more than words can tell for all your faithfulness in sending us the Junior Times. You may be interested to know that all these months, since February, 1927, we have received each week's paper with the exception of three. The page of history pictures we have saved and mounted in a large scrap book with a Chinese cover. This year Betty is studying "European Beginnings of American History" in which she learns of ancient history and medieval. As we read the facts of Egyptian, Greek and Roman history she looks over these pictures in the Junior Times with their interesting stories in fuller detail. We are having a lovely time with this scrap book. We are now up to No. 86 and missed but three copies, which is a fine record for you and for the Trans-Pacific mails."

How many young folks in America I wonder are taking a similar advantage of these "High Lights of History" as published from week to week in the Junior Times?

He Put the Fire Out

Victor Murchie of Calais, Me., discovered that a gun sometimes comes in handy as fire-fighting apparatus. Mr. Murchie was putting his thirty-foot motorboat on the beach at high tide, with the intention of tying up the craft for the winter, when it caught fire. Unable to extinguish the flames, he picked up his gun, shot holes in the hull and sank the boat, quickly putting out the fire. When the tide went out the boat was beached and was found to be only slightly damaged.

COPS

BY AN ORDINARY CITIZEN

A great deal has been written and vociferated about the cop, his failings and sins, the bawlings out he gives to perfectly innocent and irreproachable people, the things he doesn't see which he should and the things he sees we wish he wouldn't. You may believe every word of it, prove it up to the hilt, swallow the wildest stories of police corruption, graft and favoritism, book, line and sinker; and then, in common fairness, Mr. Ordinary Citizen, stand at a busy intersection some evening in the rush hour, for at least twenty or thirty minutes.

You will see them handling hundreds of people each hour, individually and collectively, handling them day after day, month in and month out, with a skill, a good humor, a friendliness that should command your whole-hearted respect and loyalty. These men have to think quickly and clearly, they have to see all it is humanly possible to see, and they have to act without hesitation.

No one can watch the men who work regularly at the street intersections of Los Angeles' business district and not realize that they give the best they have to their task, that they are skilled workmen of a high order. And don't run off with the notion that just anybody can be a good traffic officer. It calls for qualities of character that are invaluable in any other reputable line of human endeavor.

Walk down Broadway at noon or 5 o'clock, from Temple to Eighth. How often do you see an officer out of humor, or see him even speak sharply unless the offense is flagrant? Look over Hill street from Second to Seventh. Second with its extra road beside the tunnel where puzzled drivers don't know whether to go or stop. But the officer, from across the street, makes it clear to them. No one is left in the slightest doubt as to what he means. Collisions would occur frequently there, without him.

Third street at Hill, which narrows up for the tunnel. This increases the joys of the job for that custodian, whose unfailing good temper and kindness do more to promote a respect for law and order than all the "tough" cops in Christendom.

On down through the Subway melee, which hasn't the dignity of an intersection or of signals. Pleasant tangle that, for a traffic man.

Fifth and Hill is worth your inspection any time of the day. It is a good steady drag from 10 to 6, and it is presided over by a man who fits its multiple necessities. You may find him half way to Broadway or all the way to Olive, keeping traffic on the move, answering questions, explaining driving rules to befuddled tourists—doing the hundred things that help to educate and protect the public.

Walk on up Fifth to Grand. Here is a condition somewhat like Second and Hill, an extra, parallel road emptying into the main traffic artery. But here the flow of cars is much heavier off of Hope street in the evening, since there is no outlet west. A good third of the autos make left-hand turns, and traffic often becomes so congested on Fifth that much of it must be sent down Grand. Stand there for a while and watch the regular officer clean up the mess.

Then go down to Ninth and Main about a quarter to 5, and get your degree. If anybody had deliberately invented a tough nut for a traffic officer to crack, he couldn't have beat that intersection. A triangle of an acre or so is laced with car tracks, and twelve car lines—count 'em!—use it. That is, there are only twelve when the extra E and W cars are not also using the intersection, and the Pacific Electric work cars.

These lines do not go straight through—nothing so simple as that! Four of them continue up Main street, but two switch over from Main to Spring, the N car from Ninth turns up Spring, and the Pacific Electric lines from the opposite side turn up Main. If it had just been planned so that the N line would cross over to Main and the Pacific Electric lines go up Spring, it would have put the finishing touch to an otherwise perfect arrangement. Then the three square feet of pavement where that policeman can stand in safety would have been reduced to none. This suggestion is submitted to the traffic department for whatever it is worth.

Stand on the sidewalk for forty or fifty minutes—if you have the endurance—and count the number of smash-ups prevented by the officer in the middle of that muddle, and the number of people he stops from stepping in front of street cars and autos. While you're about it, you might count the number of times he risks his neck, in the routine pursuit of his work. If you happen upon a heavy hour, when he has a sergeant and another man helping him, you'll get the commonly expressive "eyeful." The spectacle is impossible to describe. It must be seen to be understood.

I have not called attention to these particular men because they are extraordinary, but because they are not. They are fairly representative of our traffic force. There are dozens like them, many of whom work in equally difficult positions. All of them are deserving of our strongest support and co-operation.

A CHAMPION'S GREETING N' EVERYTHING

The boys and girls turned out a brass band and made a lot of whoopee when Ace Hudkins came home yesterday. The "Wildcat" licked Rene DeVos, the Belgian, in the big town recently and is on the trail of Mickey Walker looking for another middleweight championship bout. "Two-Gun" Tom Kennedy, hero of the fillums, proposes to promote this bout at Las Vegas, Nev., and with both Walker and Hudkins here he expects to do a lot of sharpshooting. POLOISTS MIX IN TILT HERE

San Mateo and Midwick Four Clash at Alhambra

Twelve Goal Players Tangle in Mallet Tourney

Hitchcock Coming for Games at Purple Field

BY FRANK ROCHE

Polo occupies the sporting spotlight tomorrow at the Midwick Country Club. The San Mateo Blues and the Midwick Purples clash in the third game on the winter program in Southern California. The Blues defeated the Purple team last Sunday at Midwick in one of the most exciting games ever staged on the Purple Field. The game was extended to nine chukkers before a decision was reached.

CARLETON BURKE

The Midwick players have made one change in their line-up for the game tomorrow. Jim Bordero will replace Charley Wrightsman at No. 1. The rest of the team made up of Hal Roach, Teddy Miller and Dr. Harry Wilson remains the same.

The San Mateo team is one of the famous low-goal combinations in polo. The squad composed of Kenneth Walsh at No. 1, George Pope at No. 2, Lindsey Howard at No. 3 and Dick Schwerin at back is a splendid outfit.

The clash tomorrow is expected to be one of the fastest kind of polo contests staged here in some years. The Purple riders believe they were entitled to a victory last Sunday and that luck alone kept them from getting on the right side of the polo ledger.

The Blues claim they will defeat the Purple team by a wider margin in tomorrow's game.

The feature tilts of the polo season will start one week from Sunday when Tommy Hitchcock and his San Carlos riders gallop on the turf in the high-goal play at Midwick. Tommy is bringing one of the finest teams that has ever shown here.

On the team are Charley Schwartz, F. W. C. Guest and George Moore. Guest is one of the heroes of the last international matches between Argentina and the United States.

The line-ups tomorrow are:

Midwick	Pos.	San Mateo
Bortero	No. 1	Walsh
Roach	No. 2	Pope
Miller	No. 3	Howard
Wilson	Back	Schwerin

Willaman to Coach Eleven at Ohio State

COLUMBUS (O.) Jan. 16. (AP)—Sam S. Willaman, since 1926 assistant director of football at Ohio State University, today was selected to succeed Dr. J. W. Wilce as football coach by the athletic board. Immediately after his appointment, Willaman said he would seek the services of George Houser as line coach and Don Miller to direct the backfield. Houser is a former Minnesota tackle, now living in Minneapolis and coaching at Colgate. Miller, famous as one of the "four horsemen" at Notre Dame, is an attorney at Cleveland. He has been backfield coach at Georgia Tech in Atlanta since graduating from Notre Dame in 1924.

SIX-CLUB LOOP MAGNATES' IDEA

Circuit Would Replace Utah-Idaho League as Farm

Lane and Ewing Willing to Back Nines in Venture

Angels Would Also Help Put League in Existence

BY BOB RAY

Coast League magnates, their supply of red ink almost exhausted from backing the Utah-Idaho League, are planning to organize a Class D circuit, to be composed only of Southern California cities. The Hollywood, Los Angeles and Oakland club owners are enthusiastically in back of the plan and believe that they can get three other magnates to join them in putting over the Southern California circuit.

Bill Lane

Bill Lane, whose Hollywood Stars train at San Diego, is more than willing to back a team at the Border City, while Cal Ewing, the Oakland owner, would gladly put in a club at Bakersfield.

Lane and Ewing are going to put up the Southern California league proposition to the other Coast League moguls when they convene next Monday at the Roosevelt Hotel for their regular spring meeting.

PROSPEROUS FIELD

Southern California certainly offers a prosperous field for a Class D league, inasmuch as it has several cities with more than 30,000 population, would be convenient for the magnates to visit and see how their young prospects were coming along, and all of the municipalities considered are within short jumps of each other. In fact, the teams could conveniently do all of their traveling by auto stages, inasmuch as Southern California has such wonderful highways.

TIGER CAGERS WORKING OVERTIME FOR REDLANDS

COACH KIENHOLZ

The Oxy skipper is truthful in admitting fear of the invading quintet. The Tigers barely nosed out the Bulldogs last year by a single digit after an extra period tilt, and this same five will do battle Saturday with Oxy's veteran team.

Despite a victory over La Verne last week and an opening victory over Caltech the previous week, which record comfortably places the Tigers as conference leaders, Kienholz declares the Bulldogs have as strong a team as any member of the circuit, and a defeat by that quintet would eliminate Oxy from the casaba championship.

Occidental's close and tough battle with the La Verne five last Saturday, and its overtime periods of practice this week, may take a goodly portion of the speed and fight from the Tigers, while Redlands, not having played a game to date, is opening its conference season and is anxious to get off on the winning side to start.

The tiger and Bulldog freshman teams clash in the preliminary game at 7:15 o'clock. The varsity teams start at 8:15.

JACK DEMPSEY IN PACT WITH LEGIONNAIRES TO STAGE BOUT

MIAMI BEACH (Fla.) Jan. 16. (AP) Jack Dempsey moved another step today toward final completion of details for staging the Stribling-Sharkey fight here February 27 as conceived by Tex Rickard before his death.

JACK DEMPSEY

Florida law in regard to bouts was satisfied when the rugged former heavyweight champion signed a contract with the Miami Beach post of the American Legion, which will officially promote the match. Boxing bouts may not be held in Florida except under the auspices of the American Legion or the National Guard.

Meanwhile plans for arranging seats for a crowd of 30,000 spectators crowded out of Dempsey's mind any attention he might pay to making a ring comeback himself. With arrival here of William F. Carey, vice-president and treasurer of the Madison Square Garden Corporation, Dempsey will have some of the details taken from his shoulders.

The fight, to be staged at the Miami Beach Kennels Club, Rickard's property here, will have a range of seat prices from $5 to $25 each.

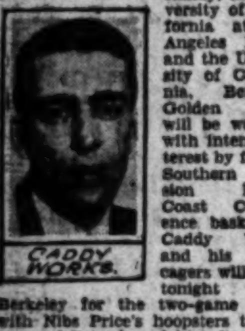
BRUIN CAGERS FIGHTING MAD

Locals Must Win to Remain in Title Running

Berkeley Quintet Favorite to Capture Tilts

Absence of Larrieu Due to Handicap Bears



CADDY WORKS.

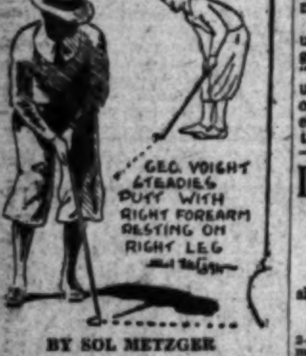
Family quarrels are always interesting, and so the basketball fight between two members of the Bear family, the University of California at Los Angeles Bruins and the University of California, Berkeley, Golden Bears, will be watched with intense interest by fans of Southern Division Pacific Coast Conference basketball. Caddy Works and his Bruin cagers will leave tonight for Berkeley for the two-game series with Nibs Price's hoopsters tomorrow and Saturday nights after completing a last practice session last night on the U.C.L.A. court.

The California casaba team will enter the series as the favorite to cop both games, due to the northerners' double victory over Southern California last week-end, while the Los Angeles five was losing one encounter to Stanford. The games will have an important bearing on the southern division championship, if not practically settling the title itself. In any case a highly interesting series may be counted upon for both the Bruins and the Golden Bears have a high respect for each other.

The local cagers will go to Berkeley in a fighting spirit, for they realize that at least an even break is necessary for a chance at the championship and that two victories up north are almost essential. The Bruins started the season with high hopes for the basketball pennant, but the 34-to-20 setback handed to them last Saturday night at Palo Alto by the Stanford quintet put a crimp in their championship dreams.

Although the Golden Bears of Berkeley, headed by their star center, Capt. Vern Corbin, are favorites in the two court contests this week-end, the locals are certainly not out of the calculations. Coach Caddy Works of the Bruins is as able a basketball mentor as they come on the Pacific Coast and always has some strategy for scoring baskets at needed moments, so don't be surprised if he pulls a couple of wins out of his tall silk hat. The Bruins are not so tall in height individually as the Berkeley players, an obvious disadvantage, but their speedy court play may make up for that. Then, too, the absence of "Frenchy" Larrieu, who broke an arm last week in the second game of the California-Southern California series, from the Bears' line-up will handicap the Bears.

Voight Putting Analyzed



GEO. VOIGHT STEADIES PUTT WITH RIGHT FOREARM RESTING ON RIGHT LEG

BY SOL METZGER

George Voight, one of the three leading amateur golfers of the world, has one of the smoothest putting strokes we have seen. Voight, like all good putters, grips his club so that his wrists oppose each other. That is, the back of his left hand and the palm of his right face the cup. His stance is slightly open, his body leans well over and there is a bit more weight on his left leg than on his right. Voight doesn't point his elbows out so that the line through them parallels the line of the putt. But he does rest his right forearm lightly on his right leg.

This latter point is important in putting, whereas the other positions that make up this style, other than the placement of his hands on the grip, do not matter so greatly.

Most good putters lightly rest the right forearm on the leg, as does Voight. It helps considerably in steadying the arms, in keeping them from wobbling off line, as they will do unless care of this kind is exercised. Throbbing nerves, high winds and beating rains are factors a good golfer must consider. Each tends to cause him to sway. This little brace of the arms tends to prevent this forward and backward sway. Good putters use it. When they don't, as we shall see in a coming release, putting becomes most erratic. Tomorrow — Henry Ciuci.

Sol Metzger has prepared a leflet on "The Art of Pitching," in which he reveals the secret of how to make the ball "bite" the green when it hits. Send stamped, addressed envelope to Sol Metzger, in care of The Times, and ask for it.

TEX RICKARD TELLS TRUE STORY OF GUN FIGHT THAT RIVALS DIME-NOVEL TALE

(This is the only autobiography written by Tex Rickard. It was prepared in collaboration with Bozeman Bulger, for publication exclusively by The Times and The North American Newspaper Alliance. Shortly before Rickard's death he discussed with Bulger plans for publication of these memoirs in book form. Following is the ninth installment of the autobiography, which is appearing in daily chapters.)

BY TEX RICKARD

[Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

It was my pride in the State of Nevada, as much as my natural liking for a flyer at anything new, that led me into the fight game. Though I was born in Missouri and spent my boyhood in Texas as I always think of Nevada as my native State.

TEX RICKARD

When I tired of Alaska and arrived in San Francisco with about $60,000 in gold I went over to have a look at the Tonopah and Goldfield country. News had come from there of great strikes—gold, silver and copper. Once on the spot, there I remained.

My experience in Alaska had taught me much about mineral properties and my services were in demand as a purchasing agent for big companies. In fact, it was while making a report on my inspection of mineral deposits that I got hooked into the Jeffries-Johnson fight and took up fight promoting as a business, but that is a later story.

If a man had suggested to me the handling of a prize fight at Goldfield when I first staked out there I would have thought him crazy.

SEES GREAT FUTURE

As I say, though, I learned to love Nevada. I thought I saw great prospects for its future. Like the rest of them, I wanted the world to know about it.

I became a part of the mining camp in Nevada just as I had in Alaska. In addition to staking out claims I opened up a gaming house. It may strike easterners as amusing, but the leading citizens impressed upon me how much the community was in need of a sort of social headquarters where men could play cards, have a drink and discuss matters in general—one that was legal and licensed under State law.

Our place in Goldfield was much more orderly than those in Alaska, because of the assistance given us by the Sheriff. We had deputies to help keep order. Along the Yukon we were our own law and order. And, strangely enough, it was in Goldfield that I came the nearest to being killed.

The end of my thumb to this day shows a deep scar indicating where it was once sliced in two. Often I am asked about this and there is surprise when I explain that the cut was made by a pistol and not a knife.

ENTER THE VILLAIN

A rough fellow whom I knew to be a killer came into my place one afternoon waving a six-shooter. A week before he had killed a man at Tonopah. He was very bad this afternoon and I knew that he would hurt somebody if allowed to wander around with that gun. He began right off by annoying some men playing cards.

I went outside and found the deputy sheriff and his assistant. "We've got to get that gun," I told them. "The only way is for the three of us to walk up behind him. I'll grab one of his arms and you the other," I said to the deputy. "Then the third man can take the gun."

This plan was agreed upon and, going inside, we found the bad man standing at the bar. Quietly we walked up behind him, caught one arm, but the killer managed to jerk his left arm loose. With the quickness of a cat he went for his holster and got the six-shooter out. There was nothing for me then but to grab the gun. As I grabbed he must have pulled the trigger. My thumb was directly over the first cartridge and the sharp firing point of the hammer came down on it. My hand was thus pinned to the pistol. We had a hard struggle, the man finally being knocked off his feet. As he fell the six-shooter still hung suspended from my thumb. I flung it from me, the pin of the hammer tearing its way through the flesh. That accounts for the scar.

We got the man out that time, but he went away swearing vengeance on me. I got many warnings that he would shoot me at sight.

Finally the killer came back one day. Before he could shoot a friend got between us and eventually made us shake hands. I had nothing against the man, as I explained to him, except that he seemed determined to break up my place.

A week later he showed up drunk and wild, again waving his big gun. This trip ended in one of the strangest tragedies that ever came to my notice.

KILLER WARNED

The deputy Sheriff managed to pin the man down and drag him outside. The killer ran for another gun. As he did so the deputy came back to my office for a sawed-off shotgun that he kept there in case of riot. In his hurry, though, he snatched up two loaded shells from a little sixteen gauge gun that I had been using for rabbit hunting. The sawed-off riot gun was a twelve-gauge. Without noticing this he slammed the two shells in and snapped the breech.

Outside a man had warned the killer that the deputy was coming around the house with a sawed-off shotgun. The bad man jumped behind a telegraph pole and waited.

As the deputy came around the side of the shed, half crouched, the bad man opened fire. The officer didn't even hesitate. Spotting his man he walked deliberately and cautiously toward the telegraph pole. Again the desperado fired, the bullet striking the deputy in the shoulder. Then he raised his shotgun and—it snapped! Again he took aim and—it snapped! The shells being too small for the larger caliber gun were simply pushed further into the barrel. Just then the killer fired again, the bullet making a flesh wound.

Still not realizing the trouble with his shotgun the officer, slowly advancing, raised it again. He was now within twenty feet of the telegraph pole and we all thought the game deputy surely a goner. The desperado leveled his six-shooter, took deliberate aim and—it jammed! A shell had caught. His weapon also was helpless.

SHERIFF ADVANCES

All this time the deputy Sheriff continued advancing slowly. While the killer was still struggling with his revolver to release the caught cartridge, the deputy, now within eight feet, made a spring like a panther. Raising his own useless shotgun over his head, he swung it like a baseball bat. The steel barrel struck squarely on the man's head and crushed his skull. That killer of many had been killed instantly—and in a most ignominious manner.

So far as I am concerned that was the last of the bad men of that part of the West. I had seen my last gun fight, I hope.

We people of Goldfield were headed for a tamer brand of fighting—the use of the fists. This brings me to the Gans-Nelson fight, my start as a promoter.

(Next—Gans-Nelson; my first venture.)

MILLER, ZUNIGA WIN FIGHT TITLES

Club, San Francisco, flyweights, fought a whirlwind battle in the first of the finals. The Hollywood boy won the decision.

In the bantam division, Fred Lynch, Multnomah Club, Portland, and Bob Martin of the San Francisco Y.M.I. had each other on the verge of a knockout after three rounds of hectic milling, and the judges called for an extra session. Lynch's effective work in this round earned him the fight.

Martin Zuniga, Los Angeles Athletic Club featherweight, took a close verdict from Mickey Merkin of the San Francisco Olympic Club in a fast set-to.

The lightweight title went to Al Trulemans, San Diego Athletic Club, in a fast fight which went an extra round. Trulemans came from behind in the second round to even up the lead of Joe Bernal, Olympic Club, San Francisco.

In the feature bout of the evening, Francis Burke, Olympic Club, San Francisco, won the welterweight championship by defeating Kintaro Usada, flashy Japanese, of the San Francisco Showa Club.

The middleweight title go was a veritable donnybrook, with Ralph Pancost, Garfield Institute, Oakland, knocking out Charles Clare of the San Francisco Y.M.I. in two rounds.

In the light-heavyweight final, Frank Tucker of the San Francisco Olympic Club won a decision from Lee Ramage, San Diego Athletic Club.

COASTERS PLAN LOOP IN SOUTH

Bakersfield, other Southern California cities considered as likely sites for clubs are Santa Ana, with its own 30,000 population and almost that much more from the surrounding cities of Orange, Fullerton and Anaheim; Glendale, with a 75,000 population; Santa Barbara, with 37,000 population; San Bernardino, with 36,000 people; Santa Monica, with 45,000 population; Riverside and Huntington Park, with 30,000 people each, and Ventura, which has a 17,000 population but is a very rabid baseball city. In fact if Santa Barbara were given a club it would also be wise to put a team in Ventura, which is but a short jump from the Channel City. Thus the visiting teams could play both at Santa Barbara and Ventura when they made the short jump up the coast.

The Los Angeles club dropped a large-sized chunk of cash backing the Pocatello club in the Utah-Idaho circuit last year and would be more than willing to drop that league's activities like a hot potato. Oakland also lost money at Ogden, while Hollywood didn't make a dime helping out the Boise club in the same circuit.

The Seals and Missions always have a flock of youngsters signed up and should be glad to back a Class D club in the Southland just to let their rookies develop. It is thought that Tom Turner, Portland prexy, could also be brought around to backing a team in Santa Ana.

It's a cinch that these cities named are ripe for some organized baseball and the Coast League magnates will be making no mistake if they give Southern California a try with a Class D league and drop their expensive activities in the Utah-Idaho circuit.

fers was on the green for a short putt which would have given him a 64. His putt was a bit heavy, however, and rolled two feet past the cup for a 65. He missed coming back by inches for his 66.

Wood played the most consistent golf of the day and barely missed bagging a 64 himself.

On his morning round, Wood scored one birdie, fifteen pars and was over par twice. He started out brilliantly in the afternoon with two birdies to start, finishing up the first nine with four birdies and five pars for a scintillating 32, four under par.

Coming up to the fourteenth hole, the young easterner was seven under par with birdies on the tenth, twelfth and thirteenth. He dropped two strokes on the next two holes with a 5 and a 6, and finished up with three pars for a 34.

RUNNER-UP TO SARAZEN

Wood, although unknown in the West, rates high in the East. He was runner-up to Gene Sarazen in the Metropolitan P.G.A. last year, a match play tournament, and rates high among the long drivers in the game. Incidentally he is one of the few college men in golf, and has a bright future ahead of him.

Yesterday's early rain failed to dampen the ardor of the "pros" in their battle with par. With the exception of Walter, "The Haig," Ed Dudley and Willie Hunter, who arrived forty minutes late, the entire field took a good wetting. Hagen had a fine morning round with a 70, one under par, but shot a 76 in the afternoon to finish with 146 for eighth place.

The golfing army, which has been on the Pacific Coast for the past two months and in Southern California for the past month, started homeward yesterday afternoon and today. Many plan to play the tournaments on their way east with the first stopover at El Paso, Tex., for the annual El Paso open.

Veteran Boxing Manager Passes

Larney Lichtenstein, manager of fighters for over thirty years, died yesterday at the Hollywood Hospital from an infection resulting from carbuncles. He has no known relatives in the city, and boxing friends are not sure of his age, but place it between 60 and 65.

Just before the holidays he returned from New York where he had piloted Baby Joe Gans into lightweight fame. Gans's last bout under Lichtenstein's direction was with Charley Rosen at the Olympic. Shortly after the bout Lichtenstein was taken to the hospital.

During the course of a long career Lichtenstein handled hundreds of fighters. The best of his old-timers were Cyclone Johnny Thompson, Jimmy Clabby and Joe Welling. More recently he had at various times Lou Jaluso, Lou Rollinger and Ray Miller. At the time of his death he had been devoting his time almost exclusively to the affairs of Baby Joe Gans.

HORNSBY TELLS HOW "BREAKS" PLAYED PART IN GIVING HIM CHANCE AT REGULAR POSITION

(Rogers Hornsby is one of baseball's famous figures. Next season he will be seen in a Chicago Cubs uniform, at second base. His salary, it is said, will exceed $50,000 a year. Hornsby writes here, for the first time, his own story of his remarkable climb from the sandlots to big league stardom. The story following is the sixth of the series.)

BY ROGERS HORNSBY

[Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

There's one thing in my advancement in baseball I always have regretted. I made good with the St. Louis Cardinals in the spring of 1916, but I was helped into a regular position because of the misfortune of another player.

ROGERS HORNSBY.

Maybe I would have made good anyway, if not at his position at some other, but nevertheless I was boosted into a regular job because another fellow had a sore arm.

The Cardinals had bought Roy Corhan from San Francisco, for the regular shortstop. He had been up once before, with the White Sox. This time he was looked upon as the best shortstop on the Pacific Coast, and no one doubted he would make good with the Cardinals. No one even considered me, a kid who had come up from a small Texas club the fall before, and seemed several years away from big-league form.

I might not have beaten our Corhan even with his sore if a certain fellow hadn't taken great interest in me and worked hard with me all that spring on the training trip. I feel I owe my success in baseball more to the coaching of Bob Connery than to anything or anyone else.

HUGGINS IS INTERESTED

When we began training in San Antonio and I had reported weighing 160, thirty pounds over my weight of the previous fall, Huggins and Connery were greatly interested, though I doubt if either of them figured I would develop into a regular that year. They probably planned to place me somewhere for a year of experience.

However, Huggins told Connery to take me in charge and see what I could do. I guess no man ever worked harder with a youngster than Bob did with me on that training trip. Long after the regular drill, he would keep me out on the field with one or two other infielders, knock ground balls to me, and instruct me how to handle them and how to make plays at second base. I never got tired of it, and perhaps my willingness to work caused Bob to take so much interest.

Then, too, Corhan had that sore arm which refused to respond to treatment, and the club was up against it for a shortstop. I was hitting hard, and looked like the best man for the place until Corhan had recovered, if only they could teach me to play the position properly.

ON TOES IN EXHIBITION GAME

I filled the job in all the exhibition games, though even so I doubt Huggins had any idea of putting me there when the season opened. But I had just such an idea in my head, and felt that I was hitting well enough to warrant a trial. I knew I would have to handle the fielding end properly, however, or out I would go, no matter how well I was hitting.

Connery knew what I would be up against when the real games began, and he kept at me with untiring energy. Ever since that spring I have felt that he was the man who made a big leaguer out of me.

Finally the spring trip was over, and we were back north to open the season. Corhan still had the sore arm, and couldn't play. The day before the big opening, Huggins came to me and said:

"Kid, you're going to be in there tomorrow. Keep your head up."

I was in there for the opening, and I still was in there when the last game was played that fall. I hit well over .300. Probably I made many mistakes, but I was learning. Just the same, I believe I always have felt that it was a tough break for Corhan, and I have often wondered how things might have turned out if he hadn't had a sore arm.

Lou Daro Signs Jack O'Malley for Mat Bout

Jack O'Malley, a young 215-pound eastern mat star, was signed by Promoter Lou Daro yesterday to meet Dick Daviscourt, the powerful Kansan, in the special-event of the mat card he has lined up for the Olympic Wednesday night.

This will be O'Malley's first appearance on the Coast and he is expected to prove as popular as any of the new stars Daro brought here last year. O'Malley is a former football star, and like Gus Sonnenberg, present mat king, is an expert with the flying tackle hold. In addition he uses the flying body scissors with great effect. The butting tackle is expected to be added to O'Malley's list of holds the night he faces Daviscourt.

Paul Jones, the hook body scissor expert from Texas, will clash with Joe Stecher, former champion, in the finish feature event of the card. It will be Stecher's first appearance on the Coast in more than a year.

KENNEDY WILL TAKE ON GODINEZ TONIGHT

Don Kennedy and Johnny Godinez, bantams, are scheduled for the six-round main event at the Pasadena Arena tonight, in what should be a very popular fight there, where Don is regarded as a coming champion.

There is a lot of variety to the bill this evening. Jack Haywood and Farmer John Lockaby, a pair of light-heavies who depend more on punching than boxing, will swap blows in the semifinal.

Chris Cardenas and Ken Wallace will fight the four-round special event, at 138 pounds. Four-round preliminaries will be Young Bello vs. Frankie Leonard, 135 pounds; "Rib" Frazier vs. Pete Cardinas, 128 pounds; Eddie Plough vs. Andy Dumler, 185 pounds.

JANITOR ANDERSON TO SHOW AT MAIN STREET

Janitor Anderson, 225-pound battler who is determined to clean up in heavyweight ranks, has been matched by Carlo Curtis with Dynamite Jackson for the special event of Saturday night's regular weekly boxing show at the Main Street Athletic Club. Jackson, who dynamited Walter Hoffman in two rounds at the Olympic Auditorium Tuesday night, insists upon Anderson making 230 pounds for Saturday night's brawl.

LA VERNE FROSH FIVE TO TACKLE SAGEHENS

CLAREMONT, Jan. 16. (Exclusive) La Verne College freshmen, rather than the Caltech babes, will meet Coach Earl Merritt's Pomona babes in their opening Southern Conference tilt, it was learned here today. The Tech yearlings were originally scheduled to meet the Sagechicks but were unable to play and La Verne agreed to substitute. As a result, Saturday's Pomona-Tech varsity contest will go unadorned with a preliminary game and the Pomona-La Verne battle on the 26th inst. will have a frosh preliminary. Merritt was unable to give a reason for the change in the schedule. His team will meet Occidental and Redlands in the other two conference games.

Ernie Peters Works Out for Brown Battle

Ernie Peters, Chippewa Indian from the Duluth Reservation in Minnesota, did his first boxing yesterday at the Manhattan gymnasium. He is slated to box Newsboy Brown in the Olympic next Tuesday night.

The Olympic is booked up to February 5, next, which includes the Tommy Loughran-Armand Emanuel classic.

The line-up includes the Earl Mastro-Kid Francis bout on the 29th inst. Mastro has recovered from his throat trouble and has gained seven pounds since he went to the springs.

Joe Smith, manager of Loughran, wired Wadhams yesterday that they would leave for California tomorrow which will put them in Los Angeles next Tuesday. Emanuel is due here the same day. He is boxing Harry Dillon tomorrow night in Minneapolis.

With the house practically a sell-out for the Bert Colima-Walcott Langford battle last Tuesday night the interest in the boxing game seems well on its way to recovery with good matches coming up.

Matchmaker Wadhams may send Colima right back on February 12, next, with some opponent yet to be named. Joe Anderson, if he is ready by that time, will be given an offer for the bout, it is said.

SHERIDAN SEEKS COLIMA

Homer Must Clear Field of Gill at Hollywood Tomorrow to Get Crack at Mexican

Just one more hurdle and Homer Sheridan is ready for [illegible]. That one jump is Eddie Gill and it is a lot tougher than [illegible] think. Gill believes he is one guy who has Sheridan's number and [illegible] are that kind of fighters in the world. Champions have had [illegible] nemesis and Gill claims he is Sheridan's.

When Sheridan steps through the ropes at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium he is prepared to give all he has because the one shot with Bert Colima will put him over. Sheridan is sold on the idea that he can beat Colima. He has watched the Mexican fight several times. He saw Bert beat Wolcott Langford and was pleased with the outcome because it paved the way for the Colima-Sheridan fight.

Charley Eyton, famous sportsman and referee of a few years ago who now lives in Hollywood, believes Sheridan should beat Gill. He can't see how a fighter who comes in wide open like Gill can beat a shrewd performer like Sheridan and he has seen Homer beat [illegible] Joe Cordoza by knockouts and Jack Roy Moore much more convincingly than did Bert [illegible] Eyton believes that a Colima-Sheridan fight for the Pacific Coast middleweight championship will be a big natural for Los Angeles fans.

WALTER HAGEN

Hagen declared last night [illegible] of foreign-born [illegible] who have become citizens of the United States on teams entering international competition. He would have the change become effective after this year.

Hagen hoped to [illegible] together at Pinehurst, N. C., at the North and South [illegible] just before sailing time.

"The biggest objection to seeing foreign-born professionals," said Hagen, "originates not in [illegible] but in Great Britain, [illegible] it is impossible for us to [illegible] any recognition for American [illegible] except with native-born [illegible]. [illegible] that while his team [illegible] of course do the best it could, [illegible] that if Great Britain were to [illegible] on top it would not be a [illegible] for international golf.

RABBIT PUNCHES
BY PAUL LOWRY

A GLORIOUS SEASON

THE open season is over—the quest of the country's crack golf pros for Southern California gold.

It was a bigger and better season for the boys in every respect. There were more tournaments. There were more money prizes. And a promise of still more in 1930.

With the exception of two or three ranking players practically every golf professional of note in this country trekked to Southern California to play in the winter tourneys—Mac Smith, Hagen, Diegel, Armour, Loos, Dudley, Espinosa, Burke, Ciuci, Watrous, etc.

And they were well rewarded for their trip. Six major tourneys—Catalina, Long Beach, La Jolla, San Diego, Los Angeles open, Pasadena—plus three pro-amateur meets with $1000 prizes tacked on at San Gabriel, Long Beach and Agua Caliente contributed to the gaiety of the pros.

In turn they did their share in advertising Southern California as the great winter playground of the nation. It was a give-and-take proposition, and nobody came out the loser.

They attracted larger crowds than ever before with their brilliant playing. It was a grand and glorious season—a New Year's sport classic in every sense of the word.

THUMBS DOWN

LITTLE Martin Zuniga won the far western featherweight championship in the A.A.U. boxing tourney at San Francisco the other night.

There is nothing particularly unusual in Mercury club fighters winning titles, but it happens that this may be the swan song. At least there is a rumor to this effect about which club moguls refuse to talk.

It seems there is some resentment in official circles at the big club on Seventh street over the manner in which the amateurs have been using the club as a stepping stone to professional ranks.

They were ripe and were a real credit to the club and their instructor, George Blake.

It was four years ago when they turned pro. Since then several amateurs who were the recipients of club training and club instructions—at club expense—left on short notice to seek fame and money in the ring.

None of them turned out to be La Barbas or Fields. But they carried the club emblem into professional rings and in some instances did not altogether reflect credit upon the club or its instructors.

This is one of the grating points. Club officials are debating the cure-all, and it seems likely that boxing teams will go by the boards. There will be boxing and boxing instructors for members of the club—but no more boxing squads representing the Mercury institution.

SAME NAME

GUS SONNENBERG, the new heavyweight mat champion, tossed a chap many believed to be Joe Malcewicz in Lowell, Mass., the other night. Twice in less than ten minutes.

Investigation revealed that it was not Panther Joe, the boy who has wrestled here several times the past season, but a younger brother Frank Malcewicz, 20 years old.

Sonnenberg may be quite a mat warrior, but any time he or anybody else can toss Panther Joe Malcewicz twice in less than ten minutes I want to be in on the killing.

OLD-TIMER PASSES

LARNEY LICHTENSTEIN, who passed away yesterday, was one of the boxing game's real characters.

He managed boxers over a quarter of a century—hundreds of them. His best were Jimmy Clabby and Joe Welling. He had Ad Wolgast after the latter lost his lightweight title. He had Ray Miller before this young man became famous by stopping Jimmy McLarnin. Cyclone Johnny Thompson was one of the best of his old-time fightersm

Larney Lichtenstein knew much of the boxing world, but the boxing world knew little of him. He lived to himself. He was a smart handler of boxers, a shrewd judge of fighting values and a good manager. He will be missed.

Taking undisputed lead in the Southern Junior College League, the Long Beach Jaysee cagers drubbed the Compton Lions last night, 40-12, in a walk-away game played on the Long Beach courts. Hopkins, star beach forward, annexed high-point honors with 10 points. The beach five led all the way, the score at half being 25-4, in their favor. The line-ups:

Long Beach—Frank (6,) Hopkins (10,) A. Davis (4,) Rimmer (3,) Coleman (4,) forwards; Offer (5,) center; W. Davis (3,) Linnell (4,) guards.

California & Eastern Sells Intercoastal Fleet

Four Freighters Taken Over by Oregon Interests

Head of Company Declines to Reveal Future Plans

California and Eastern Steamship Company has sold its four intercoastal freight steamers to Kenneth E. Dawson of Portland, Or., according to announcement yesterday by Frank C. Hill of Los Angeles, president and general manager of the line.

The vessels are the West Montop and West Mingo, of 8800 tons each and both built at the yards of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Drydock Corporation following the war, and the 8800-tonners, West Keats and West Katan, constructed at the Craig yards at Long Beach.

Future disposition of the ships is unstated. Dawson, however, is believed affiliated with the States Steamship Company of Portland. Some surmise the freighters will be continued in the intercoastal service, carrying lumber eastbound, and bringing general cargo west, some perhaps for transshipment across the Pacific in vessels of the States Steamship Company. Two years ago the latter acquired nine Shipping Board vessels which Swayne & Hoyt had operated trans-Pacific.

Although the sale disposes of California and Eastern's fleet, Mr. Hill indicated it by no means is to be implied that his company is going out of business. Four days ago he indicated his line anticipated early acquirement of charter of additional bottoms to augment the present fleet. He declined yesterday to reveal what plans he has in mind for the company's future.

The company is the only Los Angeles-owned service operating intercoastal. It began five years ago with one vessel.

NOTABLE LIST DUE ON LINER CALIFORNIA

Brig.-Gen. Harry F. Hodges, U.S.A., retired, the army engineer who "achieved the impossible" in designing the locks, dams and all regulating works of the Panama Canal, will be among the 700 passengers arriving Saturday morning from New York aboard the Panama-Pacific electric liner California.

Gen. Hodges is being mentioned in Washington, together with Maj.-Gen. William L. Sibert, U.S.A., retired, as consulting engineer in the development and construction of the Boulder dam project. He is a veteran of both the Spanish-American and World wars, having been awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for his work as an A.E.F. artillery chief.

Others of prominence coming on the California include Hon. Robert Woods Bliss, United States Ambassador to the Argentine; Judge C. W. Appleton of Schenectady, N. Y., with Mrs. Appleton; State Senator Joseph V. Lumley of New York and Mrs. Lumley and Mrs. Paul Bastedo, wife of Commander Bastedo, aide to Admiral H. A. Wiley, commander-in-chief of the United States Fleet.

Returning Californians aboard the liner include Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bauer, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Metzger, William Bunting, Mrs. Mary I. Fisher and Mrs. Flora Matthews, all of San Francisco; Mrs. R. W. Clark, A. Delva, Mrs. Agnes W. Wiener, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gerry, Miss Isabel Hall, Mrs. I. Jeffcatt, Mrs. Beatty Stevens, John Tingley, Dr. George H. Williams and Miss D. H. Williams, all of Los Angeles; Mrs. S. H. Jary, Orville H. Miracle and Miss Kathleen Sherwin of San Diego.

The War Department yesterday announced that it has offered to transfer the old transport Thomas to any government department that wants her. Otherwise she will be offered for sale at a Pacific Coast port. The Thomas is the last to remain in service of the five army transports bought from England during the war with Spain in 1898. Two of her fleet sisters, the Sherman, now the Calawaii, and the Buford, are at this port.

An effort to effect a working agreement between the Hamburg-American and the North German Lloyd lines definitely has failed, according to word reaching here yesterday from Dr. Wilhelm Cuno, director of the former, now in New York. As a result there will be no pooling of schedules on this Coast or the Atlantic, and friendly rivalry will continue. Inability to agree was attributed to intense rivalry between the ports of Hamburg and Breman. Cut-throat competition, however, is discountenanced A prewar merger proposal failed likewise because of the jealousy between the two great German ports. Each line operates a fleet of modern motor carriers between Europe and this coast, and their programs call for more such craft.

Ships flying the flags of five nations will be at the terminals of General Steamship Corporation this week-end. The Norwegian steamer Hardanger arrived yesterday from South America and the Italian motor liner Leme carried a score of passengers and freight for the Mediterannean. Tomorrow the Feltre, also of the Italian Libre Line, is due from Genoa, and the Swedish motor liner will come south to load nine passengers, freight and mail for the Antipodes and around the world. Sunday will see the Japanese steamer Belfast Maru in from New York to load for the Orient and the British motorship Silveray discharging rubber and spices from the Dutch East Indies.

Dr. C. D. Sherrard arrived from New York yesterday to become acting assisting surgeon of the United States Public Health Service at Los Angeles Harbor under Maj. H. A. Spencer. He succeeds Dr. W. H. Whalman, recently resigned to join the head surgical staff at the Los Angeles General Hospital.

George W. Handry, owner of the Coast ship chandlery house of C. J. Hendry & Co., is due here from San Francisco headquarters tomorrow to confer with W. J. Maggio, manager of the company's San Pedro branch. He will be here until next week.

First tomatoes by water from San Jose del Cabo this season are due on the little motorship Camina the 26th inst. The ship also has a consignment of bananas from San Blas.

The Jury Will Now Retire

TOM CARR HAVING DECLINED TO TESTIFY— THE SENSATIONAL CASE THAT HAS ROCKED THE COUNTRY FROM STEM TO STERN IS NOW READY FOR A SUMMING UP ON THE PART OF THE TWO CLASHING ATTORNEYS— AS THE OLD SAYING GOES— "IN TIME OF TROUBLE THERE'S NOTHING LIKE HAVING A GOOD LAWYER"—
GENTLEMEN OF THE JURY— THIS DEFENDANT HAS PRODUCED NO EVIDENCE WORTHY OF A DEFENSE TO THIS CHARGE— HE HAS COME INTO COURT AND SOUGHT TO VILLIFY THE CHARACTERS OF TWO OF THE MOST OUT-STANDING CITIZENS OF THIS COMMUNITY— ANDREW GUMP AND MR. AUSSTINN— HE DESERVES NO CONSIDERATION OR SYMPATHY FROM THIS JURY AND SHOULD BE GIVEN THE EXTREME PENALTY UNDER THE LAW—
GENTLEMEN OF THE JURY— MY CLIENT STANDS BEFORE YOU— AN INNOCENT MAN— A VICTIM OF UNKNOWN CIRCUMSTANCE — WHILE THE TESTIMONY IN THIS CASE IS VAGUE ON CERTAIN POINTS— DO NOT FORGET, GENTLEMEN, THAT ONLY TWO PERSONS— TOM CARR AND ANDREW GUMP KNEW THE COMBINATION OF THAT SAFE— AND THE LAW IS THAT EVERY REASONABLE DOUBT MUST BE RESOLVED IN FAVOR OF THE DEFENDANT— I SAY AGAIN THAT ANDREW GUMP MIGHT HAVE HAD A MOTIVE FOR TAKING THIS MONEY JUST AS WELL AS ANY MOTIVE CAN BE LOGICALLY IMPUTED TO MY CLIENT— I LEAVE THE FATE OF MY CLIENT IN YOUR HANDS, GENTLEMEN, KNOWING THAT TWELVE SUCH HONORABLE MEN WILL TREAT FAIRLY WITH HIM—
THE COURT INSTRUCTS THE GENTLEMEN— THAT THE LAW OF THIS STATE IS THAT EVERY REASONABLE DOUBT IN YOUR MINDS MUST BE RESOLVED IN FAVOR OF THE DEFENDANT — YET ANDREW GUMP IS NOT ON TRIAL BEFORE YOU IN THIS CASE, AND IN THE CHARACTER OF ANDREW GUMP— THE DEFENDANT HAS NOT INTRODUCED ANY TO SHOW THAT HE STEAL THIS MONEY—

TWO POLICEMEN GET WOUNDS

Kicking Auto Crank Wallops One on Jaw and Crazy Cat Bites Another

One policeman was kicked by a back-cranking car yesterday, while another officer was bitten by a cat gone wild. Both went to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital for treatment.

Policeman Charles Giegerich, 45 years of age, of the Central vice squad, was cranking his automobile at his home, 603 Lookout Drive. The crank kicked back. The policeman suffered lacerations on the right side of the jaw, abrasions and contusions.

Policeman F. Kafshuba, 42, of the Central Police Station flying squad, answered a call to 209½ East Fifth street. While catching a domestic cat terrorizing the neighborhood, Kafshuba was bitten on a finger. He caged the cat for examination, and went to the hospital.

CONFEDERATION PLAN

"The Articles of Confederation set up a central government with a Congress composed of only one house and with delegates from each State. Each State had equal voting power with every other State, regardless of the size of the population. Congress could declare everything but do nothing. Freedom had come but the colonies were far from being a nation. It was not the Articles of Confederation but the binding force of a common peril that held them together while they won the Revolution; that accomplished, the old-time jealousies were again evident, the old-time quarrels were again renewed and the colonies levied duties against each other on their mutual commerce.

"The war had left the colonies burdened with debts, with no financial credit and with a worthless currency, soldiers unpaid and dissatisfied. Congress lacked power to deal effectively with important foreign questions. Thus, when England refused to withdraw her soldiers from frontier ports in the Northwest, according to terms of peace, Congress was too weak to enforce American rights. And when Spain warned that she was going to close the mouth of the Mississippi River to American trade Congress was unable to make favorable commercial arrangements with her.

DISSOLUTION NEAR

"The new government was rapidly falling to pieces. Foreign powers watched its decay with undisguised pleasure. Free men the world over hung on this experiment in America, which seemed about to fail solely for lack of governmental power.

"Congress was held in such contempt that it was difficult to secure sufficient attendance at its sittings to constitute a quorum. It was not even strong enough to put down the civil strife which threatened. Once Congress was compelled to flee from Philadelphia to the college halls of Princeton when a small band of mutinous soldiers broke into the meeting place and at the point of the bayonet demanded their pay.

"Congress was unable to render help when armed men in Massachusetts, under leadership of Capt. Shay, seemed about to start a civil war. Shay's rebellion was put down only when private capital came to the aid of the Governor of Massachusetts with funds sufficient to equip and put into the field under Gen. Lincoln an armed force sufficient to disperse the rebels. A turbulent and unreasoning spirit was rife in the land that seriously threatened to undo all that had been won by the Revolution."

Further difficulties in the adaptation of the new government will be discussed tomorrow by Mr. Van Osdol.

Melbourne, Australia, claims its population has just passed the million mark.

Property Found With Arrested Pair Identified

Stolen goods worth $8000 has been identified at the garage of Frank J. Ward, 1030 South Hope, according to Detective Lieutenants Trainor, Ryan and Spinner, who filed burglary charges against Ward, and his helper, Meredith H. Carter, yesterday.

Working since the 4th inst., the detectives have succeeded in pinning 107 crimes to the two men, they say. Among the asserted victims identifying stolen property was Edward Everett Horton, actor, whose premises at 932 South Figueroa, were robbed two years ago. HAGEN GETS SUMMONS IN WIFE'S SUIT

Golf Professional Served With Writ While Playing in Southland Tourney

Walter Hagen, one of America's foremost golf professionals who is playing in Southern California tournaments, was made defendant in attachment proceedings filed in Superior Court yesterday by Franklin W. Peck, attorney for Mrs. Edna C. Hagen, the golfer's divorced wife. Hagen was served with the summons and complaint while playing in the Pasadena open tournament.

Four causes of action were set forth in the complaint, according to Mr. Peck, and pertained to asserted failure of the golfer to abide by a New York court judgment on a property and alimony settlement made at the time a divorce was granted November 17, 1927.

The first cause of action asserts, the attorney stated, that a judgment of $1056.44 granted in New York has not been settled. This judgment was given when Mrs. Hagen sued for two months' alimony, at the rate of $500 per month, and costs.

The second and third allegations are that Hagen has failed to pay alimony for two months, and the fourth cause of action sets forth that the golf "pro" failed to carry out an agreement made in divorce proceedings that he would pay all debts contracted by his wife prior to October 1, 1927. The amount of these debts is set at $5979.65.

Alma Rubens's Postponed Trial Set for Today

Alma Rubens

Trial of Alma Rubens, film actress, on charges of disturbing the peace, is scheduled for today before Municipal Judge Northrup. The trial has been delayed once by failure of Miss Rubens to appear, following which she was required to post $500 bail to insure her appearance in court today by Municipal Judge Gibbs.

The film actress is accused by Mrs. Elizabeth Uhl, owner of the apartment court in which she resides at 1473 North Havenhurst avenue, of disturbing the peace of other tenants by giving a wild party in her apartment December 29, last, and by using a flashlight in the court at night to look into other apartments. Rita Carewe, film actress; Leroy Mason, her husband, and Mr. and Mrs. Finis Fox, also of the films, are listed as witnesses in addition to Mrs. Uhl.

Baking Company Employees Get More Insurance

An increase of 50 per cent in the amount of group life and accidental death insurance provided for employees of the Continental Baking Company was announced yesterday by D. L. Taub, regional manager.

The cost of the additional insurance will be borne entirely by the company, and it will be available to all employees of one year's service, as well as to those insured in the previous group insurance plan under which the company and the employees share the cost, the announcement stated.

"While the life insurance primarily creates death benefits for the family, a disability clause in our group policy provides that if an employee becomes permanently disabled before the age of 60, he will receive the full amount of his life insurance with interest, in monthly installments, in addition to the thirteen weeks' benefits called for by the sickness and accident clause," the announcement said.

In providing additional group insurance without cost to the employees the Continental Baking Company participated in a new group policy totalling $24,000,000 which has been placed by the Continental Baking Corporation in conjunction with the numerous baking companies affiliated with it in various parts of the country, Mr. Taub explained. Of the total sum, approximately $12,000,000 is life insurance with an equal amount of accidental death and dismemberment insurance. More than 11,000 persons throughout the country will be insured under this new policy.

BUBBLES

A Dramatic Novel of Love and Speculation

By Maximilian Foster

WHAT can stock speculation do to love? What did it do to Rita, whose husband had made thousands in the market? And to Addie Jessup, whose father still shopped around to do the family marketing? What did it do to the $4000 Addie borrowed from Rita and carried to her broker friend? The answer, in which vital facts about speculation and investment are vividly, humanly portrayed, is in BUBBLES, by Maximilian Foster.

End Fat

Without Starving —The Scientific Way

Modern science deals with fat in a new way. It has found that excess fat is largely due to a deficient gland—the thyroid. It largely controls nutrition. When it is weak, too little food goes to fuel and energy, too much goes to fat.

Physicians, in treating obesity, now strive to correct this condition. They aim at the cause. No starvation, no over-work, brings lasting results without that.

When that fact was discovered a famous medical laboratory perfected a prescription for general use. Some of the greatest gland experts co-operated. This help was called Marmola prescription tablets. Now people have used them for 21 years—millions of boxes of them. They have told the results to others, and the use has spread. Now you see the effects in every circle. Slender figures are the rule. And with that slenderness has come new youth and vigor, new health and vitality. Almost all of you have friends who can tell you and show you the remarkable results.

Try Marmola if you are over-fat. Combat the cause. Don't starve, don't overwork, but moderation helps. Simply take four Marmola tablets daily until weight comes down to normal. Stop when your weight and vitality are right.

Each box of Marmola contains the formula, also the reasons for results. You will know exactly why each good result appears.

Do this for your own sake. Do it because Marmola has brought such results to so many. You will be amazed and delighted. You will know that this blight is unnecessary.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 a box. Any druggist who is out will order from his jobber.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

One of the most interesting events of the week will be the southern luncheon with which the United Daughters of the Confederacy are entertaining tomorrow afternoon at the Ambassador, the affair a yearly one being an outstanding event both socially and fraternally the luncheon being sponsored each year by one of the many chapters of the organization, which, in California is a large one, and celebrates the birthday anniversary of Robert E. Lee, Confederate general. This year the Woodrow Wilson chapter is to be hostess and Mrs. J. William Barnes, president of the chapter, general chairman, she will be assisted by a coterie of chapter members, as well as the official family and board of directors.

An especially interesting feature of the affair will be the attendance of a number of the active and alumni members of Kappa Alpha Fraternity, which was sponsored by Gen. Lee when he was president of the Washington and Lee College in Virginia, and there will be an especial table for these guests both local and visiting members, the hostess being Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Douglass, lovingly called by many of the U. D. C.'s the Dowager Duchesse of the California division. Many of the guests are descendants of celebrated southern families among whom will be Capt. Richmond Pearson Hobson and Mrs. Hobson and the former's brother, Maj. James Hobson and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Healy, Gibson Pleasants, a student of University of California and a Kappa Alpha, and his mother, Mrs. Lucille Gibson Pleasants.

John R. Berryman, Jr., is province commander of the Pacific Coast, which has chapters at Berkeley, Stanford and University of Southern California. The chapter here is Beta Sigma and Gibson Pleasants is president of the active chapter, while Loyd Wright is president of the U.S.C. alumni, while there is also the general alumni of Kappa Alpha in Los Angeles composed of alumni from all parts of the United States. At the last meeting Raymond L. Haight was elected president, and will be installed at its next meeting when Carroll M. Counts retires.

Other Kappa Alphas here who have made reservations for the luncheon include Oscar Trippet, Jr., Judge Rufus Porter, W. Roy Williamson, C. Calcock Jones, Allerton H. Jeffries, Albert J. Sherer, Jack Powell, Robert Powell, Stanford Stelle, B. B. McCall and Otis Healy.

Many who are planning to attend are members of the various other chapters of U.D.C. in California including the State president, Mrs. Milton Stannard, the State officers, Mrs. F. B. Harrington, Mrs. Hughes Garr and E. P. Scattergood—presidents and members of the chapters and many admirers and friends of the South who have come to make their homes in Southern California or are wintering here.

Y., whose wedding with the hostess's son was an event of last October. One hundred guests were bidden and the affair was most charmingly informal.

Deep copper and salmon colored gladioli and other early spring flowers were combined with roses and ferns in the decorations of the house and tea table and assisting the hostess and serving at the tea urns were Mrs. Donald J. Price of 1408 Victoria avenue, are leaving February 11, next, for the East, where, after visiting for several weeks with relatives and friends in New York and Long Island, they will sail for Europe. They are going by way of the Panama Canal and will go first to Paris, where they are planning to stay for at least a year studying French art, languages and literature.

Miss Price has just completed her junior year at the University of California at Los Angeles, where she has been prominent in campus activities, and is a member of Pi Beta Phi Sorority, while her brother has been following a course of study at Chouinard Art School for the past three years.

Bon Voyage Party

As a farewell courtesy to Dr. and Mrs. Wilsie Martin, prior to their leaving Thursday for Honolulu, the Woman's Club of Wilshire Methodist Church gave a luncheon and professional program. Blanche Williams Urick, recently returned from Europe, gave several most interesting Shakespeare readings, being introduced by Mrs. Herbert S. Haseltine, and others on the program included Phoebe Kreider Murray, soprano, and Elsie Mayer, violinists.

Betrothal Announced

Miss Betty Lou Temple, president of Chi Psi Omega Sorority, gave a number of her sorority sisters a great surprise several days ago when at a sorority meeting she passed a huge box of candy, thus formally announcing her betrothal to Earl D. Morton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Morton of Santa Monica. The news was made known to members of the immediate families at a dinner party Christmas Night. Miss Temple, the daughter of Mrs. Leona Temple of Beverly Hills, has been very active in the affairs of Chi Psi Omega Sorority, while Mr. Morton, an alumnus of University of California at Berkeley, is affiliated with Theta Delta Chi Fraternity.

Church Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Frances Rea, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred V. Rea of 953 South Windsor Boulevard, to Dwight Hunter Reay, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Reay of La Salle avenue, will be solemnized Saturday evening, the ceremony taking place in the Church of the Messiah, West Washington street, with Dr. Louis Thurber Guild officiating. HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

A Bitter Dose

If the tonic you must take is very disagreeable to the taste, hold a piece of ice in your mouth for a few minutes and then take the medicine. It will not taste nearly so badly.

A Sprinkler Top

A sprinkler top put on the bluing bottle will be found convenient to regulate the amount of bluing in the water for the laundry. We so often get too much bluing with just an open-mouthed bottle.

Needs a Real Bath

Just the usage in the dishpan is not washing enough for your dishcloth. It should be washed in clean hot suds, rinsed in clear water and dried out of doors every few days so it will keep sweet and really clean.

Men and women injuring themselves by starvation diet

THE passing fad of dieting to reduce weight is permanently injuring the health of girls, women and men in the opinion of eminent medical authorities. How dangerously serious dieting has become may be judged from the following statement by a famous doctor. He says: "Many young women to whom motherhood has been denied have come to me to learn the reason why. I have to tell them, only too often, that they have sacrificed their children for the sake of a boyish figure." This doctor goes on to show that many adults, both men and women, do injury to themselves by starvation diets from which they can never recover.

It is time to call a halt in this dangerous practice. Whoever said that two persons could have the same standard of weight? Medical science now declares that standardization in the weight of human beings is impossible, as well as undesirable.

Eat enough of a great variety of foods and enjoy them. Remember that sugar is the ideal flavorer of other foods and that it adds greatly to the zest and pleasure of eating. Sugar is also a food—the most inexpensive and purest known. Don't be afraid to sweeten grapefruit, oranges, cereals, dried fruits, and all canned vegetables. Delightful flavors demand sugar. Enjoy eating. The Sugar Institute.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By Dr Frank McCoy

author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of The Los Angeles Times. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

FLAMING YOUTH VS. SMOLDERING AGE

Parents have always been willing to blame the incorrigible characteristics in their children on some inherited influence—always from the other side of the family tree. Science now believes that "bad" boys are developed by the environment and training after birth. There are no inherently bad children. They are only badly trained. It is the undernourished, undersized, unhealthy children who form the potential criminals and social delinquents.

Children are never good children when they are suffering from enlarged tonsils, adenoids, bron-child lies with the parent, who should make a thorough study of the multitude of other disorders to which children are subject. There is no doubt that these are the usual causes of many mental and moral defectives. As soon as the child has been cured of these definite physical defects, there is an immediate improvement in his mental and moral attitude. This has taken place without an exception in every case of this type that I have had under my supervision.

The responsibility for the growing child training and diet. Some of the cases where the children are supposed to be incorrigible only indicate that a child has a will of its own. This is a good quality which should really be encouraged. Parents often make the mistake of trying to force children into being miniature examples of themselves.

It seems to me that most of the criticism of the youth of today arises out of a kind of envy. Intelligence tests taken with a great number of people show that the average adult only equals the mentality of the average modern child of 14 years of age. There is no question that the children of today, who are properly educated, are much more advanced than children of the same age of a generation ago.

The motion pictures, radio, newspapers and magazines are building such a different concept of life that it is almost impossible for middle-aged parents to understand the new viewpoint. Children are not being as repressed emotionally now as they were at the beginning of this century, which is good as there can be no question that many of the disorders of old people actually originated from these repressions.

I do not believe that any good results will come from the efforts of the so-called "reformer" who attempts to suppress true facts about life. If these facts are introduced truthfully and naturally from infancy, there is very little tendency toward morbidity.

We know that the problems of the emotions cannot be lightly cast aside, nor puffed out by the mere breath of the censor. The child must be properly and correctly educated if he is to forge a place for himself in the world of opportunity. A plentiful supply of wholesome food, exercise, responsibility and a useful trade are of far more value for keeping a child straight than is punishment.

Children who are trained to help others do not become criminals. It is a well-recognized fact that Boy Scouts, for instance, rarely if ever become members of criminal gangs.

A child's waking hours should be balanced between play and helpful recreation. A vigorous participation in competitive games is the best preventive against morbid thinking or vicious practices.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

STUTTERING

Question: H. G. asks: "Could you advise me as to the cause of a slight stuttering when I begin talking? I have also noted that my voice does not ring clear, but thick. I am also troubled with constipation which enemas do not seem to overcome. Is there a diet I could go on?"

Answer: I would advise you to consult a teacher who is an expert in methods of overcoming stuttering. You can doubtless cure your constipation by eating less starches and more of the bulky green vegetables. Also take exercises for your abdominal muscles and walk several miles daily.

VENTILATED COOKING

Q.: L. M. H. writes: "I was taught that vegetables should be ventilated while cooking so I never use a tight cover but allow any gasses that may be generated to escape. Has the ventilation theory been entirely superceded? I find that vegetables cooked with a lid produce more gas."

A.: Most foods should be cooked in almost air-tight vessels, but such foods as cabbage, brussels sprouts and cauliflower will be less gas-forming if no lid covers the vessel, for then the sulphur fumes escape more readily. If this sulphur gas is retained it will cause more flatulence.

X-RAY BURN

Q.: L. M. asks: "What is the best treatment that could be effected for healing an X-ray burn. Is there any cure to it?"

A.: These burns must be treated very carefully, according to their severity, and it would be unwise for me to attempt to advise you through this column.

GUIDING YOUR CHILD

SLEEPING ARRANGEMENTS

By Mrs. Agnes Lyne

In many homes it is customary to allow the child to continue after his second year to sleep in the same room with his parents. It is also not infrequent to find that children past the age of adolescence sleep in the same bed with one of their parents. These arrangements mean not only bad physical hygiene, they also are bad mental hygiene.

The fact that it is not healthful to allow a child to sleep with another person is pretty generally accepted, yet such arrangements persist in homes which might well provide a separate bed and a separate room for every child.

It is, however, not so well understood that it is desirable for each child to sleep by himself for other reasons. We are accustomed to think of children as being quite free from sexual feeling, yet scientific observation proves that even the infant has sexual feeling. It is of the utmost importance that it be properly conditioned, not led into channels which will make difficult the later adjustment of the individual.

When the child continues after his first year to sleep in the same room with his parents he is subjected to experiences which he cannot possibly understand, but nevertheless make a profound impression on him. Often parents make the mistake of thinking that because the child is inarticulate he is unaware of what he sees. Many a profound misconception and many an unfortunate emotional attitude have thus been fixed in infancy.

The child who for years sleeps with his parent is almost certain to develop an unwholesome emotional dependence, which makes it fairly impossible for him to replace a childish relationship by the more mature one demanded for happy marriage.

It Will Keep

If only part of the head of cabbage is used, wrap the remainder in oiled paper and place in the refrigerator until desired. It will keep for several days without any trouble.

Will Not Boil Over

It is very annoying when cooking rice, noodles, beans, etc., to have them foam and boil over the stove. This can be avoided by dropping a small piece of butter in the boiling water.

CHOOSING SOME SIMPLE TOOLS FOR CHILDREN

If you have a small boy who is finding it deliciously satisfying to pound things, and these things may be, to the mother's despair, her best furniture, provide him with the tools and let him pound to his heart's content.

Just hammering isn't all there is to this urge. A child enjoys hammering real nails into real wood and so his mother can choose for him the harmless materials upon which he can work and make it easy enough for him so that he has the necessary satisfaction of success.

It is agreed by all authorities on play materials for children that tools should be of the best quality. A good hammer and saw are preferable to fancy boxes of flimsy tools of all types. The hammer must of necessity be a smaller size and lighter than one dad could use, but it should be a hammer that does its work well.

Harriet M. Johnson in her "Children in the Nursery School" has described the type of block used satisfactorily for this first venture in hammering. They are described also in "The Catalogue of Play Equipment," Bulletin VIII, published by the Bureau of Educational Experiments, as hollow yard blocks (closed boxes)—4 inches by 10 inches by 10 inches, weight three pounds. With this, the child is given a wire nail one inch long with large head. The very small child can hammer this nail into the wood after the point has been started. The older child or one who has done this work for a time can start the point himself. There is the pleasure of hammering a real nail into real wood and obviously in such large hollow blocks the nails are going to be all on the inside when hammered, where they can hurt no one, nor in any way damage the furniture as would happen if the child hammered his nails into a flat piece of wood.

I saw a small boy in a nursery school stand for more than an hour and saw strips of soft wood. He did this with the most obvious concentration. Each block that fell off was as great an achievement as the first one. His interest never flagged.

In the home if the parent paid no attention to this natural desire of the small boy one might find him some day using his father's saw and sawing at the legs of the table.

There are many homes in which a work bench could be fitted up for the small boy and keep him busy and happy for hours. Mothers can borrow many useful ideas from the nursery schools to help them through the sometimes trying preschool period.

WRIGHT TO LECTURE

"Photography of Planets" Will be Subject Tomorrow

The fourth lecture of the astronomical series under the auspices of the Mt. Wilson Observatory and the Astronomical Society of the Pacific will be given by Prof. William H. Wright of the Lick Observatory at the Los Angeles Public Library tomorrow at 8 p.m. His subject will be "Photography of the Planets." He will describe his recent work in making photographs of the planets in light of different colors and outline the remarkable conclusions to which he has been led by his studies of the atmosphere and markings found on Mars, Venus and Jupiter.

He also will show a motion-picture film of Jupiter taken with the thirty-six-inch refractor of Lick Observatory.

Prof. Wright recently returned from Europe, where he lectured.

Bigger, More Tender Kernels In a Rich Corn Cream

In this new and distinct breed

DEL MAIZ

The New Sweet Corn

Seed inspection in Del Maiz field

After years of packing the finest brands of the old-established varieties of corn, we decided we must develop an entirely new breed to obtain the better character of kernel and flavor we wanted. It took 12 years of expert seed culture to produce this distinctly new and finer corn.

As soon as you have tasted DEL MAIZ you'll immediately note its difference. All the things you haven't liked in a canned corn—watery consistency, cob chunks, etc.—are absent, due to the specially bred, tall DEL MAIZ kernels that contain a rich corn cream and permit a full cut without including these undesirable parts. But all the things that you have long wished for are there—big-bodied, tender kernels, embedded in a rich corn cream, and a fresh corn flavor that is delicious beyond words.

DEL MAIZ cannot be duplicated. We alone own the seed, and each stalk is grown under the direct supervision of our own experts. Every ear is carefully inspected and washed in clear running water. Every batch is tested in our laboratory and all packed in sanitary enamel-lined tins.

Only by tasting it can you appreciate how much better DEL MAIZ is than any corn you ever ate.

RANCH COMPANY BUYS BIG TRACT

Rancho Santa Fe Takes Over Whitney Property

Land to be Placed on the Market

Los Angeles Men Interested in Venture

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 16.—Purchase by the new Rancho Santa Fe Corporation of the Harry Payne Whitney property, between Rancho Santa Fe and Solana Beach, approximately 1400 acres, was announced today by Col. Ed Fletcher, representing the Whitney interests.

Prominent Los Angeles capitalists are associated in the new corporation, which plans to spend several million dollars on improvements, including highways, it was stated.

Nels Gross, president of the District Bond Company, was largely responsible for organization of the Rancho Santa Fe Corporation and purchase of the lands. He has accepted the presidency. Other officers include:

Vice-president, W. Herbert Allen, vice-president and director of the Title Insurance and Trust Company, and Ellis Bishop, Pasadena capitalist, secretary-treasurer; Otis H. Castle, attorney and director of several large Los Angeles corporations. Other directors are William B. Hubbard, president of Jones, Hubbard & Darnell, Inc.; Col. Ed Fletcher, San Diego business man and civic leader; J. E. Slater, retired capitalist of Pasadena, and A. R. Bishop of Los Angeles, Southern California land specialist.

"Never in the history of San Diego county has anything meant so much to our coast lands as the entry through Rancho Santa Fe Corporation of so many of Los Angeles' prominent citizens," declared Col. Fletcher today.

"President Gross has planned an elaborate program for the immediate development and beautification of this property. This is in charge of A. R. Bishop, who has completed plans for placing the entire acreage on the market immediately in estates of varying size. A noted landscape engineer will be employed and in due time a detailed plan of further development will be made public.

"The Rancho Santa Fe policy of restriction, architectural design and landscaping features will be adhered to by the new corporation.

"I ask all San Diego citizens to co-operate with this new organization in the development of one of the most beautiful natural locations in San Diego county."

Politics Pop in Pasadena

PASADENA, Jan. 16.—Clayton R. Taylor, chairman of the Board of City Directors, will not be a candidate to succeed himself in the Seventh District at the April election, he announced today.

"I am thankful to all my friends who have been with me in the two years I have been on the board, but I feel it is time for someone else to take the responsibility," declared the chairman.

His friends give Taylor the lion's share of the credit for pushing through the construction of the municipal golf course in the face of violent opposition which arose because the project was financed with funds borrowed from the light department surplus.

At the same time that Taylor's decision to step out of local politics was made known, it was learned that Frank C. Dunham, former police judge who was ousted from office by the present City Directors, is planning to run against Director Carl G. Wopschall in the Second District. Dunham charged that his removal was due, indirectly, to the fact that certain factions felt that he had been extreme in sentencing liquor violators. "Personality" was assigned by the Directors as the reason for dismissing him.

Former Director A. N. Cole may oppose Director Irving S. Monroe for re-election from the Fifth District, although he has made no formal announcement.

Airport to Get Second Factory

VAN NUYS, Jan. 16.—It is announced here today that within a few weeks the second industrial and manufacturing plant will be in operation at the Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport, northwest of here. Plans for a factory building, paint shop and office are being drawn for the Commercial Aircraft Corporation by Architect Mark Falk of Los Angeles.

The concern recently bought five acres within the port. Falk drew the plans for the Bach factory which starts work this week. A. B. Green, formerly of Kansas City, will be manager of the Commercial Aircraft plant and will start with a pay roll of thirty-five men.

Falk stated today that the new factory will be of the same type of construction as the Bach plant. All buildings will be of stone tile construction.

WAS EARLY PIONEER OF SAN FERNANDO VALLEY

SAN FERNANDO, Jan. 16.—Funeral services for Robert R. Elliott, 79 years of age, were held here today. Mr. Elliott, early-day resident of the San Fernando Valley, died in Nuevo, Cal., last Sunday and is survived by his widow and one son.

Coming to the valley in 1886 from New York, Mr. Elliott became associated with the Los Angeles Farming and Milling Company, which owned [illegible] acres of land in the western part of the valley. For eighteen years he was superintendent of [illegible]-acre ranch. Interment was in Oakwood Cemetery.

OFFICER WOUNDS PRISONER

Glendale Detective Shoots Man Who Makes a Bold Attempt to Escape

GLENDALE, Jan. 16.—Refusing to halt when he attempted to flee after having been arrested on a warrant charging a statutory offense against a youth resulted in J. D. Cosgrave, 45 years of age, of 312 South Adams street, being shot down by Detective Sergeant R. E. Warwick, last night. As Warwick and Detective A. E. Condy were escorting Cosgrave to police headquarters from his apartment, where they had arrested him on the warrant issued by the local police courts, Cosgrave made a bolt for freedom through a side door, fleeing along in an alley. Warwick ordered him to halt and two shots were fired in the air without result.

Warwick, as Cosgrave dodged between two buildings, fired again, the bullet inflicting a severe flesh wound on his thigh and bringing him down.

Cosgrave was given first-aid treatment at the Glendale Medical Group and was later transferred to the Windsor Hospital, where a police guard was maintained over him until today, when he was removed to the hospital ward of the County Jail.

Celebrate Birthday of Prohibition

UPLAND, Jan. 16.—Celebrating the ninth anniversary of prohibition in the United States, Upland and Ontario chapters of the Women's Temperance Union will join in a great victory institute at Upland Methodist Church Friday.

Mrs. Mary Haddow, president of Upland Union, will preside over the sessions. An all-day program has been arranged by Mrs. Mary Haddow, Mrs. Lucy Wilhoit, Mrs. Flora Morley, Mrs. T. J. Cromer, Mrs. Grace McGready, Mrs. R. E. Jones and Mrs. Eleanor Clark.

The morning address will be made by Dr. A. R. Weber of Claremont, speaking on "Sunday-schools." At the afternoon session the Rev. Lucy Wilhoit, Upland, will speak on "Evangelistic Retrospection" and Mrs. Ella Giles, Redlands, San Bernardino county W.C.T.U. president, speaks on "Victory."

Dr. Clyde M. Crist, pastor of Ontario First Methodist Church, is to be evening speaker on the subject, "Peace." Musical programs for the three sessions have been provided.

Women Need Stronger Legs

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 16.—Longer and stronger legs for women would be a valuable factor in the city's effort to lessen automobile accidents. Traffic officers inaugurating brake testing today discovered many women cannot reach the brake pedal to use it efficiently and others do not press hard enough on the pedal to secure the desired results, officers stated.

One woman driver whose car was submitted to brake testing, was unable to stop her automobile in less than sixty feet. A traffic officer manipulated the car and brought it to a stop within twenty-five feet, indicating a condition of excellent brakes but insufficient leg power.

SOCIETY IS AID TO CRIPPLED CHILDREN

GLENDALE, Jan. 16. — Children who suffer from physical or other handicaps that prevent their regular attendance at school will be able to undertake a course of high-school study, through the efforts of the Glendale Society for Crippled Children, Mrs. Arthur Franklin, chairman of the education committee, told the members of the society at last night's annual meeting.

Similar courses for children in the elementary schools have been conducted for several years past, but this is the first time that the high school courses have been made available. Seven graduates of the immediate schools have already registered for the high school course of home study, which will be conducted under the direction of the educational authorities. R. E. Downing, president of the society, was re-elected president, Mrs. Franklin was chosen vice-president, Thomas W. Long was elected secretary, W. M. Kimball, treasurer, and Mrs. C. W. Houston, H. C. Vandewater and Dr. Lelita Flewelling, members of the board of trustees.

VALLEY LAUNCHES PUBLICITY DRIVE

EL CENTRO, Jan. 16. — Imperial Valley is planning to launch a program of publicity designed to offset river menace propaganda which has been circulated for a number of years in connection with Boulder dam legislation.

B. A. Harrigan, chairman of the Imperial County Board of Trade, announced tentative plans for the campaign following a meeting of the board yesterday.

Booklets are being prepared for general circulation, moving pictures are to be used and a special bureau maintained at the Exposition Park in Los Angeles to supply information to eastern tourists.

ANNUAL RABBIT SHOW

COMPTON, Jan. 16.—The fifth annual Compton Fur and Rabbit Show, one of the largest exhibits of rabbits in the country, will be held May 4-11, it was decided today by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce. Last year more than 3500 rabbits were shown by exhibitors from all parts of the nation.

OPEN MONKEY FARMS

New Culver City Institution Invites Public to Go on Tour of Inspection

CULVER CITY, Jan. 16.—Children of the Culver City schools are to be the personal guests of Mayor Reve Houck for the formal opening to the public on Saturday of the Los Angeles Monkey Farms, 5651 Washington Boulevard, according to an announcement just made by W. H. (Bill) Rice, president of the corporation.

At the farms, the children will make the acquaintance of more than 200 members of the monkey family, representing two score species, which have been assembled at the farms from all over the world. From tiny marmosets no larger than rats to giant man-like apes, all the well known and many rare species are represented.

Preparations are being made by Rice to have Rough Neck, the chimpanzee; and Jiggs, the orang-outang; who have started their training for the films at the farms, do some of their stunts for the children at the opening.

One great family of fifty Rhesus monkeys occupying a giant cafe in the center of the farms, is expected to prove a great delight to the children and grown-ups as well. A half a dozen newly arrived baby monkeys of different species form another great attraction to visitors.

Sightseers will have an opportunity to inspect the bedrooms for the monkeys, the kitchens where their food is as carefully prepared as that for humans in private homes, the hospital for those that are ailing, stages for the training of the animals and other features of the breeding farms.

Now on the way to the farms are four more chimpanzees, another collection of fifty ringtailed monkeys and a group of twenty of the spider species with other rare specimens. The shipments, coming from Hamburg, Germany, are expected to arrive in time for the formal opening Saturday.

Crime Wave at Ontario

ONTARIO, Jan. 16.—Banditry and robbery continue to hold sway in this community despite efforts of police and residents to rid the region of outlawry. In the past few days eight homes have been entered and ransacked while families were away.

Last night the Pan-American service station at Fern avenue and A street was chosen as a target by a tall, well-armed bandit, who robbed Franklin Stone, attendant, of $25 in cash. Stone was accosted by the tall stranger and told to produce all the cash in the service station. Throwing back his coat, the bandit displayed a revolver in his belt, ready for quick action.

After taking the cash from the cash register the bandit forced Stone into a restroom and threatened him with death if he emerged before five minutes elapsed. Stone heard an automobile race away from the place.

The robbery was similar to several of recent date in San Bernardino. Housewives have been warned to be on the alert for a band of "sailors" who are said to be working the citrus belt with a quick-selling oriental rug scheme. The sailors claim the rugs have been smuggled into the country and are sold at a great sacrifice for $175 and $200. Real value of the rugs is said to be about $15.

Part of the loot taken from the eight homes has been recovered in the arrest of a band of Mexicans in San Bernardino.

Public Favors Health Center

INGLEWOOD, Jan. 16.—Inglewood City Council was deluged last night with a shower of petitions, in favor of establishing a County Health Center here, from nearly a dozen Parent-Teacher associations, service clubs, the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations.

Virgil Dahl, superintendent of physical education for city schools, led the list of petitioners by handing in the documents at the Council meeting with the statement that he believed the signatures represented a cross section of public opinion throughout the city.

"The object of these petitions," it was said by Mr. Dahl, "is not in criticism of the present City Health Department and the municipal free clinic. It is simply that the time seems ripe to make a move toward securing the Health Center for Inglewood."

George C. Malloy, president of the Inglewood Investment Company, has announced that this concern would give a site to the county for the proposed $75,000 Health Center building on Queen street in the heart of the city.

Mayor Hugh P. Lawrence and the other members of the City Council expressed their interest in the plan and the matter was laid over for two weeks to give further time for investigation and report on the proposed contract with the county for the establishment and maintenance of the Health Center.

TREE-PLANTING CAMPAIGN

SOUTH GATE, Jan. 16.—South Gate is to start a tree-planting campaign within the near future, City Attorney Lynch having been instructed to make a complete survey of the city as to the existing trees. It is planned to plant trees throughout the entire residential section, having two trees set in the parkway in front of each lot, where they are not already planted. A general assessment will be made against the property after the project is completed, excluding all property that already has trees planted in the parkways.

ADDITION TO SCHOOL

SOUTH GATE, Jan. 16. — The new addition to the State street grammar school has been completed, and will be formally opened Friday night, when a program will be given. The new structure has ten schoolrooms, which is part of the program arranged for forty new schoolrooms at the various buildings in the school district.

New City Hall Discussed by City Planners

COVINA, Jan. 16.—As a major project on their program, the City Planning Commission discussed the possibilities of a new City Hall at a special session last night.

Although the site is not thought suitable by a number of citizens, the commission almost as a whole favor construction of the new city edifice on city property on College street, directly behind the First National Bank Building.

The building, according to plans now outlined, will cost approximately $50,000, according to William A. Viney, secretary of the Planning Commission.

In addition to backing the City Hall movement, the commission has underway an elaborate street-beautification program including the widening of major streets throughout the city, Viney said.

The commission, which was appointed recently by Mayor George Maxfield, is just getting under way with their seasonal activities, under the supervision of I. Worth Everett. Members of the commission include Tom Finch, Dr. W. A. Griffith, Roy C. Hanna, William Haynes, Edward A. Hubbard, Verner C. Johnson, John Koch, J. P. Overholtzer, J. W. Potter, L. L. Statekin, I. G. Reynolds, Frank H. Wright, Charles Zugg and Secretary Viney.

Wreck Victim Fast Worker

ARCADIA, Jan. 16.—After colliding with a farm wagon driven by Morton Quinn, at the intersection of Baldwin and Woodbury avenues, an unknown driver of a light truck after uprighting his machine, which turned over three times in the impact, drove away before Quinn returned after chasing his runaway team for two blocks, according to his story told to Chief of Police A. N. Coberly.

"Whoever he is, I can truly say that he is the fastest worker I have ever seen," Quinn declared to the officers.

According to a report of the accident, the wagon was completely demolished and the team was badly lacerated from flying glass. Quinn who was thrown into a clump of trees at the side of the road, was given medical treatment after he had retrieved his team, which necessitated the services of a veterinary. It is believed that the driver of the truck must have fallen asleep at the wheel, as he struck the wagon from the rear for no apparent reason as there were no other machines in sight at the time of the accident.

LEMON ASSOCIATION ELECTS OFFICERS

SAN FERNANDO, Jan. 16.—E. A. Cyrtis was re-elected president of the San Fernando Heights Lemon Association at the annual meeting of the association here. All directors were re-elected, as were other officers. The report of the association revealed that last season was the best in the history of the association from the standpoint of returns to growers. Lemons netted $1.32 per field box to the growers.

The association last season shipped 364 cars of lemons and since November 1 has shipped 125 cars. More than 100 cars are in storage at present and the pay roll of the plant is averaging $1000 a day, the report showed.

HOLD ORANGE SHOW IN OLD LOCATION

ANAHEIM, Jan. 19.—This summer's California Valencia Orange Show will be held here, on the same site, as have the preceding eight annual classics.

Definite announcement to this effect was made today by George W. Reid, general manager of the big California exposition, thereby setting at rest conflicting rumors that a change had been in view. Discussion of rumored sites had attained county-wide proportions, resulting in Reid's statement.

As emphasized by Reid, the 1929 orange show is to be held here some time late in May. Exact dates are expected to be determined within the next week or so.

FRANCHISE BASIS OF LAWSUIT

Taxpayers Ask Court for Injunction to Block Oil Company's Pipe Line

SANTA ANA, Jan. 16.—Action by Fullerton taxpayers to block the City Council's move toward granting a pipe line franchise over Fullerton streets to the Union Oil Company was taken today in the form of an injunction suit, filed in Superior Court by W. F. Coulter, former Mayor of Fullerton, J. P. Des Granges and the Placentia Orchard Company.

The action was seen as a strategic move to block the pumping of water from a district south of Fullerton and its transfer to the north to irrigate young orchards on the hills north of Fullerton.

Fullerton Councilmen, the City Clerk and the oil company were included as defendants in the suit, which was brought through the legal firm of Head, Wellington, Scovel & Jacobs of Santa Ana.

Plaintiffs, who base their action upon the claim that the proposed pipe line would cross their lands, seek to restrain the City Council from a second reading of an ordinance, by which the pipe line franchise would be granted. A permanent injunction against the granting of any such franchise to any person or corporation is sought.

Cold Weather Spoils Market

COVINA, Jan. 16.—Due to the extreme cold weather in the East, shipments of oranges from the Covina Fruit Exchange are being delayed, according to W. M. Griswold, manager of the exchange.

Rather than suffer a loss of having entire carloads of fruit frozen, all of our shipments are being held up for the week and maybe longer, Griswold said.

The exchange has also stopped all transit of fruit at points en route east where the climate permits a delay in travel without freezing the fruit, as heavy storms have congested railroad traffic near Chicago forcing holdovers of shipments.

The congested condition of the railroads has already caused losses to some fruit associations, according to executives of the local exchange.

First Recall at Burbank

BURBANK, Jan. 16.—For the first time in the history of this city, voters will go to the polls tomorrow to vote on two recall propositions designed to oust the Mayor and another Councilman. Mayor Lapsley and Councilman Thompson are facing the voters' decision.

Sixteen voting precincts will be thrown open at 6 a.m. and closed at 7 p.m. The votes will be forwarded to City Clerk Webster, who will be at the City Hall to tabulate the count.

A survey today revealed that there is little interest in Burbank's first recall election outside of the efforts of the two factions involved. Consequently a light vote is expected. Charges and countercharges have been hurled on both sides. Both Councilmen are charged with inefficiency, incompetence and lack of public confidence. The City Council will hold a special session Monday to canvass the results.

TRAFIC OFFICER BADLY INJURED

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 16.—Capt. Lester M. Desgrandchamp of the State motorcycle squad of Santa Barbara county, was painfully injured yesterday afternoon in Los Alamos, when he collided with an automobile driven by N. B. Cheney, a teacher in the Los Alamos school. Capt. Desgrandchamp, who was mounted on a motorcycle, received a broken foot, a cut eye and other injuries, it was reported.

He was brought to his home in this city, after receiving medical attention.

Mr. Cheney is said to have driven his car onto the main highway without stopping. Charges of failing to stop will probably be filed against him, it was stated by H. B. Johnson, a member of the highway patrol, stationed in Santa Maria.

RENEW KIDNAPER SEARCH

Officers of San Bernardino Follow Clew to Desert on Prospector's Tip

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 16.—The search for Harry Palmer, accused kidnaper of Richard Grant, 11-year-old Los Angeles youth, was renewed today when Deputy Sheriff Phillips and a Santa Fe Railway officer left hurriedly for Twenty-nine Palms, far out on the desert, where a boy and a man answering the description of Grant and Palmer were seen by a prospector.

Palmer is wanted for questioning by railway officers on the wreck of the Missionary, Santa Fe's fast train near Hesperia, on the night of December 17. The prospector reported to the Sheriff that he had passed a man and a boy traveling in an automobile on a lonely road north of Twenty-nine Palms, in the heart of the desert.

The prospector said that the pair closely answered the description of the accused kidnaper and missing boy. The search for Palmer and the boy was prosecuted for weeks on the desert in the vicinity of Victorville and Barstow by officers and the Grant boy's father but no tangible clews as to the whereabouts of the pair were obtained. Palmer and the boy were linked to the train wreck investigation when tracks of a man and boy were found in the sand along the Santa Fe Railway near the scene of the wreck.

LIGHT RATES REDUCED

Southern Sierras Company Lowers Rate to Consumers in Imperial Valley

EL CENTRO, Jan. 16.—At a conference between Imperial Valley publishers and officials of the Southern Sierras Power Company here last night, A. B. West, president of the company, made formal announcement of a reduction in local electric rates which, according to his figures, will save Imperial Valley $90,000 in domestic light charges annually. New tariffs were filed with the State Railroad Commission yesterday, West said, and if approved will become effective March 4 this year.

Residential consumers will receive a reduction of 14 per cent in existing rates while large commercial users will get the benefit of a 6 per cent cut.

The power company official declared that this is the third rate reduction made to Imperial Valley electric customers within eighteen months. Domestic charges for lighting here are now the same as in the country districts around Riverside and San Bernardino.

It is said that the total saving to the valley as a result of tariff reductions made since June, 1927, amount to $182,000 annually for valley consumers.

Announcement of rate reductions here is being interpreted as the company's answer to the proposal of the Imperial Irrigation District to develop hydroelectric power in its canal system. The district office was busy today mailing out thousands of copies of a newly published booklet, designed to win support for the $3,100,000 hydropower project, which the directors propose to submit to a bond election.

According to figures prepared by Engineer M. J. Dowd, the district can generate and sell power at a lower figure than the private company is charging and pay a profit to the water users in the district.

City to Seek Loan of Large Sum of Money

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 16.—That the city borrow $150,000 from local banks for immediate necessities in meeting the water situation is the recommendation of the Chamber of Commerce water commission, of which John P. Forward, Jr., is the chairman, filed with the Common Council today.

Recommended for use of this money is to place the wooden pipe line from Otay to Chollas in good condition, renovation of the Torrey Pines pipe line, enlarging the Morena spillway and for such other purposes as the water department may deem fit to enable it to sustain the water system.

The Chamber of Commerce committee also indorses the proposed amendment to increase the city's bonding margin to 25 per cent for water development and also indorses the new pipe line from Otay and the employment of T. B. Cosgrove as special counsel on water matters.

The committee proposes that $50,000 be spent on the old pipe line, $75,000 on the Morena spillway, $25,000 on the Torrey Pines pipe line and any such other sums as are quartered. The committee states that "the money borrowed be repaid the banks as soon as available."

In reaching its decision regarding the water situation and its recommendations the committee states it was assisted and advised by Maj.-Gen. Joseph E. Kuhn and Engineer H. N. Savage, in charge of water development for the city.

PASADENA WOMAN STRUCK BY TRAIN

PASADENA, Jan. 16. — When she jumped or fell against the first section of the California Limited as the train was passing over the Wilson-avenue crossing, Mrs. P. E. Ferrand, 61 years of age, of 617 North Wilson avenue, was critically injured this afternoon.

Detective Lieutenants Cropsey and Collins, who investigated the affair, stated that it was "an open question" whether Mrs. Ferrand slipped accidentally, or leaped against the side of the engine tender in an effort to end her life. Witnesses are reported to have told the police officers that they saw the woman pacing back and forth along the track before the arrival of the train.

At the Pasadena Emergency Hospital, where she was treated for a probable skull fracture, Mrs. Ferrand stated that she was walking along the track and that after slipping to her knees, she was unable to rise before the train struck her.

The detectives learned that Mrs. Ferrand has been ill with influenza and was worried about finances.

DARING ROBBERY OF SERVICE STATION

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 16. — In a daring daylight robbery early this morning, two armed bandits held up C. B. Bennett, attendant of a Shell service station, First and National avenues, National City, and escaped with $21 from the cash register, police report.

Bennett was opening the station for business when one of the bandits, his cap pulled almost over his eyes, thrust a gun into Bennett's back.

"Don't shout or I'll shoot," the thug warned Bennett. He then ransacked the cash register and running from the station, leaped into the waiting car.

A search throughout San Diego and outlying districts has been instituted by National City police and local authorities.

A heavy guard has been placed near the Tia Juana line on the theory that the bandits may attempt to escape into Mexico.

BELATED PAY VOUCHER

Burbank Pays Former City Engineer on Court Order

BURBANK, Jan. 16.—A little green slip of paper changed hands today in the City Clerk's office with seven important figures on it. The transfer of the slip signified the conclusion of a 4-year-old controversy here over other important figures.

It was a check for $27,445.82—payable to Arthur J. Rose, former City Engineer—and was the largest paid voucher ever issued in Burbank. The City Council last night approved the check providing that Rose or his attorney present a satisfaction of judgment. This was done today, by Leonard Hammer, attorney for the former city official.

Ever since 1925 the Rose payment for back salary on a contract with the city has agitated Burbank. It was finally taken to the Superior Court, where Judge McDill, indorsed a judgment last month in favor of Rose amounting to $27,299.57 plus cost and interest.

The cost amounted to $67.50 and interest for fifteen days, $78.75 after a brief discussion at City Council meeting last night during which it was learned that the money was available from the general fund, although drastic measures must be taken to cut down the expenses of the city.

The warrant was signed and pronounced ready for cashing.

CLUB WOMEN ON ERRAND OF MERCY

VENTURA, Jan. 16.—Social workers and club women were busy gathering clothing here today to relieve the want of the family of Demas Quijada, water department employee, who were forced to flee for their lives when their house on Olive street burned down. Quijada, himself was ill in bed with the flu and was forced out into the cold wearing only his night clothing.

Members of the family of nine are said to have declared afterward that they smelled smoke when they retired, about 9 o'clock. About midnight they were awakened by the crackling of flames and rushed from the burning house.

Maude Leone Wheeled Into Court

Testimony Given From Stretcher

Actress as she appeared yesterday at the trial of her $110,000 damage suit for personal injuries brought against the Los Angeles Railway Corporation, in Superior Judge Hahn's court.

League; Rex Sawyer, representing the Associated Jobbers, and former Judge Leslie R. Hewitt, who acted as special legal adviser to the Board of Harbor Commissioners in the drawing of the agreement.

The agreement is scheduled to be passed upon by the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington on the 24th inst. At that time the commission will have before it the report of its special examiner, Shelby S. Roberts, who first advanced the two suggested amendments which formed the basis of the Colden resolution. It also will have before it a bill of exceptions to this report filed jointly by the city and the interested railroads and a brief in reply to these exceptions filed jointly by the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce, the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, the Harbor District Chambers of Commerce and the Federation of State Societies. It was pointed out during yesterday's hearing that Mr. Roberts never has been in California and never has made a first-hand study of the harbor situation.

Yesterday's committee-of-the-whole session of the Council also was scheduled to pass upon another resolution of Councilman Colden's which asks the Council to support a resolution presented to break the deadlock which is holding up the extension of the harbor breakwater. So much time was consumed in the discussion of the first resolution, however, that it was decided to refer the breakwater resolution to the Council's Harbor Committee for report.

FIRE DESTROYS SOUND STAGES

upon which were five firemen. With the explosion came bursts of flame from all parts of the roof and two more alarms were sent in.

Ambulances took the injured firemen to the emergency hospital. A few minutes later a ladder upon which two electricians were working with a hose slipped from the wall and both men were injured. They also were taken to the hospital. A half-dozen other firemen were partially overcome during the three hours that the fire raged, but none needed medical attention.

Tons of water were poured onto the flames from the roofs of nearby studio buildings. The outer walls of the burning building were fourteen inches thick and the flames were held within them.

BUILDING ISOLATED

Because of the nature of the work contemplated in the building it had been built fifty feet away from any other building. Most of the employees of the studio had gone home for the day, but the flames brought hundreds of them back.

The dense smoke lighted by sparks and flames caused thousands of homeward bound motorists to clog the streets for many blocks around the studio property. Traffic was at a standstill for an hour and extra fire and police equipment had difficulty in reaching the gates.

According to officials the fire is believed to have been smoldering in the paper and felt soundproof lining hours before the flames broke out. According to Walter Dalton and B. T. Buckingham, electricians, they had been over the part of the roof where the flames were first discovered two hours before, but had seen no evidence of fire or heat.

Studio officials said they would make plans immediately for the reconstruction of the building. It is not believed the old walls can be used. The building was covered by insurance. At the emergency hospital it was said none of the injured would die. The firemen injured are J. A. Neilson, Engine No. 41; A. S. Hudson, Engine No. 41; B. P. McCarthy, Truck No. 19; Edmund Redona, Engine, No. 27; William Calpin, Engine No. 27; B. T. Buckingham, O. P. Brent and Theodore De Silvia, electricians.

FALL BASIS OF SUIT FOR LARGE SUM

Ex-Wife of Willard Mack Charges Bus Accident Caused Severe Injuries

After being wheeled into court on a stretcher, Maude Leone, actress and former wife of Willard Mack, stage favorite, yesterday gave testimony in her suit for $111,000 damages brought against the Los Angeles Railway Corporation for asserted injuries sustained in a fall on one of the company's busses.

Miss Leone was wheeled down the aisle in the crowded courtroom of Superior Judge Hahn to a position in front of the jury. Then, under the questioning of her attorneys, Joseph Fainer and Cromwell Ormsby, she told how, in November, 1927, she was on a bus on Wilshire Boulevard, and while standing awaiting to alight, the vehicle was started suddenly and she was thrown and twisted over the rail of the rear stairway.

The taking of the testimony of the actress and her cross-examination conducted by Attorney Phil Sterry for the railway, were brief.

Miss Leone asserts that as a result of the fall she was partially paralyzed and has been unable to walk. She also asserts that on the day the accident happened she had signed a contract to appear in a stage production, so her injuries caused financial loss.

The defense contends that the actress contributed to her injuries in not using ordinary care in alighting from the bus.

Spurlin Wins Legal Bout in Mayhem Case

A legal fight was won yesterday by DeKalb Spurlin, charged with mayhem and assault with means to do great bodily harm, when Superior Judge Shaw sustained his demurrer and referred the indictment back to the ground jury for resubmission.

In the other indictment which makes Spurlin a codefendant with H. J. Kimmerle, accusing them of beating Arthur Loeb so seriously in a fight over Julian Petroleum stockholders' affairs that he lost the sight of one eye, demurrers were overruled and both defendants pleaded not guilty.

Trial was set for February 18, next, in Department 26 of Superior Court.

THREE JUDGES HEAR FISH FRAY

Suit of Companies Seeking to Curb Rules Ends

Decision Due in Few Days on Sardine Question

State Departments Target in Action of Packers

Arguments were heard yesterday by a Federal tribunal of three judges, sitting en banc, regarding the suit of the Van Camp Sea Food Company and the Globe Grain and Milling Company, for a permanent injunction against the State Fish and Game Commission, the Bureau of Natural Resources and the State Department of Commercial Fisheries. An injunction has been asked against the three departments to prohibit them from enforcing certain State regulations regarding the packing of fish.

The court stated that a decision may be forthcoming in a few days. The judges are United States Circuit Judge Rudkin of San Francisco and United States District Judges James and Henning.

Arguments for the plaintiffs, the fish-packing companies, were presented by B. D. Marx Greene, attorney for the Van Camp company, and M. A. Thomas of San Francisco and John L. Dyer of Los Angeles. They held that the restrictions placed on the fish-packing industries violate the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution. They stated that 95 per cent of the fish packed here is shipped out of the State and that the order of the State departments requiring that three-fourths of the fish products be canned for human consumption and only one-fourth used for fish oil and meal by-products, is unconstitutional.

Eugene B. Bennett, attorney for the State departments, stated to the court that the supply of sardines for State fishing is threatened by the manner in which sardines are being packed.

TITLED HUSBAND SEEKS DIVORCE

Serbian Noble's Romance Comes to End

Charges Seamstress-Bride With Cruel Acts

Count Tolstoy May be One of Witnesses

The romance of a poor girl who married a nobleman went on the rocks yesterday when Count de Savoy Chemerny, former member of the Serbian court, and a captain in the Serbian army during the late war, sued his wife, formerly Mabel Moe Myers of Woodland, Yolo county, for divorce.

Taking the name of Blaise Rocco Savage, the count, who is related by blood to some of the oldest families listed in the Almanach de Gotha, the "blue book" of European aristocracy, came to America after the war, rolled up his sleeves, and learned the printer's trade. He is listed as a printer in the city directory. In 1924 he came to Los Angeles and, after learning to operate a linotype machine, went into business for himself.

Although he is reputed to enjoy the income from large estates in Serbia and France, he established the National Linotype Company here.

While learning to set type, he met Miss Myers, who had left her home in Yolo county to come to Los Angeles and work as a pattern maker for a dressmaking company. It was love at first sight.

TOLSTOY NONPLUSSED

The couple was married at the home of the bride's parents at Woodland, April 26, 1925.

Somewhat later, according to Count Chemerny's divorce complaint, filed yesterday by Attorney William T. Kendrick, Jr., Mrs. Savage, the Countess, objected when he went to work early, saying that wealthy and titled aristocrats shouldn't work. She also protested, he asserts, when he attended lodge in the evening, and insisted that he resign from the executive board of Loyola University, because his duties kept him away from home. He contends that these acts constitute cruelty.

But the Count's most embarrassing moment came at a banquet given recently in honor of Count Tolstoy. It was there that his wife, he avers, gave a long account of her own social exploits in Europe, declaring that she had met Count Tolstoy at a reception in Belgrade when the King and Queen of Servia entertained the King and Queen of Italy.

"Strange," remarked the Count, with Russian suavity, "I don't recall having met you there."

SERVED WITH ALLIES

Count Chemerny first came to the United States in 1912. When the war broke out, his sympathies were enlisted with the Allies, as he had been educated in Paris. He went to Canada, and enlisted in a French regiment being recruited in Quebec. Later, when Servia entered the war, he was transferred to the Servian army with the rank of captain. He was then 36 years of age.

Countess Chemerny left her home, 1606 Arlington avenue, the 12th inst., according to the divorce complaint. She made a property settlement under the terms of which she is said to receive $6000 a year, and has left to spend the winter season in Switzerland.

According to Attorney Kendrick, a number of prominent members of the local film colony, including Count Tolstoy, will testify at Count Chemerny's divorce hearing, which is expected to take place in a few weeks.

U.C.L.A. TO GET FIFTH UNIT

Education Building to be Erected at Westwood in Time for Occupancy Next Fall

Development of the new Westwood campus of the University of California at Los Angeles is proceeding rapidly with the announcement yesterday of the construction in the near future of the fifth major unit of the buildings that will comprise the campus. Assistant Comptroller Robert Underhill said the new building will be known as the Education Building, and will cost approximately $450,000, the structure to be completed by next fall, when the university removes to its new home.

The building will have three stories, conforming architecturally to the four other large buildings now nearing completion. Plans have been designed by Architect George W. Kelham and Thomas B. Hunter of the firm of Hunter & Hudson, consulting engineers, has just completed a series of consultations with officials of the university regarding details of design.

The Education Building will house the departments of fine arts, education, psychology and other branches of the teachers college courses at U.C.L.A. It will be located south-east of the library and administration building adding about 57,000 square feet of floor space to the facilities being provided by the new buildings. The new building was made necessary by the recent decision of the University of California Board of Regents to move the teachers' college to the new site, along with the college of letters and science.

Designs for the education building call for the most modern equipment for conducting classes in teachers' college courses. Construction work will start as soon as the board of regents approves several details.

Powder Rules Change Sought

Permission for black smokeless and sporting powder shipments to remain in the holds of vessels calling at Los Angeles Harbor wharves for other cargo, instead of requiring that the powder be placed aboard a barge in the outer harbor as provided under present harbor regulations, was requested of the Harbor Commission yesterday by the Hercules Powder Company. The request was referred to General Manager Edwards.

Sued by Wife on Cruelty Grounds

Councilman Pierson M. Hall is made defendant in an action for divorce filed in Superior Court late yesterday by Mrs. Blanche Hall, who accuses her husband of acts of cruelty.

According to the complaint, filed for Mrs. Hall by Attorney Earle M. Daniels, her husband remained away from home at nights and when he returned home and she asked him where he had been he told her "that it was none of her business where he had been."

The couple married, according to the complaint, on April 8, 1927, and separated October 5, last, according to the petition. Mrs. Hall asks for a separation and alimony.

PRESENT TREND IN RADIO SHOWN

Capital Proceedings Reflect New Broadcast Attitude

National Organization Hits Existing License Limit

High Power Held Needless for Chain Operations

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

The trend of the time in radio activity is reflected in the digest of the past ten days in Washington.

The National Association of Broadcasters, through its directing board, has filed a brief which says that the entire radio industry is rendered unstable by the limitation to ninety days for broadcast licenses.

The group recommends that station licenses be made for a period of a year and that the administrative provisions of the radio law be amended so as to provide for appeals from the commission decisions changing the status of a station. Appeals now are permitted only on adverse decisions.

Joseph Goustin, president of the New Jersey Broadcasters' Association, attacked high power as unnecessary, maintaining that chain stations on clear channels do not need high power because they are connected throughout the country by land lines.

He asserted that the result of the reallocation has been that the commission has placed small competitors of large stations in positions where they cannot compete.

Goustin recommended an amendment to the present law to prevent the commission from acting as "judge, jury and prosecutor" in the cases it brings.

Louis G. Caldwell, general counsel of the commission, recommended an amendment to the 1927 radio law to eliminate duplication of work by the commission and the radio division of the Department of Commerce, the extension of the present three-month broadcast license term and clarification of certain sections of the law relating to ownership.

Ira E. Robinson, chairman of the commission, has appeared before the House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries.

Among his many recommendations are plans for reducing the number of stations, the restriction of chain broadcast and a change in the present practice of the commission under which each commissioner is in control of a zone.

SEARCH FOR ALLOY TOLD METAL MEN

Jordon Korp Traces Quest in Endeavor to Develop New Hard Products

As great a vista as ever enticed a scientist now lies before the metallurgist and the next twenty years will see the development of three to five times as many alloys as now are in existence, Jordan Korp of Philadelphia, Norwegian metallurgical expert, yesterday told the session of the Western Metal Congress in Shrine Auditorium.

The nation's great metal need is new alloys, declared Korp, who was introduced as "the Steinmetz of metallurgy." He said hundreds of the finest intellects in this and foreign countries are engrossed in this fascinating research.

A compliment was paid the Los Angeles city schools by W. H. Eisenman, secretary of the American Society for Steel Treating, when he said the local schools' machine classes turn out a finer grade of workmanship than the schools of any city in which the congress has been held in ten years.

Under the direction of William S. Kienholz, supervisor of industrial education, the school system was represented in the congress displays with an array of wrought iron and machinery.

Eight hundred students of the National Automotive School and 150 from the Glendale public schools are scheduled to visit the congress, accompanied by instructors tomorrow afternoon.

Special programs will be given today under sponsorship of the Pacific Gas Association and the Pacific Coast Electrical Association. Concluding programs tomorrow will be arranged by the Society of Automotive Engineers, with Ethelbert Favary of Burbank as chairman and the American Welding Society, with A. E. De Burn in the chair.

The annual banquet of the American Society for Steel Treating will take place this evening in the Biltmore music room.

Shortridge Sent Thanks for Help on Port Menace

Commendation and thanks to United States Senator Shortridge for his quick action in getting government officials interested in removing the sunken tanker Washtenaw from the main channel of Los Angeles Harbor, where it is declared a menace to navigation, was expressed in a resolution passed by the Harbor Commission yesterday. Secretary Rouse was directed to send a copy of the resolution to the Senator.

Maj. Gross, United States district engineer, who has been notified by the head of his department in Washington to arrange for removal of the wreck, as the result of Senator Shortridge's efforts, has informed the Harbor Commission that bids will be received in February for removal of the tanker.

The tanker, formerly operated as an oil carrier, had just been converted into a factory ship for whaling interests when it sank at the Park & Kibele wharf early last fall.

Small Girl's Life Saved by Policeman

Policeman A. R. Ferguson of the University division probably saved the life of a little girl yesterday afternoon while he was on school-crossing duty at Hoover and Fifty-second street near the Fifty-second-street public school. Ferguson snatched the child out of danger as a heavy truck loaded with produce and driven by Ray E. Piper, 38 years of age, a gardener of 2507 Rodeo Road, sped across a safety zone, at which a number of homebound children had gathered.

Ferguson, who had signaled traffic to stop, pushed several boys and girls out of the path of the oncoming truck before he noticed the little girl, who was standing, oblivious of her danger, at the far end of the safety zone. The policeman reached her about two seconds before the truck swept by with its wheels astradle the safety buttons. In his haste to overtake the truck Ferguson did not get the little girl's name. He commandeered a passing automobile and caught Piper several blocks away. The gardener was arrested charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated.

WOMAN CHARGES LOT SOLD HER MINUS TITLE

Asserting that she was sold a lot that belonged to some one else, Leota Marquard appeared in Superior Judge Stutsman's court yesterday asking damages amounting to $8300 from Charles Riggins. The plaintiff contends that Riggins sold her the lot, located in Burbank, and that after she had paid $8300 she learned that another person owned it. In answer the defendant asserts that Mrs. Marquard knew of the cloud on the title when she purchased the property. The hearing will continue today.

'HAY, HAY!' SINGS AL BARNES

Voracious Pachyderms Instead of Divorce Plan Caused Move to Nevada, Says Circus Man

A bale of hay is only a tidbit on the menu of an elephant according to Al G. Barnes Stonehouse, circus man, on the witness stand before Superior Judge Dooling endeavoring to prove he established a residence in Nevada to be near a large alfalfa supply for animals in his show and because of throat trouble he suffered, and not to get a divorce.

"I planned to winter the show at Las Vegas in Nevada because of the large supply of hay and alfalfa there," the circus man declared.

GREEDY ELEPHANTS

"A bale is only a bitbit," Stonehouse replied.

The circus leader was on the witness stand most of the day endeavoring to prove to the court that he legally had established a residence at Las Vegas when he obtained a divorce from Mrs. Sarah Jane Stonehouse in 1922.

Mrs. Stonehouse now is asking separate maintenance and a share in community property. She asks $2500 a month for an allowance and a portion of the community property which she says, is valued at more than $2,000,000.

Efforts are being made in court to determine whether Stonehouse was a legal resident of Nevada when the divorce was obtained. If this fact is established, then the courts here cannot proceed with the separate maintenance suit of Mrs. Stonehouse as her husband legally would be divorced from her.

DIVORCED BEFORE

Evidence was adduced yesterday showing that the circus man was divorced from his first wife, Dollie Stonehouse, who received $50,000 in a property settlement.

Attorney Francis J. Heney was summoned to the witness stand in behalf of Mrs. Stonehouse, the burden of his testimony being that he was conversant with the property settlement made for the first Mrs. Stonehouse, also the details relative to the circus man's second marriage with Sarah Jane Hardigan to give her children their father's home.

Arguments on the testimony taken yesterday will be made by Attorney Frank P. Doherty, representing Mrs. Stonehouse and Ward Chapman, representing Stonehouse, today when court convenes at 9:30 a.m.

Aviation Group in Spotlight at Breakfast Club

Aviation again was in the forefront at the Breakfast Club yesterday morning when Paul Henderson, general manager of Transcontinental Air Transport Company; Lieut. Tomlinson, former commander of the Sea Hawks trio of Navy stunt flyers, and Miss Bobby Trout, Los Angeles girl who recently broke the world's endurance record for women flyers, were introduced. Lloyd Nix, newly appointed City Prosecutor, also was introduced.

Mr. Henderson told the crowd that coast-to-coast plane-and-train passenger service will be inaugurated within six months.

Other guests introduced included J. P. McEvoy, writer, New York; Herman Rawitser, president of King Publishing Company, New York; J. D. Shields, retired New York manufacturer, and Helen and Douglas Robinson, daughter and son of T. D. Robinson, assistant Secretary of the Navy, of Washington.

Lupino Lane, Doris Eaton and the Hollywood Music Box revue provided entertainment in addition to numbers by the orchestra of the "20-30 Club" of Hollywood and Tommy Weber's orchestra.

A feature was the introduction of thirty members of the newly organized Columbia University Alumni Club of Los Angeles. The president, J. Boyce-Smith, is a director of the Breakfast Club. The hosts were Dr. Clair Wilson and H. E. Sherman, Jr.

Building Begun on Sound-Cinema Stages at Studio

Coincident with the change of name of the FBO studios to RKO Productions, Inc., a $250,000 building program was launched on the studio's premises in Hollywood yesterday.

The program calls for soundproofing all of the existing stages and for the erection of a new soundproof stage for talking pictures, as well as the construction of three new projection rooms especially designed for audible films. William Le Baron is vice-president in charge of production.

RCA Photophone equipment is en route from New York for installation in the sound stages.

The change in the title of what now is RKO Productions, Inc., was the culmination of a series of mergers which brought together the interests of the Radio Corporation of America, the Keith and Orpheum theaters, now known as the Radio-Keith-Orpheum theaters; the RCA Photophone system, the National Broadcasting Company and the various FBO cinema corporations.

AUDITOR GETS CREDENTIALS

The harbor board yesterday approved the recommendation of General Manager Edwards that J. W. Philbrook, harbor auditor, be authorized to sign checks and drafts and to indorse for deposit checks and drafts of the harbor department.

LEADERS VISION STATE GROWTH

growth will be accompanied by proportionately greater agricultural, industrial and commercial activities. The communities of this State face a serious task in preparing for this tremendous development, in addition to meeting many State-wide problems confronting various California industries.

"These problems, affecting aviation, agriculture, highway safety, foreign trade, industry, research and highway construction, can best be and must be solved through the co-operation of all communities. The California Development Association, as the State Chamber of Commerce, is playing an important part in bringing every section and every industry of the State together to work for the common good.

Orra E. Monnette

"Without duplicating the work of any existing organization, the association co-operates the activities of its members, which include boards of supervisors, chambers of commerce, farm and trade organizations, firms, corporations and individuals. It maintains headquarters and councils in Los Angeles, Fresno, San Francisco, Santa Rosa and Sacramento, representing and serving the entire State as a State-wide influence for progress.

"Nine civic leaders throughout the State serve the association as directors, committeemen or councilmen.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

"On the board of directors of the association are such outstanding Southern California leaders as:

"William May Garland of Los Angeles, whose efforts were largely responsible for bringing the 1932 Olympiad to Southern California; C. C. Teague of Santa Paula, president of the California Fruit Growers' Association, the outstanding co-operative in the world; Dr. T. C. Young of Glendale, a leading surgeon and one of the foremost aviation experts in the State.

"Garland is president of the California Development Association; Teague is second vice-president, and Dr. Young is vice-president and chairman of the Southern California Regional Advisory Council. On the same board of directors are:

U.S.C. Legal Library Gains Many Volumes

Showing an increase of 8000 volumes for the past year, the law library of the University of Southern California now totals 26,000 volumes, according to figures released by Dean Justin Miller of the Southern California school of law. Especially marked was the increase in statutes of the forty-eight States, law reviews and journals.

Dr. Ralph Tyler Flewelling of the department of philosophy was the medium through which a gift of 474 volumes was bestowed by the widow of Judge A. L. Flewelling of Long Beach.

A gift of 637 volumes was made by J. W. Charleville, City Manager of Glendale. Frank Lehan, attorney and alumnus of the school of law, was the donor of 182 volumes. Judge Shenk of the California Supreme Court also has arranged to give copies of briefs and transcripts of appeals and all appealed cases in the Appellate court to the library.

Liquor Charge Holds Fighter

Herman Auerbach, prize fighter, was held by Municipal Judge Bullard yesterday under $1000 bail to await jury trial on charges of sale and possession of liquor. He was arrested Tuesday night by Police Officers McCarthy and Bergman at 1447 Crown Hill avenue.

Deputy City Prosecutor Higgins charges that Auerbach, who gave his address as 412 South Lucas street, sold for $2 a pint of liquor to officers who drove up to the Crown Hill address in a taxicab. Auerbach pleaded not guilty to two counts of Wright Act violation and requested a jury trial, which was set by Judge Ballard for February 1, next.

DON MARQUIS GAINS AFTER HEART ATTACK

Don Marquis, humorist, playwright and columnist, who has been critically ill, was reported yesterday as slightly improved. The announcement was given out at his apartment, 1759 Orchid street, Hollywood where he is recuperating. Mr. Marquis suffered an acute heart attack last Friday, following a prolonged illness with influenza.

WELL WISHERS REMEMBERED

Twenty-four witnesses yesterday identified Elvin B. Grainger, 20 years of age, and Glenn Abbott, 21, as the bandits who robbed them around the 1st inst. and wished them "Happy New Year" before driving away. The victims, most of whom were film extras and their escorts, were called to the stand by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Holland in Municipal Judge Gibbs's court, where the suspects had their preliminary hearing on robbery charges.

Virtually all of the victims were "petting parties" in parked automobiles on dark streets, they admitted. In most cases the bandits obtained only a few dollars for their trouble, it developed.

The youths were captured by Detective Lieutenants Rice and Robertson when they turned into a blind street in Hollywood at 3 o'clock New Year's morning while fleeing from the detectives. They were ordered held for trial by Superior Court on twenty counts of robbery, conviction on all of which, Holland pointed out, will mean life terms for each. Judge Gibbs fixed bail at $20,000 each, in default of which the pair were remanded to jail.

STAGE CAST SUPPORTING DIX

Allan Dwan Signing With Fox to Direct Sea Picture; Harry Gribbon Acts in Series for Mack Sennett; Fritzi Ridgeway to Play Lead at Egan

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Back in New York Richard Dix is fraternizing once more with his confreres of the stage, from which department of dramatic art, you remember, the present Lasky star graduated into pictures.

An impressive cast, gleaned entirely from current or recent New York spoken pieces, will support Dix in his first all-talking Paramount picture, "Nothing But the Truth," according to Jesse L. Lasky, who has just returned to Hollywood from New York.

Elvia Enders, who plays the role of the "good" girl in the current comedy success, "The Little Accident," has the prize role opposite Dix. It is said that Miss Enders is sure to establish herself favorably with the picture fans, once they have seen her.

Burton Churchill, who was seen at the Hollywood Playhouse last season in his original role of the deacon in "Alias the Deacon," and Edna May Oliver, the crochety wife in "Show Boat," make a fine pair for the elderly roles. Ned A. Sparks has just gone east to take the same part he created in the original stage version of "Nothing But the Truth."

Louis John Bartels, the original actor in the title role of "The Show-Off," who has lately played in "The Canary Murder Case," made by Paramount, is another important member of the cast, while others are Helen Kane, who can sing a song like nobody else on Broadway and who is a hit in Hammerstein's 'Good Boy;' Wynne Gibson from "Jarnegan," and Nancy Ryan of "The High Road."

"I feel certain," declared Mr. Lasky, "that all these players we have chosen are destined to be further heard of in talking pictures, as we spent many weeks in picking our cast."

Rehearsals of the production have been under way at Long Island for more than a week, with William Collier, Sr., the original star of "Nothing But the Truth," in charge of dialogue and assisting Director Victor Schertzinger.

Dix himself is remembered as a matinee idol of the Morosco stock company, after which he achieved a New York career with Walker Whiteside in "Little Brother to the Rich."

Allan Dwan Signs With Fox

Having finished work over at the United Artists studio, Allan Dwan is to have no time for any idling, after all.

Allan Dwan

The director has been signed by Fox to film a sea story. This will not be a talker, however. The name of the story is not revealed, nor is the cast yet selected.

Dwan has to his credit some of the most successful pictures which have ever been made, but he doesn't care about talking pictures, and refuses to make any. He thinks, he says, that pictures should be seen and not heard.

Harry Gribbon With Sennett

We visited the Mack Sennett studios yesterday and found Harry Gribbon hard at work under the direction of Sennett himself in a new sound comedy. Gribbon is to appear in a series of these talking films.

HARRY GRIBBON

We also got a peep at him as star in the first of the series, not yet released, called "The Bride's Relations," and it is safe to say that Gribbon is going to be one of the outstanding comedians of the talking pictures, registering with every gesture, every bit of mugging, and every line. As will be remembered, Gribbon was formerly a star in musical comedy.

By the way, Sennett is returning to his old form in this comedy; and the addition of thrills and dialogue is going to place this canny producer back on the throne as king of comedies, or I miss my guess.

Duncan Sisters Returning

You may as well look out for some lively doings now.

Those peppy youngsters, the Duncan Sisters, Vivian and Rosetta, are coming home from abroad. The sisters are to appear on the Ziegfeld Roof in New York when they return.

It is understood, however, that they won't tarry long in the East, but will return to Hollywood to enter talking pictures, in which they should shine most brightly. It is said that two of the bigger companies are dickering for their services.

Fritzi Ridgeway on Stage

Fritzi Ridgeway gets no chance, these days, to stop talking. I mean professionally. Having just completed a role in Reginald Denny's audible Universal picture, Miss Ridgeway has just signed for a stage play.

FRITZI RIDGEWAY

She is to have the star role in E. Magnus Ingleton's new play, to be produced within the next fortnight at the Egan, and called "The Bad Woman."

Philip Morris, remembered in "Sunup," with Lucille La Verne, will play the male lead, and Greta Gransted will be the ingenue.

Lupino Lane in Talker

Lupino Lane is doing a lot of talking these days, too, especially for a comedian who is supposed to depend on his pantomime for effects. He is not only appearing in his Hollywood Music Box Revue, but is also making a talking picture for Educational.

BETTY BOYD

The comedian has no less than three beautiful leading ladies. These include Violet Blythe, Betty Boyd and Maxine Jennings. Lane discovered Miss Jennings in his Music Box chorus. Wallace Lupino, George Burton and William Lewis are others in the cast.

De Mille Features Child Actor

An outstanding performance in Cecil B. De Mille's "The King of Kings" has brought a new reward to little Muriel McCormac in the shape of a fine part in "Dynamite," which De Mille is now making for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. She is remembered as the little blind girl whose sight is restored in "The King of Kings."

"Dynamite" was written by Jeanie Macpherson, and the four principals are Charles Bickford, Kay Johnson, Conrad Nagel and Carol Lombard.

Reginald Denny's Story

His next story is set at last. The comedian will appear in a picture called "Companionate Troubles," to be directed by William Craft, who formerly directed Glenn Tryon.

So far no cast has been chosen, and Denny will have a week or two in which to refurnish his mountain cabin, situated in the San Bernardino Mountains, and to go sleighing up there in the snow with his bride.

Montagu Love With Goldwyn

In case you have been missing the villaining of Montagu Love, and are honing and hankering to see some of it, you will be accommodated in "Bulldog Drummond," as Love has been signed as the menace to Ronald Colman and the remainder of the company in the Samuel Goldwyn picture.

EDUCATOR TO BE SPEAKER

Dr. Frederic P. Woellner, professor of education at University of California at Los Angeles, will be the chief speaker this evening at the fourth meeting of the institute of management of Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation. His subject will be "How Did I Get This Way?" Several hundred utility men from all parts of the company's system will be present in the company auditorium. "Competition" will be discussed by Frank Weiss, manager of new business for the utility. Several reels of educational motion pictures will be shown also. W. R. Shettel, constructing engineer, is to preside.

ISLAND LEASE REFERRED

Request of the city Department of Water and Power for a thirty-year lease of land on Smith Island, between Harbor Boulevard and Regan street, for a substation and warehouse, was referred to the general manager by the Harbor Board yesterday for recommendation.

Through the California Development Association agriculture and business are brought into intimate contact in working for the solution of California's farm production, marketing and labor problems.

PAIR QUARREL ACROSS PACIFIC

Wife Sends Answer in Divorce Action From Manchuria, Denying War Veteran's Charges of Cruelty, but Her Letter Lacks Accompanying Filing Fee

An answer to a petition of divorce filed here arrived in the mail yesterday in the office of County Clerk Lampton, coming all the way from Harbin in Manchuria.

The answer is made by Mrs. Marie J. Bogomoletz in the action filed recently by Nicholas T. Bogomoletz, a veteran of two foreign wars who asserts that his wife is unreasonably jealous and indulges in hysterical spells caused by anger.

According to the complaint of the husband, he married Mrs. Bogomoletz in Warsaw, Poland, on September 2, 1898, and separated on August 23, 1920. The husband asserts that because of his wife nagging him they separated for several months in 1904 and in 1905. Mrs. Bogomoletz, however, in her answer, asserts that the reason of their separation was because her husband enlisted in the army fighting in Manchuria during the Russo-Japanese war.

Bogomoletz states that he was at the front with the Russian army during the World War from 1914 to 1917, and that after he returned from the war his wife resuming her nagging and arguing with him.

The husband further asserts that he has received letters from his wife in which she threatened to have him prosecuted on charges of bigamy, but there are no grounds for such charges.

Mrs. Bogomoletz denies the assertions of cruelty. She also avers there is an adopted child and that she is unable properly to care for it.

The wife's answer was not accompanied by any filing fee and will be held until a letter can be written notifying her of this fact.

GRIFFITH'S VENTURE IN SOUND DUE

"Lady of the Pavements" Will be Next Feature at United Artists

What Griffith was to the silent drama, he will be tenfold to the talkies, according to the management of the United Artists' Theater, where "Lady of the Pavements" will have its prerelease showing. "Lady of the Pavements" is not only D. W. Griffith's first work in the mechanical-sound medium, it also marks the introduction in audible films of Lupe Velez.

In the title part of this film, Lupe sings, and is heard in several fiery spoken passages. William Boyd has a romantic role as military attache to the German Embassy in Paris during Napoleon III's reign. Jetta Goudal appears as the lady of the demimonde who, spited in love, swears to be revenged upon Boyd. She employes Lupe, as a girl of the streets of Montmartre, to make him fall in love with her. The happenings then are woven into the drama for which Griffith is noteworthy.

Costumes of the period were lavish, and are brought to the screen against the background of the last century's French court. George Fawcett, Capt. Albert Conti, Franklin Pangborn and Henry Armetta have outstanding roles.

A complete score has been provided by Dr. Hugo Riesenfeld, with many Spanish and French folk songs woven into it. The story was adapted from the tale, "La Paiva" by Karl Volmoeller, author of "The Miracle."

Hattons' Farce Basis for Film

The picture in which she will appear is "Synthetic Sin," a farce-comedy adapted from Frederick and Fanny Hatton's stage play of the same name.

"Oh, Teacher," a Publix presentation, will head the stage entertainment with Ray (Rubberlegs) Bolger featured. Henry Busse will enter his farewell week as master of ceremonies and musical director. Eddie Magill will again be heard singing.

"Prep and Pep" Cast Appears

Personal appearance of the entire cast of "Prep and Pep" will feature final showings of the youth-romance at the Boulevard Theater tonight. Nancy Drexel, David Rollins, John Darrow, E. H. Calvert and Frank Albertson will appear in person, it is announced.

Another special attraction will be staged by Art Hadley, cartoonist, who is featured in Lynn Cowan's Boulevard revue this week. Hadley will be in the lobby of the theater between acts to draw sketches and autograph them for patrons.

Tonight is Culver night, and alumni of Culver Military Institute, where the campus-romance was filmed, plan to be present.

"White Shawdows in the South Seas," with Monte Blue and Raquel Torres, opens tomorrow for a week's engagement. The colorful romance is presented with sound effects and synchronized score.

Extension of Run Refused

"Her Cardboard Lover," Parisian love farce, starring Edward Everett Horton at the Vine-street Theater, will positively close the 19th inst. It was announced that it would not be practicable to extend the play in response to public demand for two reasons: One, because "The Swan," Ferenc Molnar's comedy, opens Sunday, and the other because the entire effects of "Her Cardboard Lover" have been sold to O. D. Woodward, who will produce the comedy in San Francisco. The sets, furniture, clothing and props will be loaded on the train immediately after the final performance Saturday night.

Rangers Visit Arizona Talkie

Tonight and tomorrow night have been set aside by the Criterion Theater as an occasion for two more special ceremonies, briefly Arizona night, and not so briefly, Old Indian Fighters' and Former Members of Arizona Rangers' Night. The current film opus is "In Old Arizona," soon entering its fifth week's showing.

Arizona Night will be attended by groups of prominent former residents of Arizona. A novel feature of this performance is to be the placing of large registration book in the lobby.

At tomorrow night's performance, many of the old Indian fighters, as well as the Arizona Rangers will be the honored guests.

Voice Winners Heard in News

As a special attraction this week Radio-Keith-Orpheum is presenting via RCA Photophone vocal renditions of the winners of the National Broadcasting Company's radio championship contest. The offering was filmed by Pathe News.

Harry Carroll's Revue, the Donovan girls, Vera Marsh, William Demarest, Estelle Collette, the California Collegians and others comprise the current stage show, with "Marked Money," featuring Junior Coghlan, George Duryea, Virginia Bradford and Tom Kennedy, the screen feature.

Hillstreet Books Filmized Play

Carol Lombard
Will be seen on the next bill at the vaudeville house in Pathe's production of "Ned McCobb's Daughter." Irene Rich essays the title role in this adaptation of the Sidney Howard stage piece.

Mart Provides Entertaining Short Plays

A series of five one-act plays—this is the interesting fare now being served as the ninth production of that rapidly growing little theater, the Theater Mart.

Presented in the organization's attractive forum in the Hollywood Hills, the plays were among the most interesting yet created by the group. A decided and refreshing note of originality was sounded in each individual presentation and characterization, and the entertainment of the evening was marred only by the lengthy waits between plays.

"The Godsend," by Eleanor Lawson, resident manager of the organization, was the first to be offered on the program. This will be remembered by many for its presentation at the Belasco in a program of one-act plays this summer, at which time it scored a hit equal to the one accorded it last evening.

The cast of the playlet at last night's presentation, included Sarah Padden, late of the Egan production, "Window Panes;" Corinne Ross, Ione Cowan and Barton Lea. Individual performances were excellent in every case.

"A Pair of Jacks," by Arthur Clayton, was second on the bill. This little farce comedy kept the audience in constant mirth. Arthur Clayton, the author, appeared in a prominent role with Marjorie Hollis completing the cast.

Alice Pike Barney, general director of the Theater Mart, offered her drama, "The Woman Plays," as the next sketch. This drama was among the most unusual of the five, dealing with a problem which always evokes shadows of the supernatural: hypnotism.

Marjorie Hollis, Peter C. Richmond and Arthur Hurni appeared to excellent advantage in the cast.

"Com' in Th'oo," by Margaret Wright, and "Dinner for Two," by Lockhart North, were the two other productions.

Margaret Wright injected a hint of the supernatural into her "Com' in Th'oo," which dealt with the suggestion of selling religion on a showmanship basis.

The plot was well and interestingly worked out, although the general trend of the drama leaned toward the morbid. Marcella Arthur was outstanding in her role, while others in the cast responsible for excellent performances included Howard Lorens, Carol Warren, John Manning, E. G. Hicks and Lloyd Taylor.

"Dinner for Two" proved a decided favorite and featured Frank Dunn, Marjorie Meadows and Sammy Blum.

Eleanor Lawson, Arthur Clayton, Alice Pike Barney, Hugh Kidder and Phillip Hubbard were responsible for the directing of the various offerings.

Ruth St. Denis Gives Program

Ruth St. Denis will offer a program at the Figueroa Playhouse the 20th inst., under the auspices of the Los Angeles Repertory Theater.

The six new numbers on the program include "Figure from a Greek Bas Relief," "Javanese Court Dance," a Rubenstein, "Concert Waltz," arranged by Ann Thompson McDowell, who will also accompany Miss St. Denis; "Madrassi Nautch," and "Bakawali."

As a novelty attraction in the program, Samuel Pedrazza, Mexican lyric tenor, who will be accompanied by Gilbert Isais, will give a group of Spanish and Mexican songs.

The Los Angeles Repertory Theater Concert Trio headed by Misha Gegna will give selections between numbers.

SANTA MONICANS AT PLAY

Interest is being displayed in Santa Monica night at the Hollywood Music Box Theater, where citizens from the ocean city will witness Lupino Lane's revue on Friday. Among the prominent officials who will attend the performance will be Mayor Herman Michel, Chief of Police Clarence Webb and Fire Chief Mohr.

First National Talkie Closing at Early Date

Only a little more than a week remains of the run of First National's talking comedy drama, "The Barker," which has been playing at the Carthay Circle Theater for more than seven weeks.

This colorful romance of carnival life and its people is mentioned as the most human, the most humorous and most highly dramatic story of its kind ever produced. Milton Sills has the role of the hard-boiled, synical carnival side show spieler and for the first time his host of admirers have a chance to not only see him but hear him as well. This is also true of all of the other leading characters, including Betty Compson Dorothy Mackaill, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., George Cooper, Sylvia Ashton and S. S. Simon.

Corinne Griffith's film, "The Divine Lady," Frank Lloyd, director, will have its world premiere at the Carthay Circle following the close of "The Barker" engagement. More than 15,000 people reportedly appear in its spectacular scenes. Besides Miss Griffith the cast includes Victor Varconi, H. B. Warner, Ian Keith and Marie Dressler.

Choir Will be Heard Tonight

Much interest is being shown in the program to be given this evening and tomorrow afternoon by the Philharmonic Orchestra. As soloist on this symphony pair will appear the Smallman A Capella Choir in two numbers, Bach's "Sing Ye to the Lord," without accompaniment, and the "Hallelujah," from "The Messiah," by Handel, accompanied by the full orchestra.

The choir is a product of Los Angeles. It is making a name for itself in Southern California and is attracting the attention of eastern managers.

An overture to "Oberon," by Weber, which is always popular with symphony patrons, opens the concert, and the Brahms No. 3 in F Major concludes it.

The Brahms No. 3 was played three times by the Philharmonic in the first, third and seventh seasons, but this will be the first rendition under the baton of Georg Schneevoigt.

State Arranges Trio of Events

Tomorrow starts "whoopee week" at Loew's State, with a major program including the Fox sound picture, "Let's Make Whoopee," Lina Basquette in person in her first Los Angeles stage appearance, and, as a special added feature, Mack Sennett's first 100 per cent talking comedy, "The Lion's Roar."

Conrad Nagel and June Collyer are the stars of "Let's Make Whoopee," which was originally called "Red Wine" and was retitled at the suggestion of Harold B. Franklin.

"White Shadows in the South Seas" has its last popular showings today. Ráquel Torres, feminine star of the picture, will make personal appearances at tonight's shows, it is stated.

M.-G.-M. RE-SIGNS SCHAYER

With a record of twelve adaptations and continuities during the past twelve months, Richard Schayer has just signed a new long-term contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Beginning three years ago with "Tell It to the Marines," Schayer has earned an enviable record as screen writer at M.-G.-M. In addition to his screen activities Schayer had his play, "Private Jones," produced in New York this season as "The War Song," starring George Jessel, and has contracted with Albert Lewis, the New York producer, for another play to be presented next season.

BERT LEVY LEAVES REVUE

Bert Levy completes his month's contract with Lupino Lane and leaves the Music Box Revue on Saturday to resume his vaudeville tour. Following this, upon his return to Los Angeles, Mr. Levy will make a talkie, having undergone a photographic test at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for the purpose.

"SKULL" TO STIR JADED PLAYGOERS

Mystery Thriller Follows "Take My Advice" Into President Theater

Henry Duffy has decided to offer President audiences the mystery thriller, "The Skull." It will follow the comedy, "Take My Advice," on the 27th inst. "The Skull" is called the mystery successor to "The Wooden Kimono." It ran last summer at the Forrest Theater in New York. Bernard J. McOwen, Broadway actor and one of the authors of the play, is being brought from the East to play his role of Prof. Vorheese.

"The Skull" is the story of the weird events that take place in a deserted church used as a rendezvous by notorious criminals. The excitement starts when several persons, each unknown to the others, come to the church to trap the criminal and find themselves trapped instead. The Henry Duffy Players hold the Pacific Coast rights to the thriller and this will be its first production outside of New York.

Edwin H. Curtis, director, has completed the cast for "The Skull" and rehearsals are now in progress.

Director Makes Drama of Study

Although "Submarine," Frank Capra's directorial effort now at Pantages Theater for the third week of its interrupted run, is entirely a dramatic study of the emotions of men doomed to die in a sunken submarine Sapra started out in pictures as a provider of laugh material. Far different from the tense moments of "Submarine" was the first story sold to Mack Sennett for a two-reel pie throwing comedy.

Capra's rise has been rapid since that episode occurred five years ago. He directed several short comedies, then handled Harry Langdon in his first features, and graduated to dramatic pictures. "Submarine," featuring Jack Holt, Dorothy Revier, and Ralph Graves has been lauded by naval officers wherever it has played.

Chevalier Will be Guest Star

Announcement has just been made that Maurice Chevalier, foremost Parisian stage and screen star, has consented to appear as a guest artist in the brilliant program of all-star entertainment planned for the first annual Actors' Equity Ball to be staged on the Pacific Coast, scheduled for the night of the 31st inst., at the Biltmore Hotel.

Another addition to the stellar aggregation to take part in the cabaret program just announced is Julian Eltinge, female impersonator. The program is by no means complete, according to Margaret Smith of New York City, who is director general of the affair.

Operetta Gives San Diego Thrill

Known as one of the most blase of cities west of Chicago, San Diego is reported to be clamoring for seats to see Lillian Albertson's operetta, "The Desert Song," which returns to Los Angeles at the Mayan Sunday evening for an engagement of two weeks.

"The Desert Song" this week is playing at the Spreckels in San Diego, and is hailed, says the local management, as the most successful attraction ever presented in the southern city.

SCRIPT HAS NO SUCH WORD AS "CURTAIN"

"The Trial of Mary Dugan," Bayard Veiller's court trial play, which has achieved fame in New York, London, Paris and Berlin, is now in its return engagement at the Mason Theater.

One of the novel features of this play is the fact that the curtain is never raised or lowered except at the close of the performance, and then for curtain calls only.

The story deals with a beautiful "Follies" girl accused of the murder of a man high in financial circles, who has been supporting her. The girl's brother, a young lawyer, defends his sister and succeeds in unveiling the actual slayer.

The entire action takes place within the courtroom of Branch No. 31 of the Supreme Court of New York. This one scene is used throughout the entire session.

RUGGLES'S TWO BIG ONES

ORANGE GROWERS SEE REVUE

One hundred and fifty orange growers from the Riverside orange section attended Warner Brothers' Theater in a body last night to see Larry Ceballos's stage revue, which duplicates an orange grove even to the perfume of the blossoms. The grove owners were the guests of a national distributor of oranges.

UTAH TRIO WAIT FEDERAL ACTION

Also Held in Investigation of Girl's Murder

Suspects Declared to Have Told of Trip Here

While waiting further advices from Sheriff Patton of Salt Lake City concerning the activities of two men and two girls held here in connection with the investigation into the murder in Salt Lake City of June Nelson, 15-year-old schoolgirl, action was started yesterday by police and Federal authorities to prosecute the men and one of the girls on Mann Act charges.

LEO B HELLING

The suspects are Leo B. Helling, 32 years of age; his brother, William, 17; Mrs. Gloria Corwell, alias King, 20, and Miss Cleo Schumway, 17. Federal warrants, charging the Helling brothers and Mrs. Corwell with conspiracy to violate the Mann Act were obtained by Detective Lieutenants Alsup and Woolman. Helling and his brother, according to the detectives, admitted the charge that they transported the two girls by auto from Salt Lake City.

WILLIAM HELLING

The quartet were taken into custody here a week ago following complaints from residents that they were engaging in a wild party at 127 North Edgeware Road. Detective Lieutenants Alsup and Woolman investigated and reported finding the Helling brothers quarreling with Miss Schumway, who asked for police assistance. All were arrested.

GLORIA CORWELL

When questioned they admitted having been in Salt Lake City December 31, last, the day on which the Nelson girl was attacked, murdered and her body thrown into a drainage ditch.

Sheriff Patton was notified of the statements and requested that the quartet be questioned further. Yesterday, according to the detectives, the Helling brothers admitted that on the day of the murder they picked up a girl of about 15 years of age at a party. They said they left her, after she had become sick, in a house at the northeast corner of the intersection of the Union Pacific and Denver and Rio Grande Railway tracks. They then purchased a small automobile and traveled overland here with Mrs. Corwell and Miss Schumway, they declared, according to the detectives.

Contest Filed on Decker Will

A petition was filed in the Probate Court here yesterday contesting the will of the late Mrs. Ida W. Decker, who died November 15, last, leaving an estate valued at $17,000.

BALDWIN'S ACTIONS IRK HIS MOTHER

Heiress Wonders if He Has Gone East in Trail of Suzanne Lenglen

Where is Baldwin M. Baldwin, scion of the house of "Lucky" Baldwin, his mother, Mrs. Anita Baldwin, heiress to the Baldwin millions, would like to know most of all, it was learned yesterday from representatives of the family. Is he en route to New York to sail back to France with Suzanne Lenglen, French tennis star, or is he hiding out from his mother to wait until matters settle a bit, are other questions his anxious mother would like to have answered.

Mlle. Lenglen is en route east, it was reported yesterday, to sail for France through arrangements said to have been made for her by Charles E. Tilbury, manager of the Biltmore travel bureau. She will arrive in New York early next week for passage home to Paris, possibly February 2, on the Ile de France.

Young Baldwin left his mother's house the 10th inst., when Suzanne, in the language of an attache of the Baldwin menage, "up and suddenly left" the home for a downtown hotel. A few days later both disappeared from their quarters, she from the hotel and he from his club. The mother collapsed.

Mrs. Baldwin, it was learned, is exceedingly desirous that her son remain with her, but has made no bones of expressing fear that he has gone back to France with the tennis star, whose manager he was.

AD BALLOON ORDINANCE DEALT BLOW

Council Orders Redraft of Measure Cutting Out Proposed Prohibition

The City Council definitely indicated yesterday that it is opposed to the proposal of Councilman Alber to prohibit the flying of advertising balloons over the city when it voted, 9 to 5, to refer the proposed prohibitory ordinance back to the Finance Committee for redrafting as a regulatory ordinance.

Councilman Alber made a strong plea for the prohibition of the advertising balloons on the double ground that they constitute a menace to aviation and are an unsightly blemish on the city's skyline.

Councilman Webster and others who spoke against the proposed ordinance asserted that its main objective, that of assuring the safety of aerial navigation, could be accomplished by regulating the height at which the advertising balloons may be flown. He added that any of the objects claimed for it could also be fully covered by regulatory measures.

President Bonelli then suggested the ordinance be referred back to the Finance Committee for the elimination of the prohibitory provision and the inclusion of regulatory provisions.

Veteran Will Address Legion

Here under the auspices of the Disabled American Veterans of Base Hospital No. 69, Tucson, Ariz., Roy H. Leonard, Canadian World War veteran, this evening at 8 o'clock will address members of Post No. 8 of the American Legion at the organization's headquarters. Leonard was wounded and gassed while serving with the Forty-second Battery, Third Division of the Canadian army.

He is scheduled to address the American Legion weekly luncheon next Tuesday noon at the Broadway Department Store, students of the Urban Military Academy in the afternoon and later in the week students of Los Angeles High School and Long Beach High School. He has appeared before assemblies at the Hollywood High School and the Harvard Military Academy.

Two Near Death After Crashes

Two victims of yesterday's motor traffic accidents were reported dying in Georgia-street Receiving Hospital late last night. Mrs. Linda Cole, 32 years of age of 1519 Ingraham street, was struck while standing in a safety zone at Broadway and Forty-seventy street. The driver was arrested after a chase, and charged with driving while intoxicated and with failing to stop to give aid. He gave his name as Charles Walker of 1481 East Wilson street.

Fortoso Bujanka, 10, of 701 Concord street, also is reported in a dying condition. The child was struck at Whittier Boulevard and Lorena street by a car driven by Edward Aigner of 3426 Eagle street.

New Air Field at Border Open

Western Air Express has selected a new landing field which is only five minutes by auto from Tia Juana, and it will be put into use for the first time this coming week-end, it was announced yesterday. Trimotored Fokker planes leave Vail Field at 12:30 p.m., Saturdays and Sundays, arriving in Mexico in one hour and forty-five minutes. Company limousines take passengers from downtown Los Angeles to Vail Field and also into Tia Juana.

The Dutch East Indies will be the subject of study at the regular travel dinner of Pan-Pacific Association for Mutual Welfare, to be held next Monday at 6 p.m., in the Windsor Tea Rooms. Baron Thoe Schwartzenberg will deliver an illustrated lecture on Java. Music by Carlo Sessia, accordion-pianist, is to follow.

PERILS LISTED IN SKYSCRAPER

City Planner Out Against Raising of Limit

Downtown Property Held Sound Investment

Business Men Told Menace New York Now Faces

Downtown business property in Los Angeles offers today the soundest basis of investment found in any large city in this country, according to Charles H. Cheney, city planner. This was the view expressed at the annual dinner of the Downtown Business Men's Association given at the Biltmore, at which the menace of the skyscraper was discussed.

"The skyscraper does not pay a good net average business return over an average period of ten years," the speaker said, "and any increase of the present twelve-story height-limit menaces all existing investments in downtown business properties, increases the uncertainties of the future and destroys the standards of property values.

"WOULD BE UNFAIR"

"Hundreds of millions of dollars of height-limit buildings recently have been built in Los Angeles. It would be an unfair and an unsound public policy to depreciate them by allowing others to go higher."

Despite the number of excessively high buildings put up in New York since the war, the average there is still under five stories, as is the average in Los Angeles. The most economical height of buildings probably is four stories, Mr. Cheney believes.

"New York can be of service to the remainder of the United States. We can show you how not to do it, because we have done it wrong already," the speaker quoted Maj. Henry Curran, counsel of the New York City Club, as saying at a meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce at Washington.

SOUNDS WARNING

A note of warning was struck by the speaker against the argument that buildings should be allowed to go higher if their volume did not exceed what is now possible under the twelve-story limit. "Theoretically this sounds possible," the speaker conceded, "but practically the result has been in New York, Chicago and other cities, that as soon as the lid was lifted the speculators forced the volume up too and left all the previous investors under the old height-limit to hold the sack. The skyscraper already has become a plague that may well range alongside our ancient city scourges of cholera, yellow fever, tuberculosis and the slums," Mr. Cheney said in conclusion.

Montana and Utah Tourists Due Next Week

Arrangements have been completed for the entertainment of 1300 tourists from Montana and Idaho who will arrive in Los Angeles next Monday on five Union Pacific midwinter excursion trains, according to Fay Smalley, assistant manager of the Alexandria.

Headquarters and a registration desk for the visitors will be established in the hotel, delegations of former residents of the two States will meet the trains both here and in Riverside and an entertainment program has been arranged, Smalley said.

Under the direction of Mrs. E. B. Weirick and Mrs. Ilene D. Semper of the Montanans' Society of Southern California, a reception will be held in the Alexandria for the visitors on the evening of their arrival.

The majority of the large party will remain in Los Angeles until April 1, next, according to Smalley. Many sheep raisers among the visitors will spend a week here and then attend the National Wool Growers' convention in Phoenix, Ariz., the 29th to 31st inst., but will return here before going to their homes.

Soldiers' Home Gets Ready for Barracks Work

Provision for the construction of three concrete barracks with mess hall and kitchen for the Pacific Branch of the National Soldiers' Home is contained in the urgent deficiency bill which was passed by the House of Representatives on the 7th inst. The bill probably will pass the Senate in its present form and construction of the barracks will begin as soon as the money becomes available, it was announced at the Soldiers' Home yesterday.

It also was announced that architects who desire to submit ideas and rough sketches as designs for the barracks should get them in shape for presentation to Gen. George H. Wood, president of the board of managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, who will arrive here on the 28th inst. Appointments may be made through the governor of the Pacific branch by telephone.

Smith, treasurer; J. B. Arthur and J. T. Armitage. The directorate was completed with E. R. Werdin, Frank Shallue and Martin Madsen. M. P. Heaney was retained as secretary and manager.

Inlay Table Has 5400 Pieces of Wood

G. E. Faucher and His Handiwork

Teaching Bible classes is bound to have its slack moments, and George E. Faucher of 1242 Bellevue avenue believes in improving each shining hour, so for the past few months at odd intervals he has devoted himself to making a table of inlay work and now is exhibiting the finished product with justifiable pride.

The table contains 5400 pieces of wood, among which there are twelve different kinds, to give a variation in color effect without the use of stains and paints. Among the woods are Texas cedar, Philippine mahogany, Philippine ebony, Arkansas poplar, Michigan bass, New York cherry, Georgia curly pine, black walnut, California redwood and several other varieties, all in their natural color and highly polished.

The style of the table is patterned after the Louis XV period. It is forty-four inches long and twenty-eight inches wide. Although Mr. Faucher has no idea of the actual number of hours spent at the painstaking and tedious task, he says the time would amount to several months of steady work.

YOUNG MEN SHOULD GO TO RANCHES

Sacramento Banker Says State Offers Greatest Chances in History

Farming in California offers the best opportunity in the world for young men to make money and become successful, according to Alden Anderson, president of the Capitol Bank of Sacramento, member of the Board of Regents of the University of California, former Lieutenant-Governor and member of the executive committee of the Associated Oil Company. He is guest for a few days at the Biltmore while in Southern California on a pleasure visit.

"If a young man has integrity and ability it takes less capital than ever before in the history of the State to start farming," Anderson said. "The banks are anxious to find young men of the proper type to whom they can extend credit on agricultural projects. Land is cheap and produce is high. Prices of both land and farm products are going higher within a few years and there will be a substantial back-to-the-farm movement as soon as the public regains its confidence in the ability of the farmer to make money. Those who start now will be very successful if they know the business."

The visiting banker comes to Los Angeles regularly on pleasure trips just because he likes to watch the city grow, he saws. His interest in local development dates back to the days when he worked here as a young man just starting his business career, he explains.

Brazil to Turn Citrus Grower

Brazil is going to take lessons in prosperity from Southern California and enter the orange industry on a larger scale, according to Jose Rodriguez Bueno of Sao Paulo, who is a guest at the Biltmore.

Bueno is here to make a survey of the citrus industry for the Brazilian government and a comprehensive plan for the planting of thousands of acres in Brazil to oranges and other fruits will be based on the data he collects, he said.

Bueno will be in Southern California for several weeks, and will visit the orange-growing centers to study all phases of the industry. He expressed himself as proud that the first orange trees planted in California came from Brazil.

Bank of Italy Resources

WITH A GAIN in resources amounting to more than 82 millions of dollars, the Bank of Italy is now nearly a billion dollar institution.

This growth has not been due to any mergers or affiliations with banks outside of California. The Bank of Italy is strictly a California institution and the increase it has enjoyed is substantial evidence of the progress and prosperity of the "Golden Empire of the West."

The growth of the Bank of Italy during the past year has been the greatest in its history. Nineteen twenty-eight marks an outstanding milestone in this institution's development. It was a year of great achievement in all departments.

The directors and officers of the Bank of Italy are deeply grateful for the privilege of serving over 1,456,000 depositors—and they are especially thankful for the faith in the institution that underlies this generous statewide patronage.

It is this faith and confidence that inspires the entire personnel of the institution to strive for greater things—to render an even better service—to give a larger measure of satisfaction in connection with every transaction.

In this announcement, particular emphasis is placed on the wide distribution and diversification of the Bank of Italy's vast resources.

In the financial world, diversification of assets—that is, a wide variety of securities, loans and investments, is considered the safest plan for an individual or a bank.

The Bank of Italy's resources are distributed all over California from the Oregon line to the Mexican border. They are backed by the state's basic industries and assets—including agriculture, horticulture, dairying, stock-raising, manufacturing, farms, homes, stores, office buildings, selected bonds, etc., etc.

Your commercial or savings account placed with this institution is helping to create prosperity and opportunity for everyone throughout the entire state of California.

Sedans for Sale —40-D

THANKS A HEAP!
Last week I called for help. The response was marvelous. And say, what splendid used car bargains I gave to those forty lucky people.

Now, friends, just to show you our hearts are in the right place, I have arranged with the big boss to give you 35 real fine used cars at rock bottom prices.

You'll have to see these cars to appreciate their unusual value, and don't forget, I invite you to see me personally if every condition is not exactly what you expected to find.

THE COAL INDUSTRY

The coal industry has [illegible] a new line of march [illegible] prosperity. For the last [illegible] years the industry has [illegible] traveling in a circle, [illegible] cloud of dust now and then [illegible] actually getting nowhere. [illegible] who have recently looked at [illegible] the circle and have [illegible] ward in a straight line [illegible] all reached their objective [illegible] most of them have [illegible] going easier and the [illegible] prospects ahead seem bright.

In 1927 most of the [illegible] mately 500,000,000 tons of [illegible] produced came from about [illegible] mines, in spite of the fact [illegible] the industry boasts of [illegible] 7000 operating mines. Of [illegible] 1600 mines it is [illegible] at least 200 are [illegible] to some extent with [illegible] loading. It is true that [illegible] not a large proportion of [illegible] and it is a still smaller [illegible] 7000, but the [illegible] which these figures show [illegible] that 6800 mines are [illegible] anized, but that 200 mines [illegible]

There are now [illegible] districts where the [illegible] mechanized loading is [illegible] felt, and many coal [illegible] now realize that the time is [illegible] approaching when [illegible] loading will produce [illegible] proportion of all coal [illegible] hand loading will not [illegible] compete or exist except [illegible] favored mines or [illegible]

Everywhere in the [illegible] one hears the marching [illegible] of mechanical production [illegible] solidation of mines [illegible] tration of production [illegible] mechanization. It is [illegible] stay. Only through [illegible] can large production [illegible] Companies that formerly [illegible] ployed many [illegible] found that through [illegible] mechanical production [illegible] able to consolidate [illegible] ducing their executive [illegible] and increasing their [illegible] What they have done [illegible] ecutive field will [illegible] carried on down [illegible] growth of mechanization [illegible] steady.
